FACTORY OWNERS NOT HARMONIOUS ON RECIPROCITY

A Strong Element in the National Convention at Washington, D. C., Which Opposes the Idea in Any Form.

TARIFF SHOULD NOT BE TOUCHED

Delegates Who Fear That Their Own Business Interests Might Be Hurt, Object Clamorously to Every Proposition.

THE CHAIRMAN PLEADS IN VAIN FOR HARMONY

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—Lack of harmony as to reciprocity schemes and agreement that there should be no revision of the tariff were the distinguishing features of the day's session of the manufacturers' reciprocity convention held in this city today. The gathering is an adjourned meeting of the recent annual session of the Manufacturers' National association. The subject of reciprocity received so much attention at the annual convention that it was decided to hold a special meeting. Washington being selected as the place in the hope that the information developed during the proceedings would be of service in shaping congressional action.

THEODORE C. SEARCH,
Chairman of the National Reciprocity Convention.

There was no opposition to the selection of Theodore C. Search of Philadelphia as permanent chairman. Mr. Search explained briefly the purpose and object of the convention. Then the lack of harmony that prevails among the delegates became apparent.

Resolutions were freely offered and considerable confusion prevailed. Not all the delegates to the convention are in favor of reciprocity. These objectors suspect that an unfair advantage may be taken by the more pronounced reciprocity advocates and have adopted a practice of objecting indiscriminately to all resolutions.

Cried Before They Were Hurt.

In fact, they do not take the trouble to inform themselves of the contents of the resolutions. Some embarrassment that gave way to hilarity followed their objection to a small piece of paper sent to the chairman's desk by Ludwig Nessen of New York. The secretaries were given no opportunity to read it nor Mr. Nessen to explain it. Discordant shouting and tumult continued for several minutes. Mr. Nessen's physical condition proved superior; his training had been good, and after the objectors had grown tired he managed to make himself heard. When it was explained that the resolutions provided simply for a formal notice to President Roosevelt of the assembling of the convention, and a few words of greeting, order was restored and the resolution adopted without opposition.

The topic upon the program for discussion at today's session was reciprocity with South America, but the speakers did not confine themselves to the text. They discussed the tariff and branched off into extraneous matters.

It is extremely doubtful whether the convention will be able to adopt reciprocity resolutions of any importance. The stumbling block is in finding a practical solution of the problem. How can the great industrial interests seeking foreign markets be benefited collectively without sacrificing the interests of some?

Chairman's Appeal in Vain.

Chairman Search, in his address to the convention, appealed for harmony, but did not get it.

"Our aim has been to forestall tariff agitation, not to encourage it," he confessed at the outset. "It is the duty of beneficial to the country; that under the Dingley bill the balance of trade had swung around in favor of this country, this convention to harmonize, as far as possible, the widely differing opinions represented in this body and to reduce to clear and forceful expression such principles as we hold in common.

"Coffee and tea are about the only great staple articles of commerce which we do not produce, and if reciprocity be limited to the use of these two commodities as a basis for negotiations we cannot expect to make much progress. To insist upon strict adherence to such a principle in making application of reciprocity is virtually to oppose its use in any practical form. The reciprocity that we wanted today is a reciprocity that means something and promises something in the shape of tangible advantages for our commerce; not merely expressions of kind sentiment toward all the business world, but an actual giving and taking of concessions that will open wider for us the markets of the world and broaden the distribution of our products."

Attacked the Steel Combine.

George A. Loughlin of Wheeling, interested in the manufacture of steel billets, attacked the United States Steel Corporation. He said that before its organization his company had been able to buy its materials at a figure that enabled it to sell to all the markets of the world; but since the organization of the corporation trade had been seriously interfered with, and the present outlook was that his company's trade with South America would be extinguished shortly.

Charles Heber Clark of Philadelphia, made a strong plea to the convention for protection. He opposed any modification of the tariff and tariff concessions such as he believed to be in contemplation. He contended that past experience showed that reciprocity treaty is not while the balance was against us under the Wilson bill.

Frank Leake, representing the Manufacturers' club of Philadelphia, favored the creation of a department of commerce and manufactures, to avoid excessive fluctuations in business conditions brought about by ill-advised agitation.

Wanted Merchant Marine First.

George J. Seabury of New York, advocated the upbuilding of a strong merchant marine and construction of an isthmian canal as paramount in importance to reciprocity treaties. He advocated reduction in the war revenue tariff but not in the Dingley tariff. His speech, which, he said, was New York's contribution to the meeting, urged "procrastination in general commercial reciprocity."

The organization was completed by election of the following: Vice chairmen, Gen. W. F. Draper, Massachusetts; T. L. Hickman, Georgia; Charles H. Harding, Pennsylvania; James Deering, Illinois; Titus Sheard, New York City, and Robert J. Morgan, Ohio; secretaries, Edward H. Sanborn, Pennsylvania, and E. P. Wilson, Cincinnati.

The convention adopted resolutions of greeting to President Roosevelt, pledging its support and expressing its confidence in his administration.

STATIONS TO DEFEND THE ISTHMIAN CANAL

United States Will at Once Proceed to Acquire Four Within Easy Distance of Central America.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Coaling stations for the use of American men-of-war, which will defend the Nicaragua canal, will be acquired by the United States, now that the isthmian canal convention is signed. These stations will be established at Almirante bay, Chiriqui lagoon, Colombia; Gulf of Dulce, Costa Rica; Danish West Indies and Gallapagos island, off the coast of and belonging to Ecuador.

While the treaty permits the erection of fortifications by the United States, the usefulness of going to such a tremendous expense is apparent to officers of both the army and navy. Admiral Dewey says the canal can only be defended by the navy. Real Admiral Bradford, chief of the bureau of equipment, and a member of the naval war board, says emphatically the defense of the canal will be the guns of the American fleet, and in order that the fleet may operate from nearby bases, it is necessary that these should be established without delay. Rear Admiral Bradford has earnestly recommended the acquisition of territory for use as coaling stations at the points named, and the state department has been conducting, except in the case of the Danish West Indies, languid negotiations with the countries in which they lie.

ATTORNEY'S OFFER IS REFUSED.

Suggested That Counterfeiters Be Released Upon Surrender of Plates.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Former Gov. Robert E. Pattison, who had been counsel for Taylor and Bredell, the convicted counterfeiters, was on the stand today in the trial of John L. Semple for complicity in the counterfeiting conspiracy. He explained that he was joint counsel with Semple in the case. He stated that he advised Taylor and Bredell that if they were in possession of counterfeit plates they should surrender them to the government.

United States Attorney James M. Beck stated in his testimony that Pattison and Semple, as counsel for Taylor and Bredell, had come to him and said the government was mistaken in thinking it had recovered all the plates made by their clients and that there were a large number of notes in circulation undetected. Mr. Beck said it was proposed that Bredell and Taylor should be allowed to go free if they would surrender the plates and he replied that such a suggestion could not be considered for a moment.

NOTABLE UTTERANCES AT NEW YORK CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BANQUET.

IF I fall immeasurably below the standard to which he has accustomed you, the very comparisons you draw will be a tribute to his memory.—Secretary Hay's tribute to William McKinley.

The briefest expression of our rule of conduct, is perhaps, the Monroe doctrine and the Golden Rule. With this simple chart we can hardly go far wrong.—Secretary Hay on Diplomacy.

We no more covet their territory than we covet the mountains of the moon.—Secretary Hay on South American Republics.

A fair field and no favor is all we require; with less than that we can not be satisfied.—Secretary Hay.

The president to whom you have given your invaluable trust and confidence is as incapable of bullying a strong power as he is of wronging a weak one.—Secretary Hay.

Let us be diligent in our business and we shall stand—stand, you see; not crawl, nor swagger—stand as a friend and equal, asking nothing, putting up with nothing but what is right and just, among our peers in the great democracy of nations.—Secretary Hay.

One of the fundamental conditions of prosperity is work for the people, not part of the people, but all the people who want to work or must work. Gov.-Elect Cummins of Iowa.

The consumers of this country will not tolerate, as a permanent trade policy, the selling of goods abroad at a less price than they are sold at home; and if they believe that tariff duties have any influence upon the maintenance of such conditions, the man or party that stands for the perpetuation of such duties is destined for bitter disappointment.—Gov.-Elect Cummins of Iowa.

Any other policy than the Monroe doctrine would have wrecked our government and been an insurmountable barrier to our national growth, prosperity and progress.—United States Senator J. L. McLaurin.

What we need in this country today is a nonpartisan and patriotic statesmanship, more devoted to the building up of our common country than to party success.—United States Senator J. L. McLaurin.

It seems as if all prophecy pointed to America as the final battle ground between error and truth, and it may be that we are near that field of Armageddon where the brute nature of man and his immortal soul join in the great battle which the good book tells us shall precede the dawn of that era of "Peace on earth and good will toward men."—United States Senator J. L. McLaurin.

ARREST WARRANTS TO BE SENT OUT FOR AN ALLEGED BLIND POOL

Missing Operators Must Produce $2,500,000 or Face Justice If Found.

A HOST OF CREDITORS

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Unless C. E. Mackey & Co., "discretionary brokers," produce $2,500,000 which, it is alleged, credulous customers contributed in subscriptions to a speculative pool, blanket warrants will be issued for the persons known to have comprised the firm. About the darkened offices of the concern scores of farmers, merchants, physicians and clerks—the vanguard of a host of creditors—gathered today and clamored for their money. To meet them there was only a postoffice inspector.

In the character and extent of its business the Mackey concern closely resembled the Franklin syndicate and the E. S. Dean Company. Dividends were to be paid at the rate of 48 per cent on capital "invested," and when the doors were closed a scheme was on foot for incorporating the "Mackey Investment Company" on a basis that would yield subscribers 280 per cent a year.

Under the name of Clayre E. Mackey of 11 Broad street and 29 Broadway, and as C. E. Mackey & Co. of 32 Broadway, the promoters of the latest "get-rich-quick" concern operated in nearly thirty states.

Where the Bait Was Thrown Out.

The firm maintained in Jersey City a concern known as the American Advertising and Mailing Company. There the circulars, holding out the promise of fortunes to persons of small means were prepared. Every evening these circulars were carted over to New York and mailed at the general postoffice. Last Saturday the employes of the Jersey City branch were paid off and told to "keep under cover." To each of the twenty-four girls employed in the typewriting department a bonus of $100 was given. It is said, as an inducement to obey this injunction.

Not until Monday night, however, did Mackey & Co. desert their Broadway offices in this city. The last person seen about the place was the cashier, a girl of 20. E. Morris Simonds, Oliver Francis Malcombe, W. W. Charles and George Mason, who were looked upon as the officials of the company, left on Saturday.

"Clayre E. Mackey," it was said today, is in reality Oliver F. Malcombe, formerly of Chicago and well known in Pittsburgh and Washington as an operator of bucket shops.

Details of the plan of operations of Mackey & Co. show that the "discretionary pool" was of the endless chain sort. Dr. J. H. Benson of Cortland, N. Y., one of the oldest customers of the firm, said he had lost $4,000.

Another Concern On Trial.

There was a further hearing before Referee John A. Straley today in connection with the failure of Seymour, Johnson & Co., into which it is alleged went some of the money earned by the "520 per cent" Franklin syndicate, and it developed some bitterly sarcastic encounters between principals and witnesses. Robert Ammon, counsel for the Franklin syndicate, declined to answer any questions on the ground that he was under arrest for his connection with the syndicate. Alfred R. Goslin followed Ammon on the stand and said Ammon's testimony about the money he had withdrawn from Seymour, Johnson & Co. was false. Goslin then said that a number of financial transactions of the defunct firm had been dishonest, and Ammon interrupted to accuse him of "squealing."

As far as could be learned last night Mackey's alleged operations in this city under the name of Malcombe are not known, nor could the detectives recall the latter name. Several detectives said they never knew anyone by the name of Malcombe running a "bucket shop" here.

PITTSBURGH BOYS HONORED.

Elected to Memberships in Yale Junior Fraternities.

INSURGENTS WANT COCHRAN FOR GOVERNOR

Former Executive Hastings Booming Lycoming Senator.

HE MAY NOT RECEIVE GUFFEY'S SUPPORT

A Plan to Secure the Democratic Nomination May Be Unsuccessful.

THERE ARE OTHERS WHO ARE RECEPTIVE

Congressman J. K. P. Hall, Former Judge James Gay Gordon, Judge Harmon Yerkes and Former Governor Pattison Willing to Serve.

BY CHESTER D. POTTER,
Staff Correspondent.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 19.—Ex-Gov. Daniel H. Hastings came to town this morning. One result of his visit is the interest felt in insurgent circles over the candidacy for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination of Senator J. Henry Cochran of Williamsport. It is said ex-Gov. Hastings wants Senator Cochran nominated by the Democrats. He has started Cochran's boom. It will be remembered that Henry Clay McCormick, Senator Cochran's banking partner, was Hastings' attorney general. He was a Republican then. Senator Cochran is a Democrat, and, as one of the senate leaders, has played for insurgent ends to the limit. Hastings thinks he should be rewarded. There are others who are receptive. There are, up to date, five men anxious for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Two of them, Senator Cochran and Congressman J. K. P. Hall, are multi-millionaires. Ex-Judge James Gay Gordon is another. He expects the backing of Wanamaker. This would place Him on the millionaire basis, too. The other pronounced candidates are Judge Harmon Yerkes, who was defeated for judge of the supreme court, and ex-Gov. Robert E. Pattison, who, entertaining the presidential bee, would probably accept the gubernatorial offering as a steppingstone.

Ex-Gov. Pattison has cut loose from the regular Democratic organization of Philadelphia and has no assets save those which Col. Guffey might contribute. There is no reason to believe that Guffey is concerned for the welfare of Judge Yerkes. The judge's nomination was forced upon Guffey by certain corporate and insurgent interests.

Several times during the last session of the legislature there were violent clashes between Guffey and Senator Cochran. The senator never hesitated to express his sentiments concerning the colonel's leadership. He characterized it as amateurish, erratic and of grand-stand variety. He even wanted to lead a revolt, but found himself short on followers. Col. Guffey knew of these things at the time, he has not forgotten, and the inference is that he will "scratch" Hastings' choice.

Congressman Hall has been very much in evidence the past six months. He protests when in the Guffey atmosphere that he is the colonel's truest, most loyal friend. When in the Gordon or Pattison air currents he drifts enthusiastically with them. In consequence he has a confusing number of strings out, which still, when tangled, put him clear out of the race. At this writing there is not the slightest doubt but what Senator Cochran is the insurgent choice. E. A. Coray, insurgent, who was defeated for state treasurer, has been slated for lieutenant governor by the Wanamaker political bureau. Guffey, the insurgents claim, will not dare to interfere with the program arranged.

Senator Boies Penrose left tonight for Washington for the purpose of a conference with Senator Quay. It is probable that the Pittsburgh matter will be given some attention. Both senators are strenuously opposed to the removal of Recorder A. M. Brown.

BUBONIC PLAGUE RAGES.

Over 800 Cases and 380 Deaths In Cape Town, South Africa.

NORFOLK, VA., Nov. 19.—The British steamer Monmouth, Capt. Troop, which arrived here yesterday direct from Cape Town, South Africa, reports the existence of over 800 cases of bubonic plague in the vicinity of Cape Town when she left that port.

Up to the time she sailed some 380 deaths from the plague had occurred.

GREATEST TREASURE EVER TRANSPORTED IN A SINGLE SHIP CARGO

Traps and Pitfalls for Thieves, Who Wouldn't Be Able to Find the Lock.

GUARDED BY ARMED MEN

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Oh, what a chance for a Capt. Kidd! Seven million dollars' worth of gold bars going out to sea, with not a carronade to guard it!

The North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse is the bearer of this golden burden. No other ship in the world's history has ever been so richly laden. She sailed at 10 o'clock this morning, with nothing in her outward appearance to give hint as to the wealth down in her hold. All that was put aboard yesterday.

The greatest care has been taken to prevent the money being stolen by anyone on board while the ship is in transit. The strong box is a marvel of security. It was built in the afterpart of the ship near the water line, and the man who attempts to even get near it now takes his life in his hands. On three sides it is surrounded by coal bunkers and the door is hard to find. This door has a patent lock that has never been used on any other door. It was recently invented by a German. Two keys are necessary to open even the outer door, and unless one knows the secret he cannot find the keyholes.

Traps to Catch Thieves.

To get down to the door it is necessary to risk all sorts of dangers. Numerous pitfalls have been arranged. On the ladder which leads down into the hold some of the steel rungs have been all but sawed through, and the man who does not know which ones they are, and steps on them, will go heels over head into the hold of the ship. Only one man on the ship knows the trick of getting down that ladder with safety to his bones, and he is held responsible if anyone else learns it. An armed guard is always on watch to see that no one makes the attempt.

To be exact, the amount of gold in dollars and cents that went out of this country to Europe on the big German ship was $7,082,583.29. It was not in coin, but in gold bars of the approximate value of $5,000 each. This means that there were about 845 bars of gold on board. These bars were packed in boxes and kegs. Into each box four bars were packed and into each keg seven. The work was done at the sub-treasury, where gold is just so much merchandise, like pig iron or potatoes.

All told, there were 47 boxes containing $1,256,000, and 118 kegs containing the remainder of the amount. Each package was sealed and stamped with the seals of the assay office and of the concern doing the shipping, and the wax was let run into the packages so that the seals could not be tampered with without making discovery certain.

Gold Brick Game Impossible.

No such thing as the substitution of gold bricks for the real ones is possible. Representatives of the various banking houses that were doing the shipping were on hand to see that there was no mistake about the amount that was packed, and the steamship company had men on hand to check up in their behalf.

It costs money to ship such a vast treasure to Europe. To begin with, the insurance on such cargo is 7 cents per $100. This means an expenditure of nearly $5,000 on the amount which went out today. The freight charges on the gold amounted to over $8,000, and then there was the expense of the packing and trucking and the guarding of it.

WANT ROOSEVELT NOMINATED.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 19.—Theodore Roosevelt's boom for the presidential nomination in 1904 was launched here tonight at the annual banquet of the Garfield club. The suggestion of Roosevelt's nomination to succeed himself was greeted with tremendous cheering and continuous enthusiastic applause when the Hon. S. S. Conroy broached the subject in his response to the toast, "The President."

Congressman Dick's candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor of Ohio was also given impetus and the banquet was virtually the formal inauguration of his boom for gubernatorial honors. It was planned weeks ago after an effort had been made to select him as a speaker at the banquet, and when he arrived at the banquet hall, the 400 Republicans from the seven counties which constituted the old Nineteenth district, represented by Garfield in congress, broke into cheers and exclaimed: "What's the matter with Dick?"

Eloquent Tribute to Memory of William McKinley. Senator McLaurin of South Carolina, Pleads for Non-Partisan Statesmanship.

IOWA'S NEW GOVERNOR TALKS ON RECIPROCITY

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The one hundred and thirty-third annual banquet of the chamber of commerce was held at Delmonico's this evening. Covers for 450 members were laid in the main banquet room, which was simply though effectively decorated, the dominant scheme being a liberal display of American flags. Interspersed with these were flags of the various states and back of the table was suspended the seal of the chamber and the flag of the municipality.

At the table of honor, presided over by President Morris K. Jessup, were Joseph H. Choate, ambassador to England; John Hay, secretary of state; Senator John L. McLaurin of South Carolina, Whitelaw Reid, Gov. Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, Senator Chauncey M. Depew, the Rev. Dr. Donald Sage Mackay, Andrew Carnegie, Mayor-elect Seth Low, Lieut. Gen. Nelson A. Miles, J. P. Morgan, W. E. Dodge, Samuel D. Babcock, Maj. Gen. John R. Brooks, Carl Schurz, Alexander E. Orr, Rear Admiral Albert S. Barker and W. R. Ridgely.

Governor Odell entered the banquet hall at about the moment when the diners got to their coffee and cigars. His entrance was the signal for a storm of applause, which the governor accepted very modestly.

Prominent Men in Attendance.

Among those present were Jacob H. Schiff, James Stillman, Samuel P. Avery, George G. Haven, Clarence W. Bowen, William Brookfield, Ludwig Dreyfuss, John D. Crimmins, Bayard Dominick, Joel B. Erhardt, S. W. Fay, Charles R. Flint, H. P. Frothingham, Henry Goldman, Clement A. Griscom, Henry Hentz, A. E. Hepburn, Rudolph Keppler, D. O. Mills, Elkin Naumburg, Daniel Odell, George Foster Peabody, A. A. Raven, Harry Sachs, G. B. Schley, G. H. Schwab, R. A. C. Smith, James Speyer, Frederick D. Tappan, Charles H. Tenney, T. N. Stoat, E. N. Taller, Frank Tilford, W. H. Truesdale, Felix M. Warburg, H. P. Worthington, Louis Windmuller and James T. Woodward.

The speechmaking was opened by President Jessup in a very few words. He then proposed a toast to the memory of William McKinley. It was drunk with all standing in the deepest silence.

"Gentlemen," Mr. Jessup next said, "Will you fill your glasses and drink to the health of the president of the United States?"

Instead of silence, the strains of the "Star Spangled Banner" filled the big room while the toast was drunk. The next toast proposed by Mr. Jessup was to "His Majesty, Edward the Seventh, by grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and of the British dominions beyond the sea, king, defender of the faith and emperor of India." While the toast was being drunk the British national anthem was played by the orchestra.

Greeting to Secretary Hay.

In introducing Secretary Hay, the first speaker, President Jessup proposed a toast to "Our Diplomacy." Secretary Hay was well received and his speech at various points was punctuated with a great enthusiasm, especially when he mentioned the name of President McKinley in connection with that of Abraham Lincoln, and the applause was deafening when in his peroration he said:

"No wantonness of strength will ever induce us to drive a hard bargain with another nation because it is weak, nor will any fear of ignoble criticism tempt us to insult or defy a great power because it is strong or because it is friendless."

After he concluded, Secretary Hay was obliged several times to acknowledge the applause accorded him by the diners who considered that his remarks contained a special significance.

Gov. Odell spoke to the toast "The State of New York," and Mayor-elect Low replied to the toast "The City of New York."

Choate Still Eloquent.

Joseph H. Choate, ambassador to the court of St. James, was next introduced. After the applause had subsided he spoke with his usual eloquence.

Mr. Cummins departed somewhat from his prepared speech. He said there is a feeling in this country that industrial combinations are tending to drift toward monopoly. Not a word could be said, he declared, against industrial combinations, but a monopoly was quite a different thing from an industrial combination. He said there are two forces to regulate prices, one competition and the other regulation by law.

"I know," said Mr. Cummins, "that the people of this country will not stand for industrial monopoly any more than they would for a monarchical form of government. If we wish to preserve the manhood of our citizenship the time will come when it will be necessary to nationalize the questions which are now agitating the public mind in this particular domain."

The last speaker of the evening was the Rev. Dr. Donald Sage Mackay, who responded to the toast "The Higher Ideal of Civic Righteousness."

OUR POSITION IS STATED BY SECRETARY JOHN HAY.

Diplomacy of Today Guided by the Monroe Doctrine and the Golden Rule.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Secretary of State John Hay, speaking on the diplomacy of the United States, said:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen: I need not dwell upon the mournful and tragic event in virtue of which I am here. When the president lay stricken in Buffalo, though hope beat high in our hearts that his life might be spared for future usefulness to his country, it was still recognized as improbable that he should be able to keep the engagement he had made to be with you tonight, and your committee called on me the honor to ask me to come in his place. This I have sometimes done, in the fleeting though always with pleasure and dread, but never much more am I daunted by the duty of appearing before you when that great statesman loved and revered above all ever while living has put on the august halo of immortality. Who could worthily come into your presence as the shadow of that illustrious shade?

After an eloquent tribute to the memory of President McKinley Mr. Hay said:

I desire to come to you because you have asked me, and because I have wished to. We have said that all personal feelings of mine must be considered when they conflicted with a public duty. And if I fall immeasurably below the standard to which he has accustomed you, the very comparisons you draw will be a tribute to his memory.

Character of Diplomacy.

I am asked to say something about our diplomacy. You want from me nothing but the truth; and yet, if I confine myself to the truth, I cannot help fearing I shall do my profession a wrong in the minds of those who have been in the habit of considering diplomacy an art or a secret science as mysterious as alchemy, and as dangerous to the morals as municipal politics. It must be admitted that this conception of the diplomatic function is not without a certain historical foundation.

There was a time when diplomacy was a science of intrigue and falsehood, of traps and mines and counter mines. It may be another instance of that credulity with which I have already confessed to the European critics when I say that I really believe the world has moved onward in diplomacy as in many other matters. In my experience of diplomatic life, which now covers more years than I like to look back upon, and in the far greater record of American diplomacy, which I have read and studied, I can say without hesitation that we have generally told squarely what we wanted, announced early in negotiations what we were willing to give, and followed the other side to accept or reject our terms. During the time in which I have been principally concerned in our foreign relations, I can also say that we have been met by the representatives of other powers in the same spirit of frankness and sincerity.

Two Forbidden Subjects.

As to the measure of success which our recent diplomacy has met with, it is difficult, if not impossible, for me to speak. There are two important lines of human endeavor in which men are forbidden even to allude to their success—affairs of the heart and diplomatic affairs.

But if we are not permitted to boast of what we have done, we can at least say a word about what we have tried to do, and the principles which have guided our action. The briefest expression of our rule of conduct is, perhaps, the Monroe doctrine and the golden rule. With this simple chart we can hardly go far wrong.

I think I may say that our sister republics to the south of us are perfectly convinced of the sincerity of our attitude. They know we desire the prosperity of each of them, and peace and harmony among them. We no more want their territory than we covet the mountains of the moon. We are grieved and distressed when there are differences among them, but even then we should never think of trying to compose any of those differences unless by the request of all the parties to it. Not even our earnest desire for peace among them will lead us to any action which might offend their national dignity or their just sense of independence. We owe them all the consideration which we claim for ourselves.

An Independent Attitude.

As to what we have tried to do—and we are still trying to do—in the general field of diplomacy, there is no reason for doubt on the one hand or reticence on the other. President McKinley in his messages during the last four years has made the subject perfectly clear. We have striven, on the lines laid down by Washington, to cultivate the friendship of all powers, to cultivate the formation of groups or combinations among them.

A position of complete independence is not incompatible with relations involving the friendship alone, but concurrent action as kept always in view the fact that we are pre-eminently a peace-loving people; that our normal activities are in the direction of trade and commerce; that the vast development of our industries imperatively demand that we shall not only retain and confirm our hold on our present markets, but seek constantly by all honorable means, to extend our commercial interests in every practicable direction. It is for this reason we have negotiated the treaties of reciprocity which now await action of the senate; all of them conceived in the traditional American spirit of protection to our own industries, and yet mutually advantageous to ourselves and our neighbors.

What Has Been Accomplished.

In the same spirit we have sought successfully to induce all the great powers to unite in a recognition of the general principle of equality of commercial access and opportunity in the markets of the orient. We believe that "A fair field and no favor" is all we require; and with less than that we cannot be satisfied. If we accept the sacrifices we have received as honor and gratitude, as I certainly do, this equality will not be nited us; and the result may safely be left. American genius and energy. We consider our interests in the Pacific rest as great now as those of any other ower, and destined to indefinite development. have opened our doors to the people of uam; we have accepted the responsibility the Philippines, which Providence imposed s; we have put an end to the embar- ing complications in which we were in- ved to Samoa, and while abandoning none r commercial rights in the entire group, established our flag and our au- in Tutuila, which gives us the finest in the south seas. Next in order will Pacific cable, and an Isthmian canal the use of all well-disposed peoples, but exclusive American ownership and rican control—of both of which great en- ises President McKinley and President evelt have been the energetic and com- ent champions.

No Surrender of Rights.

sure as we are of our rights in these mat- rs, convinced as we are of the authenticity f the vision which has led us so far and ill beckons us forward, I can yet assure you so long as the administration of your af- airs remains in hands as strong and skill- ul as those to which they have been and are ow confided, there will be no more surrender f our rights than there will be violation of he rights of others. The president, to whom ou have given your invaluable trust and con- idence, like his now immortal predecessor, is incapable of bullying a strong power as he s of wronging a weak one. He feels and nows—for has he not tested it in the cru- ible of heavy fights, as well as in the toil- some work of administration?—that the na- ion over whose destinies he presides has a tion's strength in the works of war, as in he works of peace. But that consciousness of strength neither leads him to temptation to injury to any power on earth, the proudest of the humblest. We frankly confess we seek the friendship of all the powers; we want to trade with all peoples; we are conscious of pro- gress that will make our commerce a source of advantage to them and of profit to our- selves. But no wantonness of strength will ever induce us to drive a single bargain with another nation because it is weak, nor will any fear of ignoble criticism tempt us to in- sult or defy a great power because it is strong, even because it is friendly.

The attitude of our diplomacy may be in- dicated in a text of Scripture which Franklin—the first and greatest of our diplomats—has so passed through his mind when he was presented at the court of Versailles. It was a text his father used to quote to him in the old candle shop in Boston, when he was a boy: "Seest Thou a man diligent in his busi- ness, he shall stand before kings."

Let us be diligent in our business and we shall stand—stand, you see, not crawl, nor swagger—stand, as a friend and equal, asking nothing, putting up with nothing but what is right, and just among our peers in the great democracy of nations.

GOV.-ELECT A. B. CUMMINS TALKS ON PROSPERITY.

Home Markets of Paramount Import- ance, But Foreign Markets Are Also Necessary.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Gov.-elect A. B. Cummins of Iowa, speaking on "The Present Prosperity of the Republic— What Are the Essentials to Its Continu- ance," said he desired to speak in a non- partisan manner. Prosperity he held to be a comparative term and one that did not imply the furious pace of the last three years. "When I speak of pros- perity," said Mr. Cummins, "I have in mind a reasonable, moderate, but con- stant advance that will keep us well at the head of the march, but will not com- pletely exhaust our competitors in their efforts to remain in the procession."

While there has hitherto been an occasional note of discontent, the great body of the people have felt that the government has accom- plished in high degree the ends for which it was organized. It is easy to see that we are rapidly passing into another phase of national existence, one in which we must not only con- cern ourselves with our relations toward other nations, and our trade with other lands, but must look with increasing care toward those laws which are intended to control the rela- tions which our people bear to each other.

A Necessary First Step.

Some subjects which are now constitutionally local must become constitutionally national. It is futile to inquire what legislation, if any, should be adopted to prevent or adjust the de- vastating controversies between the employer and employed, between capital and labor, until there is power as broad and as comprehen- sive as the problem itself to prescribe a solu- tion.

There is no tribunal with power to admin- ister full and adequate justice, and can be none until the constitution of the United States is so amended as to give congress jurisdiction over this struggle which wages incessantly throughout the whole sovereignty of the re- public. Good government must contribute its part toward the maintenance of the high standard of manhood which has hitherto been handed down from our immortal predecessors. It is incapable of bullying a strong power as he is of wronging a weak one. He feels and knows—for has he not tested it in the cru- cible of heavy fights, as well as in the toil- some work of administration?—that the na- tion over whose destinies he presides has a giant's strength in the works of war, as in the works of peace. But that consciousness of strength neither leads him to temptation to injury to any power on earth, the proudest or the humblest. We frankly confess we seek the friendship of all the powers; we want to trade with all peoples; we are conscious of pro- gress that will make our commerce a source of advantage to them and of profit to our- selves. GREAT BRITAIN'S GRIEF WAS DEEP AND GENUINE.

Ambassador Choate Tells How That Nation Was Shocked at the Death of McKinley.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—President Jes- sup introduced Joseph H. Choate, ambas- sador to England, who said in part:

I take this welcome as a manifestation that friendship does not die by reason of a little absence, and that three years cannot efface the recollection of 40 years during which I have enjoyed your confidence and friendship. I shall not attempt to tell you what I have been doing during the last three years. I have been well treated by the people in Lon- don and England. I soon found they had little use over there for gush and chaff, which at times seems to go well with you here. I found that a vigorous and manly assertion of American character, American interest and American rights was much more calculated to propitiate their favor and their favorable consideration of anything I had to offer than any attempt to flatter or cajole them.

Mr. Choate referred to the visit of the delegation of the chamber of com- merce of New York to London as a truly notable event. He then said:

Before I sit down let me relate in a very few words what occurred to manifest the loyal friendship of the English people toward the American people. It was at the time of the tragic event to which the secretary of state has so feelingly alluded—the assassination of that great and good president whose char- acter was as highly esteemed and valued there as it was by his own countrymen. Im- mediately before that shocking event the last words of the president had been transmitted through all Europe, and especially throughout all the British dominions. It had been, I think, justly regarded as an overture of good will and friendship to all the nations of the earth.

And then came this terrible blow, striking down all the hopes that his words of the day before had raised, so far as his personal par- ticipation in carrying them out could go. I cannot express to you the universality, the overwhelming tide of the sympathy that was everywhere and by everybody expressed. It was not only from the king and queen upon the throne, but from all and every sort of con- dition of men. It was natural that the king himself should manifest as he did, from the first moment of that terrible disaster until the grave had closed upon the ashes of our honored president, the utmost solicitude, in- terest and concern for the unhappy sufferer and for the people who had been so grievously afflicted; and there was not an hour, there was certainly not a day during that period that he did not manifest in the most feeling way and earnest manner this sympathy and concern. It was almost equally touching to see how, down to the very lowest order of society, the same feeling which he had nat- urally expressed and manifested as the representative of the whole nation they also displayed in their own person. It was ex- pressed in most feeling terms. It was signed with the autograph of every merchant and every trader and every banker of any known position in the city of London and it mani- fested how the people who knew the real interests of union between the two people, regarded that sad catastrophe.

MORE OFFICERS NEEDED.

Recorder Brown Says That the Po- lice Department Is Too Small for Its Work.

Recorder A. M. Brown is still in favor of a large increase in the police force. He will endeavor to have suitable pro- vision made in the general appropriation ordinance.

"The department has not enough men," said Recorder Brown. "I discovered this soon after I went into office, but nothing can be done until the new appropriation bill is passed. Last year provision was made for the increase, but at the last minute it was cut out to make room for something the men who were then run- ning the city were more interested in. I will insist that the matter be cared for this time."

The several departments of the city government will not make ten months' reports this year as they did under the old charter. The reports will be made annually on or before March 1.

SENATOR SEWELL BETTER.

New Jersey Statesman May Never En- tirely Recover His Health.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 19.—Senator Sewall of New Jersey, who has been at Asheville, N. C., for some time for the benefit of his health, was able to be out this morning. He walked about the grounds of the Battery Park hotel in company with his daughter.

He has improved somewhat within the past few days, but it is said to be doubt- ful if he ever entirely recovers his health.

Died At Central Police Station.

An unknown man died last night about 9 o'clock while being hurried to Central station. He was found lying on the side- walk in front of a restaurant opposite the cathedral. A passerby notified the police and he was removed to Central station. When Police Surgeon Phillips reached him he was dead. The body was removed to the morgue. He was about 50 years old and 5 feet 10 inches in height.

All Stuffed Up

That's the condition of many sufferers from catarrh, especially in the morning. Great difficulty is experienced in clear- ing the head and throat.

No wonder catarrh causes headache, impairs the taste, smell and hearing, pollutes the breath, deranges the stom- ach and affects the appetite.

To cure catarrh, treatment must be constitutional—alterative and tonic.

"I was afflicted with catarrh. I took medicines of different kinds, giving each a fair trial; but gradually grew worse until I could hardly hear, taste or smell. I then concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking five bottles I was cured and have not had any return of the disease since." EUGENE FORBES, Lebanon, Kan.

HORSE SHOW A POPULAR PLACE

It Has Made Itself Necessary to Swell Society of the Metropolis.

THOMAS W. LAWSON TOOK MANY PRIZES

Lady Doris, a Five-Time Blue Rib- bon Winner, Behaves Badly i Four-in-Hand Competition--Mr. Lawson's Four Takes Ribbon.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Interest in the horse show this year is apparently greater than ever and there appears to be solid grounds for the assertion that this will be the most brilliant ever seen in Madison Square garden.

The second day opened briskly with a very large attendance. Many horsemen attribute the present high plane of pop- ularity of the horse show in large meas- ure to the great success of American racers at home and abroad during the past season and the consequent great in- crease of interest in matters of the turf. These persons refer to the remarkable recent performances of the champion trotter, Cresceus, the victories of W. C. Whitney and the other American horse- men on the English turf, and the fine performances in our own big meets. Hence the eagerness with which persons of all classes are flocking to the garden this week.

Society a few years ago, "took up" the horse show and the affair became a fad. Many old horsemen at the time declared that this sudden madness of society for things equestrian boded no good for the future of the show, and that the smart ones would soon drop the horse and rele- gate him to the domain of knickerbockers and the hoopskirt. Nothing, they pointed out, is so absolutely derelict as an aban- doned fad. But in spite of these croak- ings, society made the horse show and gave it prestige; and at last the affair has waxed so great and has attained to such lively proportions, that it needs no more artificial social fostering. Yet the very smartest set still clings to the horse exhibition and apparently does not dare to absent itself. It would appear that where society first captured the show, the show has turned the tables and drives society under the reins.

The horses that took the tanbark today and tonight to strive for the coveted blue ribbon, consisted for the most part of big, full-fleshed hackneys, harness and carriage horses and trotters. While the hackney is a horse which is rapidly grow- ing as scarce as the western bison be- cause of the falling off in the demand for practical use, he is a fine, big hulk of an animal in the ring and is popular with the crowd.

The Shetland brood mares were the first to parade before the judges of the show. A. J. Cassatt of Philadelphia and E. D. Morgan were the ring committeemen for the day and Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., and F. K. Sturgis were down to serve in a like capacity tonight.

Twenty classes were on the day's pro- grams, with hackneys and trotters as the special feature of the morning. The blue ribbon for Shetland brood mares went to T. L. Watt, Sr.'s Gladys. Frederick C. Stevens' Thalamarine was given the first prize for yearling hackney mares; his Vyvianne, Jr., the blue ribbon as the best two-year-old hackney mare; his Victoria IV. was awarded first honors as the best five-year-old hackney mare, and his Vic- toria took first prize in the hackney brood mare class. Mrs. H. Bain's Ella M. was awarded the blue ribbon as the best trotting brood mare.

E. T. Statesbury's two-year-old trotting filly, Ora Fox, got the blue bow in her class. Magnum, owned by William Pol- lock, took first place as a yearling trot- ter. Hildenite Challenge, owned by L. Meredith of London, Canada, won the blue in the class for horses suitable to be- come hunters. The public hansom of E. Emerson, drawn by Lady White, a hand- some mare, was picked as the best rig shown.

The trotting enthusiasts had an inning in the next event, which was for trotters with a record of 2:30 or better. In this class Charles C. Lloyd had two entries; His sensational gelding, Chain Shot, by Red Heart, who lead a month at Memphis, Tenn., made his record of 2:06½, and Malzour, black gelding, 15.2, eight years, by Elyria, with a record of 2:15¾. Chain Shot, fresh from a hard campaign, was in no form for a show, but Malzour went beautifully and won easily from a very stiff lot of high-class horses. The win- ner was driven by Albert De Cernea.

Horses not under 15 hands 2 inches high, to be shown before a brougham, first, Glorious Red Cloud, br. s., 15.3½, class shown. It was for ten standard bred trotting stallions kept for service. Mr. Lawson swept the board by taking first, second and third prizes, and from an excellent field of high class animals. The winner of the first prize was Dreamer, sire Oakland Baron, dam Di Vernon, by Jay Bird.

So great was the crowd at the horse show this evening that the garden was practically full quite early. It was an- nounced that the West Point cadets would visit the show Saturday as the guests of Col. Cornelius Fellows. Fol- lowing is the list of the first prizes awarded tonight:

Saddle horses—Over 15 hands 2 inches, 3 years old or over, up to carrying 160 pounds. Flashlight, chestnut gelding, 15.2½, 6 years, Mrs. William Stanton Elliott.

Harness tandem, the horses to be over 15 hands 2 inches. Birmingham, black stallion, 15.3, 7 years, and Burlingham, black stallion, 15.3, 9 years, Frank J. Gould.

TRYING TO FIX PRICE OF GLASS

GREATEST CONFERENCE IN THE INDUSTRY'S HISTORY.

Window Light Manufacturers and Jobbers Trying to Reach An Agreement and May Succeed To- day—Opening Demands Rather Wide Apart—Independent Makers Looking On.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The greatest meeting in the history of the glass indus- try of America is now in session in the Auditorium annex. There are three or- ganizations of manufacturers of window glass, exclusive of representatives of the small outside factories. There are also two bodies of plate glass makers, the Pittsburgh company and the independ- ents, who settled up their own price scales last night and are waiting to see how the window glass men come out. Then there is the jobbers' organization and the sash, door and blind manufac- turers, who are only waiting for the glass men to get through so that they can make up their own price lists. Practically all branches of the business except the re- tail dealer are here.

There were three conferences between the window glass makers and the jobbers today, in addition to a meeting of the executive committees of each, who are in joint session now and are likely to be until morning. The jobbers, who have very light stocks on hand, are anxious for a very low opening price and have been hanging out for discounts of 80 and 5 per cent on single and 90 and 5 per cent on double strength glass. The manufac- turers, however, have practically placed their ultimatum at straight 88 per cent for all brackets, which simply puts the second three brackets on the same basis as was agreed upon for the first three, dating back to October 18.

If the figures of the jobbers are put into effect it means a reduction of something like 45 per cent within a month. If the manufacturers' figures are adopted it means a reduction in that time of about 25 per cent. A final decision will be reached shortly after 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the committees now in session will call the representatives to- gether to hear the figures.

Meanwhile, Capt. Charles W. Brown, secretary and manager of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, is lying in his room at the Annex dangerously ill of tonsolitis, where he has been for two days. His con- dition is so critical that his brother, Har- old Brown, manager for the Pittsburgh company at Milwaukee, has arrived.

The jobbers are talking very much about the necessity of putting prices down to a point that will shut out competition from foreign glass. They call attention to the recent importation of 30,000 boxes of Belgium glass by Chicago jobbers, which is a sore point with the manu- facturers. The manufacturers assert that the reduction made in October will shut out a repetition.

One of the points at issue is the quan- tity of glass that the manufacturers will permit the jobbers to buy at the outset. Last year it was 1,000,000 boxes, and the price thereafter immediately soared to a point which made big money for all the jobbers. This year the manufacturers will sell only 500,000 boxes at the opening low prices, and will fix further quantities later. All branches of the industry are figuring on the largest building season next year in the history of the country, and the manufacturers are cognizant of the fact that jobbers have very low stocks with which to enter for this trade.

McKeesport Exports Growing.

WHOLESALE & RETAIL DRUGGISTS—MARKET ST. COR. DIAMOND

LOWEST PRICES ON PIANOS IN CITY AT AMBUHL BROS.

The House That Has Made Itself Famous by Selling Good, Reliable Pianos on Closer Margins Than Was Thought Could Be Made to Pay.

There are many piano houses in Pitts- burgh, and many are their claims why they should be patronized. Some claim to be the oldest, some the largest and some the richest, but the firm of Ambuhl Bros., of Wood street, make a claim for patron- age that appeals directly to the provider of every home. It is that they sell good, reliable, high grade instruments on very much closer margins than was thought possible could be made to pay.

The trend of the times is to make the profit on the quantity of goods sold, and not on the few.

Ambuhl Bros. are therefore endeavoring to carry out this plan, and how well they are succeeding is evidenced by the repu- tation they have established in a com- paratively short space of time.

The famous Kimball and Chickering Bros.' pianos that are made such a spe- ciality of at this store need no introduc- tion to the people of this vicinity. They have stood the test of time and no word of the dealer, either for or against, could have the slightest effect on the intelligen purchaser.

Some pianos that have been used, but are in good order, are offered here this week at prices that are far below their real value, but the fact that they are second hand compels them to be sold cheap.

Two fine Kimballs, one in walnut and the other in a mahogany case, will go for $290 each. They are beauties and can hardly be told from entirely new.

A full size, well-known New York made upright, with ivory keys, and full iron frame, will go for $120. An excellent chance for some economically disposed person.

A Kranich & Bach will go for $165, and a Chickering for $160.

Others that have been rented for a time will go for $145, $170 to $200.

Organs. Organs.

A fine high-top organ with mirror will go for $38.50, and some as low as $20.

Three to five dollars per month will buy the organs, and seven to ten per month the pianos.

Gun Metal Novelties.

In the Black Forest of Germany, in the town of Pforzheim, come the celebrated gun metal novelties. The town con- tains about 60,000 people and nine-tenths of them are en- gaged in making these metal goods.

The articles are made of the best gun steel, oxidized by a secret chemical process.

One company owns this secret and acts in the capacity of a trust—a German trust.

During the past Summer two days were spent in this town by our collector of novelties, and an unsurpassable col- lection is now ready for gift buyers.

Match boxes, cigarette cases, card cases, pocket knives, cigar cutters, pencils, penholders, etc.—

$1 to $13.50.

All the in-between prices.

Tucked Albatross.

This is the first news of tucked Albatross to sell by the yard.

Comes to us from Picardie, France, and is the fad for waists. Indeed, some women use it for entire dresses.

It has the approval of Fashion because of its charming effect.

Please understand, again, you buy it all ready for the pattern. After it is cut out and fitted nothing to do but sew it up.

We have had this fabric for some little time but it was a case where you bought without hav- ing the news. Bought so rapidly the tuckers had to work night and day to keep up with the demand.

Pretty evening colors; also navy and black.

Imported Tucked Albatross, $1 a yard.

Printed Cachemirienne.

It's a pretty hard name to get one's tongue around. Try saying, rather quick, Cas-i-Mary- Anne, and you'll have it about right.

It is a twilled cloth, exquisitely printed in oriental designs, and women will use it for the making of bodices or house dresses.

We see they are selling the same thing over East for 75c.

The coming of the new stuffs right at the in- ception of the Christmas season is something unusual.

Only another sign of how we grow better as we grow older.

New Challis With Satin Stripes.

Women always had a fondness for satin striped Challis.

This new arrival was imported especially for gift givers.

Splendid for the making of waists—couldn't be better. Artistic printings. Such modest prices—

Imported Printed Challis, 45c a yard.
Imported Satin Stripe Challis, 65c a yard.

Swell Silk Waists.

We never did like that word swell, but it fits these silk waists so snugly, we use it.

They are just new in the store and represent all that is pretty and handsome in an evening waist.

Light blue, pink and white, in tacked effects too ingenious for adequate description.

Will you see the new arrivals today? $10.50.

We have doubled our force of clerks this week, and we are pretty sure that we can take care of you now.

Why not come in early in the week — to-day or to-morrow — and let us show you the most attractive line of shoes that ever came to town.

There is no other shoe like the Regal at anything like the price.

Always and only $3.50, direct from Tannery to Consumer, through our own stores. No unnecessary profits.

Style, fit, wear — in every point the Regal excels.

If you don't wear Regals ask your friends about them.

The Regal is the only shoe sold at $3.50 direct from Tannery to Consumer in its own stores from the Atlantic to the Pacific. If Regals are not sold in your town, send for hand- some book showing latest shoe styles and complete instructions for ordering by mail.

Regal Dressing gives the most lustrous and lasting polish, makes the shoes soft and easy, and preserves the leather indefinitely.

GERMAN SQUADRON QUIETLY GATHERS IN VENEZUELAN WATERS

Four Warships of That Nation Are Already Assembled at La Guayra.

CHILE MAKES A BARGAIN

CARACAS, Nov. 19.—In a quiet way Germany shows signs of taking considerable interest in the war situation in this quarter of the world.

The German cruiser Falke and the training ship Stein have arrived at La Guayra, while the cruiser Veneta and the training ship Moltke, both German, are also in Venezuelan waters.

SAN JOSE DE COSTA RICA, Nov. 19.—Minister Galo Irarrazaval, special Chilean envoy to Ecquador and Central American republics, arrived here last week on board the American cruiser Ministro Zentino. His mission to Ecquador is to prevent that country from giving further aid to the Colombian revolutionists, and in Central America to secure the votes of the Central American delegates to the Pan-American congress for Chile's purposes. For several years past the Chilean government has done much to increase its popularity in the Central American states, notably by giving free education to a number of their young men in Chilean colleges and sending military instructors to teach their soldiers.

The government of Colombia agreed with Chile to send Gen. Rafael Reyes as a delegate to the Pan-American congress, instead of Minister Silva, from Washington, if Chile in return would prevent Ecquador from giving further support to the Colombian revolution. It was understood Gen. Reyes would oppose the idea of arbitration, this being Chile's purpose.

COLON, Nov. 19.—Gen. Alban, with a force of 1,100 men, well armed and supplied with ammunition and having cannon and modern quick-firing guns with them, has started to attack the insurgent forces, which are strongly intrenched at Chorrera.

PRO-BOER FILIBUSTERS.

Suspicious Steamer Held Up in London—Full of War Material.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The government has caused the detention of a British steamer which was fitting out ostensibly for a pleasure cruise at Victoria docks, on the ground that the vessel was laden with contraband of war destined for the Boers.

It is said a search disclosed four field guns, quantities of raw material for the manufacture of powder, and that the vessel was fitted up inside to accommodate from 500 to 600 men. The captain of the steamer says his instructions from his employers directed him to call at Hamburg after leaving the Thames.

BARRING OUT FOREIGN IRON.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 19.—(Special Cable.)—The importation of iron and steel and other building materials is likely to be practically killed on account of the action of the minister of the interior in issuing peremptory orders to all municipalities and provincial councils that all contracts of public works, especially where iron and steel are employed, must be given only to Russian contractors.

It is asserted, however, that according to Russian state organization, such a measure is distinctly illegal.

ANTI-ANARCHY CONGRESS.

Germany and Russia Will Unite in Call to the Powers.

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—(Special Cable.)—Germany and Russia are about to unite in assembling an international congress for the suppression of anarchy and anarchists. The invitation will probably be issued before the end of the year.

The place of meeting is to be left to the choice of the participating governments, but both signatory powers tender the hospitality of their countries.

Political Chaos in Italy.

ROME, Nov. 19.—(Special Cable.)—The imminent reopening of parliament finds all political parties dislocated. The Socialists, owing to theoretical disagreements, are split in groups. The monarchists of the north and south are divided into parties.

CABLED BREVITIES.

The pope is still well enough to attend to official business.

Four servants perished in the burning of a gymnasium at Darmstadt.

It is said King Edward and Queen Alexandra will visit Ireland in the spring.

A Dutch rumor says Kitchener is disabled and will return from South Africa to England.

Fifty Chinese soldiers surprised 150 bandits close to Peking, killed 12 of them and captured 16.

The duke of Abruzzi, Arctic explorer, says he will accept the presidency of the Italian commission at the St. Louis exposition.

It is rumored in London that J. Pierpont Morgan is negotiating for the purchase of one of the largest of the British shipyards.

Paterno, former chief of the so-called Filipino cabinet, has been elected president of the new peace party in the Philippines. Isabel Reys was elected vice president.

There is talk in Amsterdam of Boer advices having been received from Lorenzo Marquez, reporting mysterious Kaiin movements antagonistic to the British in South Africa.

CONSUL NOW FOR FIGHTING BRIGANDS.

SOFIA, Nov. 19.—It is reported that Mr. Dickinson, the United States diplomatic agent here, has informed the government of Bulgaria that the abductors of Miss Ellen M. Stone and Mme. Tsilka, with their captives, are concealed in a defile of the Belleritza mountains, and has requested that troops be sent to surround the place and liberate the captives.

Both Mr. Dickinson and the Bulgarian foreign offices decline to confirm or deny this report. Nevertheless, it is believed that Mr. Dickinson, persuaded of the impossibility of coming to terms with the brigands, has, after consulting with Washington, decided upon this move.

Only eight bandits now guard Miss Stone, and some of these are known to sympathize with her.

FRENCH AMBASSADOR WILL STUDY CUBA

Cambon Sails from Paris to Havana Before Proceeding to Washington.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Ambassador Cambon, who leaves France to rejoin his post on Thursday, proposes to make a thorough study of the conditions in Cuba from economic and political standpoints, before returning to Washington. Although the ambassador refuses to tell the details of his proposed investigation, it is believed he is acting under the instructions of the department of foreign affairs.

M. Cambon told The Gazette correspondent this morning, when sailing from Bordeau, that he expects to reach Havana in a fortnight and Washington about the middle of December, where he proposes to bend all his efforts toward carrying the reciprocity treaty between France and the United States. M. Cambon also hopes to interest Americans in the project of erecting a statue to Benjamin Franklin in Paris. Benjamin Franklin was the first United States minister to France.

FRENCH TAUNT ENGLAND,

Not Displeased to See John Bull Giving Up Everything to Uncle Sam in Isthmian Matters.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The Journal des Debats today says it regards the Hay-Pauncefote treaty as a signal victory for Washington, and adds:

"The submission of England is as complete as the American senate could wish It is interesting to again note that England cannot live at peace with the United States except at the cost of perpetual concessions and sacrifice."

The Temps sees in the treaty a striking demonstration of mutual good will of two powers who have long been animated by unfriendly sentiments toward each other, and, above all, of the value Great Britain sets on securing, even by sacrificing certain interests, the good graces of American public opinion. The treaty itself, the Temps also says, is an excellent solution of the difficulty, and from an economic point of view ought to awaken general congratulations.

Government 'Phones Not Cheap.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Considerable disappointment is felt over the announcement that the new postoffice telephone system just inaugurated will charge virtually the same rates as the private companies. It had been expected that the government would inaugurate a cheaper service.

DECIDED AGAINST MINERS.

Court Holds They Have No Right to Stop Work to Cut Production.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—In 15 test cases brought by the Coal Owners' association against individual leaders of the miners' organization and growing out of the action of the unions in stopping work in the mines last October to keep up the price of coal, and consequently of wages under the sliding scale agreement, Welsh magistrates today awarded small damages to the employers. In each case the verdict will be appealed.

The court held that workmen, though giving notice of intention, have no right to stop work with the object of restricting production.

Great Future For America.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—M. Jules Siegfried lectured tonight at the Musee Social on his recent tour of America. He predicted that the present century would see the United Staates the greatest and most powerful commercial and industrial nation in the world.

CURBING STOCK GAMBLERS.

Austrian Government Introduces Bill to Regulate Exchanges.

VIENNA, Nov. 19.—The government introduced the long expected produce exchange reform bill in the reichsrath today. The bill does not prohibit dealing in futures in grain, but provides for a strict state supervision.

Quotations are to be made to sworn officials. Fictitious transactions with the object of affecting prices will be classed as felonies. Gambling beyond certain limits is prohibited.

WILL KEEP ON THE GOOD SIDE OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

That Now Is the Main Point in the Foreign Policy of Great Britain.

NO FRIENDS IN EUROPE

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

LONDON, Nov. 19.—"No war with America," according to high authority, has become the supreme shibboleth of the British foreign policy. The same authority declares that this principle dictated Lord Lansdowne's withdrawal of factitious opposition to the construction and control of the isthmian canal on lines which are satisfactory to the American people.

The good of the United States is regarded in ministerial circles as ample quid pro quo for the doubtful technical advantages surrendered by Great Britain in Central America when it agreed to the abrogation of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. It is true that the government expects that this goodwill ultimately will crystallize into a tangible benefit to England, but such developments are left entirely to the future.

Lord Lansdowne's sole aim at present is to gain the confidence of America and liberalize American official opinion in reference to British interests. He fully expects the attitude of Downing street toward the canal problem will mitigate the stringency of the American position on every question outstanding or which may hereafter arise between the two countries.

Ambassador Holleben's categorical denial of all intention on the part of Germany to secure a coaling station or a foothold of any kind in South America or the West Indies strengthens Great Britain's resolve to permit nothing to drive a wedge between her and the United States. With Russia attempting a flank movement on India; with Germany eager to extend its South African possessions; with the whole continent violently pro-Boer and anti-British, and, above all, with Russia and Germany sedulously cultivating American favor, it is not surprising that the Salisbury cabinet desires to extend the hand of friendship across the Atlantic.

Under existing circumstances, many feel that a grave rupture with the United States would render Great Britain's international position practically untenable. Possibly a few hidebound, unimaginative British cherish a spirit of greed and reprehend the government for yielding to the United States in the matter of the canal; but the wisest politicians have abandoned the idea of insisting upon the Clayton-Bulwer treaty. They were soon convinced that it ran counter to the strong American nationalist sentiment which, apparently, springs from the instinct of self-preservation.

NEARLY FROZE TO DEATH.

An Old Lady Found Unconscious in Some Woods Near Millvale—Secured Help in Time.

Mrs. Mary Kelly, aged 78 years, was found yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock in Reineman's woods, near Millvale, in a dangerous condition as a result of a fall and the cold which had nearly frozen her to death.

She was found by Atto Engman, William Smith and William Johns, all small boys of Millvale, who had been playing in the woods. They gave the alarm to the family of Thomas McCutcheon, who live near by. She was carried into the McCutcheon home and medical aid was hastily summoned. Dr. A. J. Given responded and found it necessary to administer nitro-glycerin in small doses to restore her heart action.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN ATTACKED IN THEIR HOME.

Union Miners Make an Assault on Non-Union Workmen Near Vincennes, Ind.

VINCENNES, IND., Nov. 19.—Four hundred union coal miners made an attack today upon the non-union miners employed at the Prospect Hill mines near this city. As a result two men are fatally hurt and half a dozen are seriously injured. Just as the men of the day shift were going on duty they were attacked and received severe treatment. The union men asked for the foreman, William Scott, and when told that he was in bed, said:

"All right, we will get him," and started after him. In the melee that followed, Scott and his family defended themselves as best they could, but they were powerless. Scott was badly beaten about the head and face, and W. P. Collins, an attorney of Washington, a brother-in-law of Scott, who was visiting there, sustained injuries that may prove fatal. He had a rib broken and an eye badly injured. Henry Hannery, a miner, was so badly beaten by the men that he may die. Mrs. Scott was slapped in the face and when she resented the attack, it is alleged that one of the men threatened her with a revolver. Otis Scott, the 15-year-old son, was knocked down, as was also Dottie, the 10-year-old daughter of Scott.

Only 40 men are employed at the mine which is run on the co-operative plan. The operators claim they cannot pay the union scale and run, but say they pay the highest price possible, and in some instances pay more than scale prices. The union miners say they will force the mine to unionize or close up.

VICE TO COME UP AT MEETING

Formal Action Is to Be Taken by Public Minded Allegheny Men.

HAYMAKER PROMISES TO MAKE A MOVE

The District Attorney Will Begin Suits as Soon as Satisfactory Evidence of Conditions Is Furnished to Him.

Popular interest in The Gazette's exposure of conditions in the river wards of Allegheny grows daily. Churchmen and public-minded men and women generally are deeply impressed with the urgent need of decisive action. Feeling is approaching fever heat, and Thursday night in the Second Presbyterian church, Pittsburgh, a meeting will be held to take formal cognizance of the conditions that have been so demoralizing to the city.

The movement for the meeting was started last night at the session of the National Reform association's convention. The Rev. Dr. John McNaugher of the Allegheny theological seminary is the prime mover. It was he that suggested the meeting and saw to it that the call was issued.

The gathering will be held at the close of the reform meeting. Dr. McNaugher will probably preside and a number of well-known men will take an active part in it. Dr. McNaugher said last night:

"The ministers of Allegheny are in hearty accord with the movement for the suppression of lawlessness in our city. All that is needed is a call for them to come together and stand as a unit for the movement.

"There will be a meeting of the ministers and Christian laymen of Allegheny after the Thursday evening meeting of the National Reform convention. We will pass red-hot resolutions and take some positive action in the matter."

The Rev. Dr. H. D. Lindsay of the North Presbyterian church of Allegheny said yesterday: "I am glad The Gazette has taken up this work, and you can count on me to help in every way I can."

Action Against Officials.

The Rev. Dr. J. W. Sproull, pastor of the Central Reformed Presbyterian church, said: "If such conditions exist those responsible for them should be exposed. If the city officials are winking at these evils they should be ousted from their offices. I do not believe in vilifying officials or making personal attacks, but if men elected to public office fail to do their duty they ought to be removed. I wish The Gazette success in its work of showing up the conditions."

That the county officials in authority heartily approve of the action of The Gazette in exposing these dens of vice is shown by the following statement from District Attorney John C. Haymaker. He said yesterday afternoon: "I heartily approve of the work The Gazette is doing to urge the authorities of Allegheny to close up these dens of vice. Personally, I am not acquainted with the situation, and my information is gained only from the newspapers. I presume it is true. I have no reason to doubt the published statements.

"The municipal authorities of Allegheny should take steps in this matter at once and clean out these dives. I am always in favor of stamping out vice wherever it exists. Under the new charter the recorder of Allegheny has all the power necessary to close up the places, and the entire burden and responsibility rest on him."

Will Take Matter Up.

"It is not my place to begin action against these places at this time. I have never received any official notification that they exist and therefore cannot take any action until the authorities constituted by law in the municipality of Allegheny refuse to do anything. Satisfactory evidence must first be produced and then I will take the matter up.

"If I find the authorities have failed to act and I am appealed to, then I will do my whole duty in the matter. About a year and a half ago I received a petition signed by four or five taxpayers of the Fourth ward requesting me to take action regarding disorderly houses, speakeasies and gambling houses in Lacock street. The petitioners called on me and stated they were ready at any time to testify against these places and furnished me abundant proof they existed.

"I took the matter up immediately and did not even have to enter suits. I called the attention of Superintendent of Police Henry Muth to the affair, and he assured me that the places would be cleaned out in a short time. Mr. Muth kept his word and in less than a week's time a whole block of these houses were closed up tight and the petitioners had no further trouble.

"According to The Gazette, Allegheny is as bad now as it was then, and there is certainly a remedy for this state of affairs. If the matter is reported to me officially then I will follow the same course as I did previously and notify Recorder Murphy of the open violations of the law and request him to take some action in the matter. If he does not take immediate action I will."

A New Zealander's Opinion.

John L. McKenzie of the New Zealand civil service, was a passenger west over the Baltimore & Ohio last night. He was going to San Francisco to take ship to his home. "I have spent six months on business and pleasure in America and think I have been well repaid. During my tour I have visited all the large cities in this country, but have found very little to commend. In New Zealand vice is not paraded, as in your western cities and such conditions could not exist as you have it here. I have been reading The Gazette and if any paper in the antipodes had shown up vice in our cities as has been shown up by this paper the effect would have been startling. I know that no city in my country is as depraved as your sister city of Allegheny. In New Zealand when we want a robber we only wire four cities for him. One of them is Allegheny. The others are London, New York and Paris."

"Speakeasies and gambling houses are not confined to the river wards alone," said a prominent saloonkeeper of the Second ward, Allegheny, last night. "I am glad The Gazette has started this crusade against these places and hope it will continue it until the city authorities are compelled to close them all up. I pay $1,100 for the right to sell liquor, but in my neighborhood three speakeasies are run right under the eyes of the police. They have full protection, as a First ward bottler handles their trade.

"Oh, yes, I know of the woman agent for this bottling house and her protector. Why, it is common talk that no disorderly house can run in Allegheny when this female beer agent says it shall not. The statement made by Director Albrecht that only club members are sold beer in the so-called clubs, is not borne out by facts. Any person who has a pull at headquarters can start a speakeasy and call it a club. There should be one club in Allegheny, and it should be used to clean out the people that are given protection to the dens of vice which honeycomb the North Side."

TRADED A COW FOR A GAZETTE.

Novel Business Transaction in Fayette County Shows a Startling Demand for the New Sunday Paper.

The Uniontown Genius says: A novel business transaction occurred at Oliver Sunday morning. Clarence Williams, a bright little fellow about 12 years of age, had received his consignment of Sunday Gazettes, and while making his rounds met a man leading a cow at one of the railroad crossings. The man was carrying a bucket as though he had just milked the cow, and to all appearances was the owner.

"Give me a paper," shouted the man with the cow as the boy was about to pass.

"I will for a nickel," responded Clarence.

The two then stopped and the man continued:

"Say, boy, I'll make an even trade and give you this cow for a paper."

The boy was somewhat startled for a moment by this statement, but he finally handed over the paper. The man then handed him the halter strap and the two went in opposite directions. The cow is still at the home of the boy's parents, near Oliver, and as yet no one has called to claim her. She is to all appearances a valuable animal.

Who the man was that proposed the trade is not known. The boy is hoping the trade will prove genuine. If the fellow was the real owner he may also be equally satisfied with his trade, in view of approaching winter and the high price of feed.

RAIL OUTPUT TO BE INCREASED

EDGAR THOMSON MILLS WILL BE ENLARGED.

Electricity Is to Take the Place of Steam As a Motive Power and More Straightening Presses Will Be Installed—The Mills Are Already the Largest of Their Kind in the World.

The record of a rail a minute at the Edgar Thomson mills is to be overshadowed through extensive improvements that will be made at this plant of the Carnegie Steel Company during the holiday shut-down. The engineers are now working on the plans and the result will be a vast increase in the output with no additional cost in operating expenses.

These rail mills now stand as the greatest in the world and have broken all records in tonnage production. Just recently the Pennsylvania railroad in placing its contract for 100,000 tons of rails with the United States Steel Corporation and 50,000 tons additional with the subsidiary concerns controlled by the railroad interests, the Cambria Steel and the Pennsylvania Companies, inserted a clause in the contract specifying that all the steel corporation rails are to be rolled at the Edgar Thomson mills under the Kennedy-Morrison low temperature process.

The present rail mills stand almost entirely as the work of the late Capt. William Jones, whose Bessemer mixer process is now the subject of litigation in the United States supreme court between the Steel Corporation and the Cambria Steel Company. Until recently the litigation was between the Carnegie Steel Company and all other users of a similar process, but now the organization of the Steel Corporation has left the Cambria Company the only outside party to a long-drawn and costly suit.

To facilitate the speed in operating the Edgar Thomson rail mills, electricity is to be substituted almost entirely for steam. As a consequence, one of the largest steam engines in the plant, that used for driving the saws to cut a 90-foot rail in three 30-foot sections, will be dismantled. In order that the finishing mills can keep up with the rail rolling a number of additional straightening presses are to be added.

Great improvements will also be made in other mills of the plant. In the blooming mill an improved electric device is now being installed to draw the heated blooms from the reheating furnaces to avoid delays at this point in the manufacture.

Because of the present rush of orders the major portion of the improvements will not be taken up till the holidays, when all available mechanics will be put on the work of improvement and prosecute it night and day till completed.

Woman Burned to Death.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Mrs. Jane Neely, widow of James Neely of Derry township, was burned to death last night. She had been bedfast for several weeks and it is presumed that she got out of bed and fell into the fireplace. She was found by her nephew, William McClure. Mrs. Neely was 67 years old.

Was This a Good Dinner?

The New York Tribune gives, in all the seeming barbarity of the old Saxon language, the bill of fare used at the elaborate banquet which took place at Delmonico's recently in connection with the King Alfred millenary celebration. The great king of England died a thousand years ago; the menu does not resemble our modern ones, and only boundless faith in Delmonico's could have emboldened the many distinguished guests to partake of a portion of "Juncate-Eboracum," or of "Sweta-Borys-Heb," in fact the only recognizable name in the whole list is "Apollinaris," which in a double sense is familiar in millions of months, but even that is not a modern word, as good St. Apollinaris died many a century before King Alfred was born.

OPTIMISTIC SPEECH BEFORE THE NATIONAL REFORM ASSOCIATION

Dr. Stevenson of Philadelphia Says That Christianity Has More Weight in the Councils of the Nations Today Than Ever Before—In Spite of Vice the Conditions Are Much Improved.

The annual meeting of the National Reform association for a conference on the Christian principles of civil government began yesterday in the Second Presbyterian church. All-day sessions will be held today and tomorrow.

Treasurer R. C. Wylie's report showed that for the year ending June 1, 1901, the association received $5,482.47. President S. F. Scovel presided at the evening meeting. Recorder A. M. Brown of Pittsburgh, who was to have delivered the address of welcome, was unable to be present, owing to illness.

The principal address of the evening was made by the Rev. Dr. F. P. Stevenson of Philadelphia. His subject was: "The March of the Nations Toward the Kingdom of Christ."

He said in part: "I shall endeavor to lay before you the proof that the nations and governments are beginning to feel His power who said: 'I will draw all men unto Me.' The first great proof is this: The followers of Christ are beginning to multiply and are becoming an appreciable factor in the life of the nation.

"Three hundred years after the crucifixion of Christ, three millions called themselves Christians. At the end of the tenth century, 1,000 years, fifty millions, such as they were, for it was the middle of the dark ages; at the end of the fifteenth century, one hundred millions, and the less said about them the better, at the end of the eighteenth century two hundred millions, quality vastly improved by the infusion of Protestantism; at the end of the nineteenth century, five hundred millions—one-third the population of the globe—with the quality higher and the rate of growth more rapid than ever before.

As a second evidence of the onward movement of Christianity Dr. Stevenson declared that "public morals are improving." He briefly compared the morals of the present with those of former ages. He said that the "bishop of Lodi, in a sermon before the council of Constance, rebuked the clergy of that time as plunged into such excess of luxury and sensual indulgence that Diogenes, searching with his lamp as of old, would again find no men, but only brutes and swine."

Speaking of the period in English history from 1570 to 1770, he said: "How impure was the literature of those days well read men cannot help knowing. Even young women talked with a coarseness that modern editors can only represent by asterisks. In America there is abundant evidence of the low state of morals both before and after the revolutionary war. Take one illustration—intemperance. Neither industry nor festivity, nor affliction nor sorrow could be suitably or properly passed through without the abundant use of stimulants."

As a third evidence of the gains of Christianity Dr. Stevenson said: "The nominally Christian governments are rapidly extending their sway over the whole earth. Five hundred millions of nominal Christians hold the reins of government over the other two-thirds of the population of the globe. One hundred years ago the population of the earth was about 1,000,000,000. Of these about 36 per cent were under Christian governments. Today the population has increased to 1,500,000,000, but the souls under Christian rule have increased to about 900,000,000, leaving only 600,000,000 under Mohammedan or pagan rule.

"I have not one word to say in extenuation of the methods by which this increase of territory and power has often been obtained. Say all you can say justly of the methods by which England gained her Indian empire—the fact remains that the English government today is an unsurpassed blessing to India; an immeasurable gain over the rule of the petty despots among whom India was divided before. England's rule on the banks of the Nile during 14 years has been the regeneration of Egypt. I need pass no judgment on the merits of England's war with the Boers, nor need indorse either the principles or the methods of Mr. Chamberlain's colonial policy, to say that there, again, government is passing over to better and more beneficent hands.

"Fourth, the nominally Christian nations and governments are steadily becoming more Christian. The teachings of Jesus Christ, the principles of the Christian religion, exert an influence in the councils of the nation which they did not a century ago, nor ever in the world before.

"Say what you can about political corruption and about vile men in the seats of power, still the fact remains that never before in this country were so many Christian men. God-fearing men, men who read the Bible and go to the house of God, in civil office as today. When I first saw the American congress few of the members gave much heed to the chaplain's opening prayer. Some wrote at their desks, some read the papers; a few more were devout. When I was last there none displayed irreverence; most rose to their feet."

The Kaiser Hears of the Divorce.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Truth tomorrow will say the hereditary prince of Hohenlohe-Langenburg and the prince of Hohenlohe-Oehringen visited Emperor William at Potsdam, November 15, and acquainted him with the fact that the grand duke and grand duchess of Hesse would be divorced on the ground of "insuperable personal aversion."

Boy Hangs Himself.

BLOOMBURG, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Ray Hartman, the 19-year-old son of Marvin Hartman of Catawissa township, committed suicide today by hanging himself in his father's barn.

SORROW CAME TO FLINN MEN

Their Hopes of Recorder A. M. Brown's Removal Were Dashed Again.

NO ATTENTION PAID TO MITCHELL STORY

Wrong Judge Made the Central Figure in a Baseless Yarn—Senator Flinn Has Changed Waistcoats.

Numerous Flinn men were down town early yesterday. They had thought that Recorder A. M. Brown was to be removed and J. O. Brown would take up the reins of government. After waiting all day they carried another gold brick home to add to their increasing collection.

Senator William Flinn was not among the anxious throng. He did not leave his palatial residence until the usual hour and found amusement in contemplating how the little fellows were being gulled. He has never said publicly that the recorder will be removed and should the governor make a change, Mr. Flinn would be one of the most surprised men in town.

Recorder Brown spent the day at city hall attending to municipal business and found much amusement in the presence of the Flinn men who awaited his decapitation. They are even watching the recorder's mail. Soon after the morning letters were carried to the executive department a representative of the crumbing machine made bold to enter the office and inquire of the major if he had not received a letter from the governor. He was given no satisfaction.

There was a letter from one of the Stone family. It had been written by Stephen Stone and he requested the appointment of a friend to a city position. This would not look much like removal.

The publication in a morning paper of a story to the effect that Justice James T. Mitchell of the supreme court would resign and his place be given to Maj. Brown and the appointment of J. O. Brown as recorder would follow gave the Flinnites new hope. They failed to see the flaws in the tale. Justice Mitchell's term does not expire until 1910 and he is enjoying good health. Judge John I. Mitchell of the supreme court has never been able to serve, owing to ill health. His resignation is said to be in the hands of Gov. Stone.

Recorder Brown declined to discuss the story. He says he cannot talk about something with which he is not familiar. Even if the report were true, the offer would be a bribe. Those who know the recorder do not believe that he would even consider the proposition.

The recorder had visits from a number of friends of A. H. Sunshine and Joseph Vitchestain, the rival candidates for the South Side police magistrateship. Both are very hopeful. The recorder says that he will probably make a selection today. The Flinn men appear to be more afraid of the appointment of Sunshine than of Vitchestain. They say, in the hope of discouraging his selection, that Sunshine has always been a friend of Flinn and will continue to be if he is named. This bluff has failed. Alderman John Groetzinger will probably be named to succeed Magistrate J. V. McMasters.

When the writer came out of city hall yesterday afternoon he found Magistrate McGarey and a party of friends on the pavement. The judge smilingly inquired:

"Can you tell me whether I am still working?"

He was told that he was still on the pay roll.

Ex-Mayor Harry P. Ford was at city hall yesterday. He does not believe the stories of the removal of the recorder.

"I am of the opinion that the recorder will be there until 1903" he said. "Some of my friends do not agree with me, but they have not succeeded in convincing me that their information is correct."

Senator William Flinn did not add any gems of thought to his collection yesterday. He has discarded his white vest for a tan-colored one and threatens to appear in "spats" later on, but on the removal of the recorder he is silent. His lieutenants are willing to do the talking and this will relieve the senator from embarrassment later along. He did admit that he had done a little slating. An edict was issued that Controller Joseph E. Lewis could have the support of his organization for another term. The old organization would have liked to have dropped Lewis for a stronger candidate, but were afraid that substitution at this time would be considered an evidence of weakness.

The stalwarts have not decided upon a candidate for controller, but they will have one. Thomas S. Bigelow says that one question will be taken up at the proper time. There will be councilmanic candidates in every ward and the ticket will be headed with a winning candidate for controller.

The old organization people are hopeful that they will influence the county committeemen to vote for early primaries by the declaration that the recorder is to be renewed. It is said that a pool of about $10,000 has been raised to bet. These wagers are employed to inspire confidence. County Detective Robert G. Robinson and Jesse Pavey are entrusted with placing the money. Robinson admitted yesterday that it was hard to place the money. Pavey succeeded in getting a $500 bet with Martin McTighe, Pavey betting that the recorder would be removed within 30 days. A. L. Latchaw is stakeholder.

EPILEPTIC FITS

Mr. Shaffer had Epilepsy from infancy until he was cured by Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer.

EPILEPTIC FITS
—BY—
WHEELER'S NERVE VITALIZER.

The letter printed below tells of a nervous system disordered at birth and continuing into manhood, being successfully cured by Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer. Surely such testimony is convincing evidence that it will cure Nervous Prostration, St. Vitus' Dance and all of the milder forms of nervous diseases. A postal card will bring to any one more proof of this fact.

I have been troubled with Epilepsy all my life; some times would have three or four convulsions a week while at other times I would not notice them for several weeks. I tried several kinds of medicines advertised to cure such troubles, but did not get relief. I learned of Wheeler's Nerve Vitalizer and gave it a trial and can honestly say I felt a greater improvement in using it than at any other time in my life. I keep it in my house all the time and recommend it to everyone who is suffering from such nervous troubles Nicholas Shaffer, West Liberty, O.

WANTS UNION OF CHURCHES

PLEA MADE FOR ONE METHODIST DENOMINATION.

Gen. J. F. Rusling Swings Spirited Debate At Closing Session of Methodist Episcopal General Mission Over Appointment of Additional Secretaries for Work in the Field—Appropriations.

Gen. James F. Rusling made an eloquent plea yesterday afternoon for the union of two great branches of the Methodist Episcopal church. His speech was made at the closing session of the meeting of the general missionary committee in Christ church.

President Goucher of the Women's college of Baltimore had made a plan for an appropriation of $40,000 for the establishing of a publishing house at Shanghai, China. The plant is to be conducted jointly with the Methodist Episcopal church, south. Bishop Charles H. Fowler opposed the grant. He insisted that cooperation would bring everlasting trouble, and declared that there was room for competition among the 400,000,000 people in the flowery kingdom.

Then Gen. Rusling took the floor. His vigorous talk aroused the committee.

"I want to see this union with the south," he said. "I fought the south for four years, but I quit at Appomattox, and I want to see the two churches get together and make on great denomination. Let this union be the entering wedge."

Dr. Goucher's motion was carried.

The afternoon session was a lively one. A resolution authorizing the appointment of additional secretaries was finally adopted. The debate over it was enthusiastic. Before the discussion was at an end the paper bore faint resemblance to its original self. The extra secretaries will work in the field to increase the subscriptions to the work. An open door emergency committee is also to be organized.

Bishop Merrill opposed the appointment of more secretaries. He said conditions were such nowadays that every time anything extra was needed some special agent had to be hired to do it. He said that by and by the women would be raising all the money. They succeeded, because they had method, he said. Dr. W. F. Oldham, one of the secretaries, took the opposite view. He said that during the last year the collections had increased in the middle west and west, where the agents had been and decreased where they had not been.

An hour was consumed in discussing and approving applications for conditional appropriations for Asia, Africa and South America. When the figures had reached close to $500,000 Dr. James M. Buckley raised a cry of alarm and the committee reconsidered all the grants and then adopted a resolution presented by Dr. Buckley inviting liberality in missionary subscriptions and putting the matter into the hands of the board.

Home missions were the principal topic of discussion at the morning session. After much debate the following appropriations were made, by conferences: Baltimore, $506; California, $536; Cincinnati, $425; Colorado, $410; Des Moines, $300; Detroit, $350; East Ohio, $500; Genesee, $276; Minnesota, $240; New England (Chinese), $506; New England (Norwegian), $276; New England Southern (Italian), $550; New York (Chinese, etc.), $1,288; New York east (Brooklyn), $400; Newark, $713; Northern Minnesota, $322; Sioux City, Ia., $500; Philadelphia, $736; Pittsburgh, $360; Pittsburgh (Allegheny), $276; Rock River, $1,472; St. Louis, $600.

Resolutions of thanks were voted to the Rev. Dr. Henry Baker and the women of Christ church for the cordial and careful entertainment accorded the committee.

AMERICAN TOWN STARTED ABROAD

The British Westinghouse Company Is Astonishing the Natives.

WILL CONTAIN OVER 7,000 HOMES

Other Manufacturing Concerns Are Preparing to Build Plants There and Retail Stores Are Rapidly Going Up.

The activity of the Westinghouse interests in the erection of a great electrical works near Manchester, Lancashire, England, forms the nucleus of a new town which will soon be the home of about 7,000 workmen, who, with their families, will make the number of inhabitants of the mushroom town fully three times that number. The place is attracting wide attention in England because it is being erected strictly on the lines of an American town.

About 1,000 houses, mostly cottages, have already been erected and are being rapidly tenanted by artisans and others to be soon employed in the Westinghouse and other new works skirting the new town. Streets are being laid out after the American plan and instead of being named after the English fashion are being numbered consecutively. The streets and dwellings of the new Manchester colony will be lighted by electricity.

The new works of the British Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company, limited, will be ready for partial operation soon after the first of the new year. These works, when in full operation, will employ 4,000 men and boys. Americans have the work of building in charge, and the entire enterprise is a marvel with the native Britisher. The erection of the Westinghouse works will involve an investment of nearly £2,000,000, and a number of other new enterprises that are being launched at the same place run the entire investment much farther up in figures.

Other industrial concerns which will combine as the life of the new community include lard refineries, dynamo works, brick and tile works, electric light and power supply stations, timber yards and warehouses for cotton and other purposes. In the new town stores to retail all kinds of goods are springing up and other requisites of a town are being established.

Charged With Larceny.

John Delaney and William Kitchen were sent to jail last night by Alderman John Lowney to await a hearing on a charge of larceny made by Frank Freeman, who lost $125 while in their company. All of the men work on the Frick building.

"I PRESCRIBE PE-RU-NA"

For Catarrh," Says Dr. George Havener, of Washington, D. C.

George C. Havener, M. D., of Anacostia, D. C., writes:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen—"In my practice I have had occasion to frequently prescribe your valuable medicine, and have found its use beneficial, especially in cases of catarrh."—GEORGE C. HAVENER.

Many doctors and nurses prescribe Peruna in all catarrhal derangements. From the private prescription of the famous catarrh specialist, Dr. S. B. Hartman, Peruna has become of world-wide fame. As a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes it cures many diseases not commonly recognized as catarrh.

A DOCTOR'S PHILANTHROPY.

Thousands of Chronic Catarrh Patients Under Free Treatment.

Wherever Dr. Hartman is known the name of Peruna has become a household word. It is safe to say that no medicine in existence is used by so many families as Peruna. This is especially true of this time of the year, when the people are liable to catarrhal affections, coughs, colds, la grippe, etc.

Peruna has cured more cases of chronic catarrh than all other medicines combined. The great majority of those who use it buy the remedy themselves, use it according to directions, not even reporting their case to Dr. Hartman until after they are entirely cured.

But now that a limited number of cases can secure the personal attention of Dr. Hartman free of charge, it is not to be wondered at that many prefer to go to Peruna, as Peruna fails to cure catarrh when properly used.

Mr. George A. Gauvin, 18 Spring Garden, Halifax, N. S., is Vice President of the Halifax Camera Club, Lieutenant of Ramblers' Cycle Club, of Halifax. He writes:

"I feel it a duty as well as a pleasure to speak in high praise of Peruna, especially valuable in cases of catarrh, so frequent during the winter season in this country. I have used it myself with fine results; also in my family, and found that it has saved me many times its cost in doctor bills.

"Peruna is not only a cure for colds but a splendid preventive. I know of no medicine, patent or otherwise, which is so powerful to remove disease from the system."—Geo. A. Gauvin.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

O'Sullivan's
Heels of Happiness

"HOW I ENJOY THEM!"

These are common, household words and store talk at the purchase. Matrons, mothers and maids, nurses, waitresses, sweethearts, wives, governesses and housewives in all paths of life are enthusiastic in their praise, while the family physician, from a hygienic standpoint, commends their judgment.

If you have not tested them, you have cheated yourself of real joy. All shoe stores, 35¢ pair.

Do not be victimized by the fresh maker of imitations. They cost the same as O'Sullivan's—give dealers more profit—and do not fulfill the mission of O'Sullivan's.

Contagious Diseases—Five cases of typhoid fever, four of scarlet fever and eight of diphtheria were reported to the bureau of health yesterday.

Will Build New Church—The Presbyterian congregation of Lincoln place has purchased a lot on Haslett avenue and a church building will be erected on it in the near future.

Eight Hundred Idle—Eight hundred men are idle at the Republic Iron Works, South Side, as the result of the bursting of a steam pipe. It will take several days to make repairs.

Miners on Strike—The men of the mines at Riverview in the West Penn field, owned by Capt. Nelson Hicks, are on strike because of the discharge of a driver. The driver was active in organizing the men.

An All-Day Meeting—An all-day meeting of the Christian and Missionary Alliance will be held tomorrow in Carnegie music hall, Allegheny. The speakers are the Rev. Henry Wilson of New York and the Rev. Milton Bates.

Caught in the Rolls—Earnest Hagen died in the South Side hospital yesterday morning from injuries received while at work in the South Fifteenth street mills of the American Tin Plate Company. He was caught in a roll of red-hot steel.

Scalded by Coffee—Sarah E. Herman, the infant daughter of James F. Herman, a motorman residing at 7118 Bennett street, East End, died yesterday morning from shock due to burns. A pot of boiling coffee in some way fell on the baby.

Actions Were Too Wild—Florence Arthurs and Albert Vey of Allegheny were arrested in Millvale last evening on a charge of disorderly conduct. They rode up Grant street, Millvale, with drawn revolvers.

Arrests Ordered—The inquest into the death of William D. Young, who died in the Allegheny General hospital, September 13, was concluded yesterday. The jury recommended that the two negroes who assaulted and robbed Young be apprehended.

Students Will Gather—The 13th annual banquet and reunion of the Eldersridge Academy Old Students Association of Western Pennsylvania will be held at the Hotel Henry, November 29. A very interesting program has been prepared for the occasion.

Cash Register Stolen—The store of James McFerron & Co. in Beaver avenue, Allegheny, was entered by thieves early yesterday morning. The cash register was found by a policeman on the banks of the Ohio river at the foot of Washington street. It had been looted.

Detective Is Dying—Richard M. Trophy, a former member of the Pittsburgh detective force, is dying at his brother's home, Fourteenth and Pike streets. Seventeen years ago he entered the city's service as ordinance officer under Mayor Andrew Fulton.

Spark Started a Blaze—A spark from a locomotive on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad set fire to the roof of a house owned by Peter Hook in Baltimore street, Rankin, yesterday and before the blaze was extinguished damage to the extent of $100 was done.

Boys Are a Problem—Dr. A. B. Riker, president of Mt. Union college, will deliver his lecture "What Shall We Do With the Boys?" in Carnegie hall, Allegheny, Friday evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the Arch Street Methodist Episcopal church.

Anniversary Celebrated—The third anniversary of the opening of the East Liberty market was celebrated yesterday. An attractive program had been prepared, and the visitors were treated to numerous surprises. A concert by Rocereto's orchestra added greatly to the pleasure of the occasion.

Victim of Thieves—S. E. Lotter was found in the Diamond at an early hour yesterday morning suffering from a dose of knockout drops, supposedly given to him by thieves. His pockets had been rifled and $12 and his gold eyeglasses taken. On the left side of his head there was a long, ugly gash.

Overcoats Stolen—Two overcoats were stolen from the shoe shop of Henry Miller in Lacock street, Allegheny, yesterday about noon. The matter was reported to the police and Detectives Thomas Johnson and James A. Steele arrested William Woods, a resident of the Second ward, on suspicion.

Engineers Meet—Richard Hirsch read a paper on "Compressed Air Haulage Plants" at the regular monthly meeting of the Engineers' society in Penn avenue last night. Harry H. Anderson, John Hare, Frank W. Kennedy, Frederick Lichtenstein and Charles Worthington were elected to membership.

Grading Is Begun—Grading has started for the town site of Trafford Park, near Stewart station on the Pennsylvania railroad, where the new concentrated foundry operations of the Westinghouse companies will be established. The town will be ranged on a beautiful series of terraces skirting the Turtle creek valley.

Boys' Brigade Sunday—Sunday, November 24, will be "Boys' Brigade Sunday." The several companies will arrange for the morning of that day such divine services as they wish, but in the evening they are ordered to assemble in the Shady Avenue Baptist church at 7:30 sharp for a union service of the regiment.

Church Damaged—The Ninth United Presbyterian church, South Fourteenth and Bingham streets, was damaged by fire early yesterday morning to the extent of $6,000. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the overheating of some pipes between the floor and the roof of the Sunday school room. The loss is covered by insurance.

Money for the Memorial—Secretary W. W. Coiffile of the Western Pennsylvania branch of the McKinley National Memorial association is busy sending out circular letters to all the postmasters in the towns in his district explaining the movement and the part their towns are expected to take in raising the memorial fund.

Accused of Stealing—Kate Dobowich, an 18-year-old Slavish girl of Rankin, was given a hearing and held for court by Justice of the Peace G. H. Jaquay of Rankin, yesterday. It was alleged that she was caught in the act of stealing $26 from the trunk of a boarder in the house of James Orloff, where she was employed as a domestic.

Wants Bridge Plans—Elihu Root, secretary of war, has written to Director Bigelow asking for some of his plans and designs of the numerous bridges he has built about the city. The director said he understood the government intended to put up several handsome and serviceable bridges in Yellowstone park and he believed the designs were wanted for suggestions.

Received a Badge—Justice of the Peace Watson Antis of East Pittsburgh, one of the most prominent Odd Fellows in the Turtle creek valley, was tendered a reception and presented with a handsome veteran jewel by the members of St. John's lodge at East Pittsburgh last night. Mr. Antis has been a member of the order for 25 years and has served as secretary for 16 years.

Hardware Combination—An effort is being made in Homestead to consolidate all of the hardware stores in that borough into one firm, to be known as the Homestead Hardware Company. The stock of Baker & Oskin was purchased yesterday and it is stated that options are held on a number of the other stores. The enterprise is being backed by a number of prominent capitalists.

Boom in Swissvale—There is a good deal of rush and bustle at Swissvale at present. Work has been started on the new building for the National bank of Swissvale, capitalized at $100,000, and, in the meantime, the bank will occupy temporary quarters. The schools are overcrowded at present but it is expected that the new building at Monongahela and McClure avenues will be finished by January 1.

Want More Money—The wage committee of the American Flint Glass Workers' union has arranged to meet the electric bulb manufacturers in Cleveland, O., on Saturday to readjust the wage scale. The workers will demand advances ranging from 3 to 8 per cent. The bulb manufacturers are the Libbey Glass Company, Toledo, O.; Fostoria Glass Company, Fostoria, O., and the Phoenix Glass Company, Monaca, Pa.

Arrested in Franklin—Chief of Police M. L. Rice of Franklin, Pa., yesterday telegraphed Constable Livingstone of Squire Creelman's office, Wilkinsburg, that he had arrested Scott L. Nickerson of Wilkinsburg, who is wanted for desertion and non-support. Nickerson left his wife and child six years ago, and nothing had been heard of him until a few days ago, when Mrs. Nickerson ascertained that he was living in Franklin.

Will See the Holy Land—A number of Braddock people are making preparations for a trip to the Holy Land next February. The Rev. E. M. Bowman, pastor of Calvary Presbyterian church, is making arrangements for the party from Braddock, which will number about ten people. The party from the western portion of the state will be in charge of the Rev. E. M. Wallace of Greensburg, a former consul to Jerusalem. The trip will be made on the Celtic and will last three months.

Fire Department Started—Munhall, Allegheny county's youngest borough, promises to outclass many of the older boroughs in the way of improvements. A meeting of the fire company of the borough was held yesterday and steps taken to form a paid fire department. A hose truck was purchased from Homestead which will be used temporarily and arrangements completed for the purchase of horses. The borough council recently decided to build a town hall, and plans for this building are now being prepared.

Baptist Union to Meet—The annual meeting of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Baptist union will be held Thursday night at the Fourth Avenue Baptist church. The chief speaker will be a favorite preacher of Toronto, Canada, who has recently been persuaded to come to the Euclid Avenue Baptist church of Cleveland, the Rev. C. A. Eaton, D. D., and this will be his first visit to Pittsburgh. The other speakers will be President J. H. Stauff of the union and Dr. W. A. Stanton of the Shady avenue church.

Must Have More Room—The McKeesport board of health has inaugurated a campaign against the overcrowding of boarding houses. There is an ordinance prohibiting the maintenance of a lodging house or boarding house where there is less than 600 cubic feet of air space to each occupant. At recent fires in the district populated by foreigners it developed that as many as 200 persons made their homes in a rickety tenement of 14 rooms. From 40 to 50 inmates in a seven or eight room dwelling is no uncommon thing. The ordinance will be rigidly enforced.

Call Is Accepted—The Rev. N. D. Hynson of Manasquan, N. J., in a letter to the congregation of the First Presbyterian church of Homestead yesterday, accepted the call to the pastorate of the church which was tendered him at a recent meeting of the congregation. The Rev. Mr. Hynson will commence his work at Homestead the first Sunday in January, 1902. The officers of the church are now considering the advisability of erecting a new church on property which the congregation owns in Ninth avenue. The present plans call for a $30,000 building. The matter of a new church will be taken up after Mr. Hynson assumes charge.

CATTLE FIRM FAILS.

Involuntary Bankruptcy Proceedings Begun Against Tamblyn & Tamblyn of Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 19.—Involuntary bankruptcy proceedings were instituted in the federal court this afternoon against Tamblyn & Tamblyn, a live stock commission firm at the Kansas City stock exchange. The petition states that the firm's liabilities are $250,000. It is filed by the Llano Live Stock Company and the Texas Cattle Raisers' association. No assets are given.

The firm's troubles began about a month ago, when a large loan was negotiated on a big string of cattle in Colorado.

EASY FOOD.

Ready for Instant Use Without Cooking.

Almost everyone likes a cereal food of some kind at breakfast and supper, but the ordinary way of cooking cereals results in a pasty mass that requires strong digestive power to get along with, and if not properly digested, the raw mass goes down into the intestinal tract where gas is generated and all sorts of troubles set up.

Everyone knows that good food properly digested keeps the body well, while poor food, or even food of good quality that is poorly prepared and not digested, is sure to bring on some kind of disease.

The easiest food to digest in this line is Grape-Nuts, made from wheat and barley, and cooked thoroughly at the factory, some ten or twelve hours being consumed in the different processes of preparation. The food, therefore, is ready for instant service and the starch has been changed to Grape Sugar, so that it is predigested and ready for almost immediate assimilation.

Miss R. E. Phillips, a young lady at 3356 Vernon ave., Chicago, writes that she suffered for years from indigestion and dyspepsia from the use of food that was not suitable to her powers of digestion.

She says: "I began using Grape-Nuts, and I confess to having had a prejudice, at first, and was repeatedly urged before I finally decided to try the food, but I have not known what indigestion is since using it, and have never been stronger or in better health. I have increased in weight from 109 to 124 pounds."

People can be well, practically without cost, if they will adopt scientific food and leave off the indigestible sort.

Grape-Nuts Food is sold at all first-class groceries. It is crisp and delicious to the taste. It should be served exactly as it comes from the package, without cooking, except in cases where it is made up into puddings and other desserts.

TWELVE PAGES

National Policy.

Notable addresses were made at the annual banquet last evening of the New York Chamber of Commerce. Secretary Hay, as the guardian of the good relations of the United States with foreign nations, dwelt glowingly on the good intentions of the great American republic toward all the world—toward every nation, weak or strong. Hardly less important were the addresses made by Gov.-elect Cummins, of Iowa, and United States Senator McLaurin of South Carolina. The one voiced the enlightened sentiment of the great west, the other expressed the best thought of the new south.

Secretary Hay, speaking, it may be said for the nation, made it clear that the policy that animates the United States in its relations with other peoples and governments, is the one that finds its best expression in the golden rule. "The briefest expression of our rule of conduct," he said, "is, perhaps, the Monroe doctrine and the golden rule." But the Monroe doctrine, it is not to be forgotten, is merely the golden rule turned in our own direction, reading, "Do unto us as you would have us do unto you." Our peaceful aims and the openness and achievements of our diplomacy were the burden of Secretary Hay's remarks, carrying a message of good will first, to our sister republic of this continent, and then to all the world. His assurances concerning President Roosevelt's disposition were not needed to convince Americans, but will undoubtedly be welcome at foreign capitals, where the chief magistrate is an unknown quantity. The cabinet met yesterday to consider the president's forthcoming message to congress. Nothing specific is disclosed at Washington concerning its contents, but Secretary Hay may be considered to have shed light on some important work that is cut out for congress when he said:

"We frankly confess we seek the friendship of all the powers; we want to trade with all peoples; we are conscious of resources that will make our commerce a source of advantage to them and of profit to ourselves."

In harmony with this, Gov.-elect Cummins, fresh from the hands of the people, made it clear that popular sentiment is framing a demand on congress that, while no needed protection to American industry shall be abated, steps shall be taken to adjust our trade relations so that American markets may be extended for the benefit of the whole people, producer and consumer alike. His ideas and the ideas of Senator McLaurin concerning the "Twentieth Century Monroe doctrine," which he prefers to name the "McKinley doctrine," deserve the fuller treatment that will be given them later. Like the convention now in session at Washington, they are an expression of thoughts in the minds of the people, somewhat confused at present, but certain to be clarified by agitation and discussion. The problem involved is difficult in detail and worthy of the best effort of our national statesmen.

The Gold Exports.

It is owing to the large prosperity of the United States that the news that about $10,000,000 in gold had been engaged for shipment this week to Europe seems to have caused hardly a flutter in financial circles. The Wall street market was not adversely affected by the proposed export of the precious metal, though the bear element started a raid that was effectually checked by information that a considerable part of the shipment for Thursday's steamers had been canceled. The fact is the position of the United States treasury is exceptionally strong and a considerable amount of gold can be spared for the use of Europe, which is in apparent need of it. Not only is the treasury strong, but the business of the whole country is on a firm foundation. The little attention paid to the news of the gold shipments is proof that business men and manufacturers are too busy adding to the national prosperity to concern themselves with matters that are of purely speculative interest. There are times when gold exports are a serious matter, but this is not one of them.

An Incredible Story.

The story that comes from Amsterdam, representing the Zulus in South Africa as about to espouse the cause of the Boers and take the field against the British, should have little or no basis of fact. If the natives really are about to ally themselves with the Dutchmen of the Transvaal and of the Orange, they must be possessed of exceedingly short memories. The natives of Africa have been treated by the Boers, through many long years, in a way which could never compel their friendship, even if it did not win their everlasting hatred. Authorities are strong in their testimony that the African natives never had any rights which the Boers felt bound to respect. They may not love the British, and they may be perfectly willing to see British rule broken, but that they would, in any considerable numbers, render any aid to the Boers, is inconceivable.

The Amsterdam story is discredited to some extent by its further announcement that moderate Boers in Holland's capital declare that Botha would be the last man to avail himself of Kaffir aid, but that, on the contrary, in case of a general revolt of South African blacks, the Boers would fight with the British against this menace.

Vitiated Remedies.

The first reports of the fatalities from tetanus in St. Louis following the use of anti-toxin serum for diphtheria aroused the suspicion that there had been carelessness in the preparation of the remedy and developments have confirmed this view of the lamentable affair. The coroner's investigation has resulted in a verdict that the St. Louis health department was negligent, and that the serum was obtained from a horse which was suffering from lockjaw. The mystery is thus cleared up, but there is a heavy load of blame resting upon those responsible for the deaths brought about by carelessness. It is more than likely that investigation will also disclose negligence in the preparation of the vaccine virus that has caused the cases of lockjaw in the eastern part of this state and in New Jersey, and which will further emphasize the necessity of the greatest care and vigilance, so that the remedy shall be a real one and not worse than the disease it is designed to prevent.

Lockjaw followed the administration of anti-toxin to seven children in St. Louis, and every case proved fatal. In Camden nine cases of lockjaw, seven of which have resulted fatally, developed after persons had been vaccinated; a Bristol (Pa.) boy died in Philadelphia from the same cause; at Atlantic City a 9-year-old girl who had recently been vaccinated succumbed to lockjaw, and at Bridgeton, N. J., a young woman is reported paralyzed as a result of vaccination. This is certainly a startling array of fatalities from the use of remedial agents or preventives. It would be a great pity and a cause for serious concern were the opinions to obtain general acceptance that the remedies are worse than the diseases, for diphtheria has largely lost its terror since anti-toxin came into use as a remedy, and the history of smallpox shows the wonderful success resulting from vaccination as a preventive.

Justice for Evildoers.

Leaden-heeled justice with sure step is overtaking the gambling places and speakeasies of Allegheny. Property owners and residents of the city will petition the district attorney, and that official, acting on the information laid before him, will proceed against them in court. The Gazette has shown the way by turning on the light, and the people have taken courage to go ahead to rid themselves of the evils that have afflicted them. They are further encouraged by the knowledge that when the district attorney takes hold of anything it is in no half-hearted manner. The keepers of the dens have taken alarm in advance of legal prosecutions and the hearty co-operation of the decent people with the district attorney will result in a general cleaning up of the afflicted districts.

The Latest Biddie Sensation.

The latest story told concerning the Biddie brothers, under sentence of death for the murder of Thomas Kahney, assumes that if a request that they be executed on separate dates is acceeded to by the governor, the one designated as the first to suffer the penalty for the crime will make a statement exonerating the other. The story does not tell that either of the brothers desires to be first to ascend the scaffold, that apparently being left to the lottery of fate and the will of the executive. But the one drawing the first prize of death is to make his statement before the drop falls and the other is to be the beneficiary. Whether there is truth in the matter or whether it is the fanciful invention of some romancer (not of the newspaper reporters, but of some one more or less interested in the Biddies) there is no reason why the governor should fix separate dates for the executions. The Biddie brothers were fairly tried and convicted. There has been no undue haste in the arrangements for their final punishment. They have had ample opportunity to make an honest statement, if anything has been left unsaid, and there is yet abundance of time for a revelation. However, the story is merely in the nature of a rumor, and if it is well founded the scheme will be spoiled by the publicity given it.

Much in a Name.

When the immortal Shakespeare propounded his now famous inquiry, "What's in a name?" the civilized world knew little, if anything, about Indian nomenclature, and there was general agreement that there wasn't much in a name. Were Shakespeare and his cotemporaries to come back to earth today they would learn, by reading the newspapers, that there can be a great deal more in a name than they ever imagined possible, and it is likely that their eyes would bulge in astonishment when they read that the state wardens of Massachusetts "have prohibited fishing in Lake Chargoggagoggmanchauggagoggoggachaubunagungamaugg until the first day of next June, and only on three days a week until the following November."

It will strike the average reader that there is entirely too much in the name of this Massachusetts lake, the pronunciation of which is liable to seriously affect the jaws of those who essay the task. There are many Indian names worthy of preservation, but the one referred to is not included in that class. In the interest of morals and physical welfare it would be wise to call it Lake Char, and let it go at that.

As Might Be Expected.

The Philadelphia Record would be pleased, it declares, to have the Republican organization read out of the party those persons not Democrats who have been associating themselves with Democratic efforts to defeat Republican state and local tickets. This is not surprising. The Record is a Democratic paper. As such it naturally favors division, secession and rebellion in the Republican ranks. The Democratic party is weak of itself in Pennsylvania. A policy that tends to weaken the Republican organization tends to increase the relative strength of the Democratic organization. Why shouldn't the Record be in favor of Republicans who support Republican tickets reading clear out of the party those erring brethren who have been from time to time misled?

S. B. Harbison's gift of $50,000 to the Western Theological seminary to be added to its general endowment and makes the seminary's total endowment $800,000. It comes as a pleasant surprise, and has the added merit in the eyes of the trustees of being given without conditions. It may, therefore, be used for any purpose to which the trustees see fit to apply it in the proper training of young men for the ministry. Mr. Harbison has set a good example. Money given for endowment of educational institutions is well bestowed. It does good in the present and lays up treasure for the use of posterity.

A Des Moines corresponden has rearranged the cabinet so as to make Senator Allison secretary of the treasury. This Iowa man is usurping a prerogative of the Washington correspondents.

Only one gold medal was bestowed for heroism in the naval part of the war between the United States and Spain, but many golden deeds were done.

First Roosevelt 1904 Club.

From the Denver Republican.

A movement to help secure the nomination of President Roosevelt in 1904 was launched last evening by a number of leading Republicans of this county, and a permanent organization was formed. The membership of the club was limited to Arapahoe county, but similar clubs will be organized in every county in the state and a central organization will then be formed.

The organizers dwelt upon the good that would accrue to the Republican party in Colorado from the spread of such an organization, which could systematically cover each county and by the prestige and popularity attached to President Roosevelt's name and strength to the party. Many men high in Republican councils were present and all indorsed the movement as containing nothing not of benefit to the Republican cause. The officers are: President, John W. Springer; first vice president, Gen. Irving Hale; second vice president, ex-Gov. James B. Grant; secretary, Robert J. Pitkin; treasurer, F. J. Chamberlin.

Bryan's Leadership.

From the New York Commercial.

It is true, as a country newspaper says, that Mr. Bryan "is still to be recognized as the leader of the Democratic party, so far as it has any leader," and it might have added, so far as there is any party.

HORSE SHOWAND OTHER TOPICS OF GOTHAM GOSSIP

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Nov. 19.

This was children's day at the horse show. When society has appeared in Madison Square garden, on the first day, and given formal approval to the arrangements made by the managers of the show, the next thing is to provide entertainment for the youngsters. The American "kid" is a great institution. He demands recognition at the horse show, as well as elsewhere, and the managers of this important annual function know better than to slight young Master Multi-Millionaire, or young Mistress Vere de Vere. So today we had the Shetlands in the ring. The toy horses ran around as briskly as usual and the judges hung ribbon upon them and gave entire satisfaction to the youthful spectators, who were massed in terraces of pink cheeks, sparkling eyes and bobbing heads around the arena. There are always plenty of contents on the exhibits. The spectators are there to express opinions, and if one is not horse-wise at this show, that is the use of going there at all? But the dainty little girls and aggressive-faced boys from Millionaires' row and other aristocratic neighborhoods in New York, and from the swell localities in outside cities, had more to say about the shetlands, and the yearling colts that were brought out immediately afterward, than any of the adults. Children's day is expected to be an occasion of very free criticism, and this was no exception to the rule. The judging of some of the horses and other classes that would appeal to the little ones was, of course, set for the afternoon. There are a great many young ladies and gentlemen, some of them not in their teens, at the evening sessions of the horse show; but it is a painful truth that most children want sleep more than horses after dinner. So in many a handsome bedroom in the swell hotels, there were sleeping children, their slumbers carefully watched by white-aproned, white-capped maids, while the excitement at Madison Square garden was at its height this evening. It was children's day, but the night was for their elders.

The Fashionable Visage This Week.

The horse show face is powerfully in evidence in Broadway this week. Usually it goes with horse show toggery and a bulldog-looking ridING whip, but occasionally it is seen attached to a person who wears nothing but the face to indicate his interest in the proceedings at Madison Square garden. To prepare a horse show face, you must first (if it is a masculine visage) shave it to the utmost extreme without actually removing the epidermis. This will give it a stiff texture, so that it will crack when you smile. But as it is not etiquette for the wearer of a horse show face to smile, this will not cause trouble. It is in the expression, something between that of a supreme court justice and a plunger at the races, that the distinctive nature of the horse show face consists. Sometimes its wearer happens to be a woman. All she has to do is to put on a bicycle face—if the automobile has not caused her to forget that there was ever such an antiquated thing as a bicycle—and blend it with the regular golf face she uses on the links.

This Snow official.

New York had its "first fall of snow" again today. This is the third within the last week or two, but is the first that has obtained official recognition. There were only a few flakes today, but the clouds hanging in the sunlight, and which were not heavy enough to darken the earth, suggested that there was more snow in the air, and people have been talking about a real, old-fashioned Thanksgiving as among the possibilities, with snow on the ground and sleighing, as they always do at this time of the year. We may have snow at Thanksgiving, but today's flurry can hardly be taken as a strong indication.

Still A Horse Show.

The horse show is not different in a general way from those of former years. The directors declare that they do not find it necessary to change it to any great extent. One of them is quoted as saying this afternoon: "Thank Heaven, we haven't had to turn the horse show into a wild west circus to bring out the public fondness for the equine. I will recommend at the next meeting that a merry-go-round, furnished with hobby-horses, be set up in the basement for the amusement of the tired folk who complain that the horse show is always the same old thing. What do they expect it to be?"

Carnegie the Most Honored Guest.

It may not be generally known in Pittsburgh that the most conspicuous figure at the luncheon given in honor of the hundredth birthday of the Evening Post in the Equitable building on Saturday afternoon was Andrew Carnegie. Every speaker made some reference to the great philanthropist. Abraham S. Hewitt, for instance, said that "the spirit of the afternoon appears to be to utter epitaphs. But one man here, I hope, will be preserved from his epitaph until his last cent expires. I refer to the chief librarian of the universe, Andrew Carnegie." Archbishop Corrigan had his little good-natured fling at Mr. Carnegie, when he said: "As a churchman, I rejoice in joining with the lord rector of St. Andrew's in commending," etc. Mr. Carnegie laughed heartily at these allusions, and, incidentally, made by far the best speech of the afternoon on his own account.

Money In Horses.

Another indication that the horse is king just now: A prominent horse-dealing firm in this city has sent out 20 tons of catalogues for their sale of horses in Madison Square Garden next week. The postage on the catalogues mailed exceeded $1,400, and for each of those delivered by hand the cost is 52 cents. It should be stated, however, that each catalogue has 1,000 pages. The sales at the Garden will extend over nine days, and the rental of the Garden is $1,000 a day. This indicates that there must be a great deal of valuable horseflesh disposed of if the firm is to cover its expenses and make a fair profit.

Sun's Impending Change of Ownership.

There is a rumor in newspaper circles that the New York Sun may be sold before long. The story is that several of the biggest men in the Democratic party in this city are desirous of obtaining control of the paper, with the idea of conducting it as a vigorous Democratic organ. It is also said that negotiations have been in progress for several days, and that at this date it looks as if the deal will go through. If it does, the Sun will not be a Tammany organ. The purpose is not to defend Tammany, or to make comparisons between the present municipal administration and that which will begin on the 1st of January, but to hammer away at everything that seems to be deserving of criticism from a Democratic point of view, in the hope of electing a local Democratic ticket complete in 1903 and a national ticket in the following year. There has been contemplated a purchase of the New York News by the same element that is casting its eyes on the Sun; but the News has been a Tammany organ, and it does not reach the "silk-stocking" voters, so the leaders of the Democracy have decided that they do not want the News. I could give the names of the men who are likely to buy the Sun, but as the deal is still in embryo the mention of their names would be simply to invite denials.

An English Judge of Horseflesh.

The important man in New York this week is the judge at the horse show. There are a number of them, but each one has his particular following which is prepared to swear by his judgment, and it is said that no one else in the country could, would, might or should decide upon the merits of a horse with such precision and incontrovertible acumen. One of the kings of the arena is the famous English judge, F. Vivian Gooch. He is the man, who, in judging saddle horses, rides each one of his favorites, thus giving them a personal test from the saddle. There are Americans who know as much about horses as Mr. Gooch, probably; but it is beyond question that the opinion of this expert from across the water is treated with respect by scores of men who themselves have gained reputations as judges of equine merit.

Young Vanderbilt as a Horseman.

One of the most popular horsemen on the tanbark at the garden so far is Alfred G. Vanderbilt. This young head of the house of Vanderbilt has spent so much time handling four-in-hands for the last 12 months that it is natural for him to take a prominent part in the horse show. When he drove his team around the arena there was a burst of applause that was meant as much for the young fellow on the box as for the magnificent animals he guided apparently without exertion. Whatever else may be said about young Vanderbilt (and no one denies that he is a good specimen of young American manhood) he certainly can drive. He finds that occupation pleasanter than sitting in a close office poring over account books and ledgers, which, perhaps, is the reason we do not hear so much about his labors in the office of the Grand Central station as we did a few weeks after the death of his father. He got honorable mention for his four-in-hand.

Scare for Coming Administration.

One of the evening papers makes the startling assertion that "When Mayor Low takes office on January 1 he will find himself officially penniless. The present administration has run the city into debt as far as the law allows. No money for improvements will be available until July 1, 1902." These scares will be frequent for the next four or five weeks.

Croker Tells Where He Got It.

Richard Croker today answered the oft-repeated, wearisome question, "Where did you get it?" He said he got it out of two legitimate business enterprises in which he is interested. He says, moreover, that the people who have charged him with dishonesty and corrupt political dealings have not a word to say in substantiation of their charges, now that election is over. It is so seldom that Croker will reply to any animadversions on his own conduct that his outburst this afternoon at the Democratic club was a surprise, indeed.

Grumbling About Low's Choice.

According to Democratic gossip, Mayor-elect Low's appointment of George L. Rives to be corporation counsel is very unpopular. Mr. Rives is a very wealthy man and has been prominent in exclusive society for a number of years, and it is asserted by the rank and file that such a man is not likely to be as hard working and as much in touch with the common people as a man not so highly favored in this world's luxuries. Mr. Low does not talk about it, and Mr. Rives appears to think his appointment a wise one. It may be that the dissatisfaction with Mr. Rives is all in Tammany imagination. But that is the gossip, and I give it as such.

The Horse Show Coat.

Reminders of the horse show will exist in New York long after the end of this week. They will consist in the wearing of tan-colored coats by men and women alike, cut in horsey shapes and trimmed with big pearl buttons and other appurtenances favored by coachmen and grooms. In all the drygoods stores in Sixth avenue and Fourteenth street the show windows are set out with large coats of this style, and they are blossoming in the streets as well. Of course the purchasers expect to wear them all winter; and thus it may be truly said that the horse show sets the fashion for the season in outer garments for a certain element of the population. The colored swells in particular take to the horse show coat with joyful eagerness.

Turkey Comes Higher This Year.

Now that Thanksgiving is approaching, the New York housekeeper is confronted by the dismal fact that the necessaries of Thanksgiving dinner are higher than last year, and much higher than four or five years ago. Still, times are good, and the chances are that the ordinary New Yorker will get his turkey and mince pie just as he always contrives to get it somehow on the great American holiday.

Romance of the Engagement of the Archduchess Elizabeth of Austria The Wedding Will Be a Gorgeous Affair.

BY THE DUCHESSE DE BELMERE.

There is a pleasing note of romance in the engagement of Archduchess Elizabeth of Austria to Prince Otto of Windisch-Gratz. Last year at her "coming out" ball, when Princess Elizabeth in a simple white gown of silk so charmed all present, she met Prince Otto. It was a case of love at first sight. The archduchess, however, did not dare to breathe her secret. The emperor had hurried up her debut that it might be made before her mother's "mesalliance" with Count Lonyay, making no secret that the motive for so doing was a more brilliant match for his granddaughter. The girl knew this. She also knew that the emperor was feeling too sore over the contemplated match of his daughter-in-law, and that of Archduke Ferdinand with Countess Chotek, to consider her case, and wisely resolved to await a more propitious moment. It was noted, however, and by the emperor too, that at all the private balls held in her highness' apartments Prince Otto invariably figured among the guests. It was then that his majesty decided to hasten matters a bit. Match after match was proposed and rejected. First came Duke Robert of Wurtemburg, whom the naive princess ruled from the lists on account of age. Next came Don Jaime, son of Don Carlos, poor in worldly goods, but with the laurels of Mukden to lay at her feet. The archduchess dismissed them all under some pretext. It was not until the eleventh suitor, Duke Ulric, was proposed that she summoned up courage to make a clean breast of the matter to her august grandparent. The emperor endeavored to talk her out of it. He declined to give an answer one way or the other, but it was arranged that the question should hang over until her 18th birthday. If her highness were still of the same mind the emperor would again consider it. This date was reached September 2, when another interview was held, resulting in the announcement of the archduchess' engagement to Prince Otto.

If born outside the royal purple, Prince Otto, nevertheless, comes of excellent stock. The Windisch-Graz family originally came from Germany and settled in Styria about 800 years ago. On his father's side of the house the young fiance can claim equality of birth with the reigning German families, while his mother's traces back directly to King Ladislaus of Hungary. His father, Prince Ernst-Ferdinand, is a retired colonel of the Austrian army, an extensive landowner, a well known numismatist, and only the other day was appointed to the dignity of privy councilor. Prince Otto, who is 28 years of age, is described as the pure type of an Austrian cavalry officer—tall, fair, with features and complexion that would almost suggest effeminacy, highly educated and a superb horseman. For the last two years he has been a student at the war academy, but at present he is serving as lieutenant in the Uhlans. Francis-Joseph has changed materially since the unhappy death of Empress Elizabeth. His lenience and forbearance have often been the marvel of his court. Recently he has sanctioned matters which he would have violently denounced in earlier days. Though personally much opposed to Princess Elizabeth's marriage, he is making the best of it, and doing everything in his power to render the young couple happy. The bride is to be given a gorgeous trousseau and handsome settlement, to say nothing of the family jewels and estate which will form part of the imperial wedding present.

There is one little branch in the Windisch-Graz family tree, however, to which his majesty takes decided exception. The fact is that his granddaughter by this marriage becomes an actress' niece. Prince Otto's son Windisch-Graz, a member of the elder branch of the family, married the celebrated stage dancer, Marie Tagliori, who created such a sensation in Paris 50 years ago. It was she who inspired some of Heine's finest poems, and suggested to Villemessant, founder of Figaro, the idea of naming a journal "La Sylphide." About this time Prince Joseph, then chamberlain of the emperor and field marshal in the army, fell in love with her over the footlights. Handsome Marie would not listen to the royal proposition of a morganatic marriage. She insisted on the title, coronet and other princely honors. Finally the disconsolate prince returned to Vienna, only to follow the actress five weeks later in a German tour and marry her in Berlin. Now legally Princess von Windisch-Gratz in every sense of the word, the former actress was clever enough to have herself recognized.

PERSONAL.

W. T. Hancock of the Gulf air lift at the Griswold. "The Beaumont oil has helped the railroads in many ways," said he. "Texas is being settled and thousands of emigrants are coming in. The crops have been very good and the farmers will reap 75 per cent of their crop. Cotton reports throughout the state are very favorable and the output will be very large. Freight congestion is very bad, but conditions are improving. In the Texas oil fields much of the fluid is going to waste owing to railway congestion."

General Willis J. Hulings met Senor Jose Arce of Mexico last night and completed the deal with him for 5,000 acres of land owned by the Pruedcian members on the west coast of Mexico to complete the Miller railroad in that country. The land lies near the city of Acapulco and was confiscated by President Diaz in 1867. The deeds for this land will be passed by Jose Arce, its purchaser, on December 31. The deal is said to involve $500,000. The acreage will be developed after the sale is made.

E. R. Thomas, president of the Evansville & Terre Haute railroad, went west over the Baltimore & Ohio last night. He said: "Pittsburgh is branching out and will soon be a city of skyscrapers. The Frick building leads in architecture in the east."

Y. Ohki of Japan, but for some time of New York, is a guest at the Duquesne. He has been the Japanese consul at New York since 1899, and is passing through the city on his way to Seattle, Wash.

DO NOT WANT TO VOTE.

Wisconsin Women Show Little Interest in the Suffrage Question.

From the Milwaukee (Wis.) Sentinel.

The eighteenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Woman's Suffrage association in Racine brought together only a small number of delegates. Even the most sanguine leaders of the cause of "woman's rights" are compelled to acknowledge that in this state little interest is manifested in equal suffrage. Because all the old arguments have been used in vain, there seems to be nothing for the organization to do but to continue the agitation patiently and persistently.

There are now four states in the union where equal suffrage has been established. These states, Wyoming, Colorado, Utah and Idaho, have furnished important lessons to all who oppose the acceptance of woman as a political equal. None of the terrible things predicted in case women were given the ballot has come to pass, but on the other hand, the women voters have not accomplished as much as was expected of them. Equal suffrage has proved that men and women are, after all, actuated by the same impulses. The states in which women have the ballot have continued to prosper and to progress in about the same manner that they would have improved and developed if women had not been given the right to vote.

It is impossible to overturn political conditions, but it is likely that what is known as the "unknown quantity" among the voters in equal suffrage states will gradually bring about certain improvements. The members of the Wisconsin Equal Suffrage association have, however, no real need to be discouraged. The history of the four western states that have given the ballot to women shows the concession has been made in obedience to a general demand. When the great majority of women in Wisconsin are convinced that they ought to have the right of voting doubtless they will obtain the privilege they desire. At present they are too busy along practical lines of work to pay much attention to the question of suffrage. Indirectly they are accomplishing quite as much as they would if they could go to the polls and there assert their right to govern as well as to be governed. What the leaders in the Wisconsin Equal Suffrage society consider apathy is only preoccupation. The women of the state through their clubs or other organizations are a power for good. They have many of the same aims as their more aggressive sisters. Their methods differ, that is all.

SONG OF THE HORSE.

The swiftest trolley often slips the wire,
An automobile balks before the hills,
The bicycle drops, faint, with wilted tire,
Your engines burst and send a shock that kills.
I have a patience and a human will;
I have gone man's gait since ancient days;
I have borne him where war's mighty thunders clash;
I share the toil when he the furrow lays.

With my sniffing and my whinny and my neigh
I can answer to the very soul of man;
In peace his mate before old Pharaoh's day
In war his comrade since the world began.

When the bugle calls the charge in battle line;
When my saddle-girth is tightened till it cracks;
When I cringe the bit and dodge the bullet's whine
And my iron heels prick deep in restless tracks.
Like a tempest driving ocean on the rocks—
With a hurricane of hoofs along the field.
When the flashing sabres cross in awful shocks,
I am Mars himself, with mighty spear and shield.

Oh, my leaping, dashing, surging, tearing bounds
Till my sweaty sides are flecked with snowy foam!
Then I prance where victor's trumpet sounds,
Or slowly take an empty saddle home.

When ten thousand eyes are straining at the race,
When the jockey swings to rhythm, as I leap;
When like steel my muscles spring with easy grace,
And the landscape speeds away as on we sweep;
When it's neck and neck as down the stretch we rush,
And the riders clutch the mane and ply the lash;
When o'er the grand stand falls a sudden hush,
Till the winner's name is shouted with a crash.

Oh, the glowing, panting eager, throbbing run!
Oh, the struggle! Oh, the joy to win the goal!
I'm a thousand chariot races joined in one.
I am all that ever thrilled a sportsman's soul.

Let the automobiles whirl past prince's gates;
I have carried Cæsar through the streets of Rome.
Let you engines rattle past your greed created;
I have shared the daring Cossack's nomadic home.
I'm the spirit of the Arab on the plains.
I'm a part of mighty deeds that kings have done.
In knightly joust and tourney with medieval chains,
A lady's smile has told my lance has won.

With my prancing and my dancing and my neigh,
I have answered to the very soul of man.
I have gloried in his glory since Creation's day.
I have been his comrade since the world began.

WHAT THE EDITORS ARE DISCUSSING.

THE STATE PRESS.

The Sunday edition of The Pittsburgh Gazette is a good one.—Altoona Gazette.

To attack any part of the tariff would be to open the door for a general Democratic assault upon the chief source of the country's prosperity.—Titusville Herald.

It was a wise judge who decided in Kansas the other day that it is not a disturbance of the peace to kiss a woman in public. It is more than likely that the disturbance unusually depends upon the woman.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

The Tribune is convinced that so long as leading Republicans in this city go about with hatchets in their hands seeking the scalps of other Republicans, it is going to be a difficult task to elect Republican candidates here.—Altoona Tribune.

Clearfield county is developing much more rapidly than either of the three others composing this new congress district; this is a Republican county; the first congressman will be a Republican; he ought to be a Clearfield county Republican.—DuBois Courier.

It is expected that, by next summer, two more potteries, a stamping works and a rolling mill will have been added to the sum of our active industries. The pessimist is out of place in New Castle just now. Our population will reach 50,000 within the next five years.—New Castle Herald.

The movement of the real estate exchange to procure an improved car service on the United Traction Company's lines between this city and Wilmerding mornings and evenings for the benefit of the scores of workmen who now travel back and forth to their places of employment is worthy of the best efforts of the exchange.—McKeesport News.

Sarah Grand's declaration that man is happier than woman has excited considerable discussion. She bases the statement on the ground that man has learned to ignore worry, while woman frets and fumes to an unreasoning extent, thereby rendering herself unnecessarily miserable. There may be something in this argument.—Scranton Republican.

Unfavorable weather conditions seemingly have had no effect on the building boom that struck Washington some months ago. The demand for residences is so great that contractors feel that they are in duty bound to push forward regardless of the elements. Many incoming families must be provided for by the beginning of next year.—Washington Observer.

We believe that within two years and possibly within half that time, it will be possible for one to get on a trolley car in Kittanning and get off in Pittsburgh. But when such a thing is possible the road will be owned and run by the Union Traction Company. It would not be surprising to find the same company operating a road between Kittanning and Butler within that time.—Kittanning Times.

Fayette county justice has again struck a snag at Harrisburg. True, no death sentence in Fayette county has yet been commuted, but in several instances the pardon board has dallied and respite after respite has been granted until the wholesome effect which comes from a prompt and inexorable execution of the law has been lost. Very many murders have been committed in Fayette county within the past few years, but hardly an execution has followed except after a protracted interference at Harrisburg. The state authorities should cease holding up the Fayette county courts.—Uniontown News Standard.

IN THE SMALL TOWNS.

Every once in a while the neighborhood papers poke fun a Corry, but just the same the girls up there sometimes have their first sleigh ride before the "frost is on the pumpkin" down here.—Franklin News.

There are still a few large pumpkins. Albert Saires raised one weighing 100 pounds which can be seen in John Sairs' window. "Jakey" considers this one the prize winner of the season.—Lock Haven Democrat.

It recently cost a Philadelphia man $25 to hold a girl's hand. He got off easy. Punxsutawney men have held good hands which cost them more than that when it was discovered that another fellow had a better one.—Punxsutawney Republican.

An immense owl is a curiosity that has drawn many during the past week to the store of C. W. Bollinger on North Fourth street. His owlship developed a strong appetite for chicken and was captured in a trap near Cochrans Mills two weeks ago. It is a fine specimen.—Apollo News-Record.

A country bulldog came into town on Thursday evening. A yellow dog belonging to Frank Mutt sassed the bulldog, which immediately tightened. It took 300 people an hour to separate them, and the yaller dog was short on ears but long on wisdom. He will think twice before tackling a bulldog after this.—Morgantown New Dominion.

Just as we expected and announced some time since, the celebrated Maj. Fields would be back in Kingwood again, a bigger man than ever. Tuesday he arrived in town from Fairmont, where he has been for some time, and stepped around here, shaking hands with his old cronies. He went on from here to Morgantown to visit his wife, sister and their mother.—Kingwood Argus.

The Echo agricultural window has not only a local reputation, but its fame has reached miles. The latest exhibit is a huge turnip raised by George Jackson, proprietor of the Jackson hotel of Gladesville, Preston county. The turnip weighs 4½ pounds and measures 24 inches in circumference. About 75 bushels of these turnips were raised by Mr. Jackson.—Moundsville Echo.

A Meadville man is wearing a decided limp from a peculiar cause. He enjoys, among other things, a good rooster fight. A few evenings ago he was watching an exciting battle, during which he got so close to the combatants that one of the birds drove its spur about an inch and a half straight into the calf of one of his legs, and the vigor with which the victim hopped and cavorted around came near breaking up the main.—Meadville Tribune.

One Horseshoe Not Lucky.

From the London Globe.

Horseshoes are supposed to be lucky, though the instance narrated in the following story must surely be the exception that proves the rule: A man picked up a horseshoe in the road, and in accordance with the recognized custom threw it over his left shoulder. So far so good, but the missile hit another man in the eye, blinding him for life, the man fell through a plateglass window valued at £20, a piece of the glass struck a child and so frightened it that it fell under the wheels of a passing bus and was run over; the screams of the child made the horses in the bus bolt and the vehicle was overturned, all of its 26 occupants being more or less hurt. Then the lucky man who picked up the horseshoe went and filed his petition in view of the claim for consequential damages that he anticipates.

THE DEATH ROLL.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Thomas Meehan, the well-known botanist and member of city councils, died of heart trouble

DOINGS IN SOCIETY AND GOSSIP OF THE HOME.

Society

MISS Edna Johnson gave a very enjoyable domino whist party yesterday afternoon at her home in Western avenue, Allegheny, in honor of a school friend, Miss Laura Houghton of Corning, N. Y. Fifty of the younger girls were entertained, including the debutantes of last season. Whist tables were scattered through the long drawing-room, and as two prizes were given at each table nearly every one of the guests carried home handsome souvenirs of her success. Refreshments were served informally at the card tables after the game. The decorations were simple but effective, consisting of chrysanthemums.

A small informal dinner was served after the whist party and in the evening Miss Edna Johnson, Miss Houghton and another guest who arrived at the Johnson home last evening, Miss Gertrude Ayres, with a number of the young people in Allegheny, formed a party that went to Duquesne garden for the skating. Miss Gertrude Ayres is another school friend, and was with Miss Edna Johnson and Miss Houghton at Pelham Manor. Miss Ayres is on her way home from Chicago, where she went to be a maid at a wedding.

Emory Church Suppers.

The Women's Aid society of Emory Methodist Episcopal church will hold its annual supper and bazar on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week in the church parlors, North Highland avenue and Broad street, East End. An additional feature of the entertainment will be a handkerchief booth in charge of Mrs. Norman Nolan and Mrs. Charles Maddux, handkerchiefs being donated by friends of the church, far and near. The committees include the following ladies:

Reception committee—Mrs. Thomas Robson, Mrs. Arthur D. Merik, Mrs. John D. Sparks and Mrs. R. B. Ward.

Domestic—Mrs. D. B. Taylor, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Morris Mathews, Mrs. John W. Becket, Mrs. Cressman.

Supply—Mrs. Margaret Kable, Mrs. McAllen, Mrs. Griffith, Mrs. Kauffield, Mrs. John W. Rowley, Mrs. M. M. Elder.

Cake—Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. McDowell, Mrs. Snigley.

Lemonade—Miss Martha Cressman, Mrs. C. B. Lawton.

Ice cream—Mrs. William A. Kessler, Mrs. Charles A. Wright, Miss Edna Ward, Miss Grace Evans.

The women in charge of the supper tables are, No. 1, Mrs. Frank L. Flagg, Mrs. D. Collins; No. 2, Mrs. M. H. Crisk; No. 3, Mrs. Richard Belcher, Mrs. Van Abel; No. 4, Mrs. Bulger, Mrs. Dumm; No. 5, Mrs. C. L. Mason, Mrs. John McCarty, Mrs. Homer; No. 6, Mrs. Peter Klipple, Mrs. M. E. Albert; No. 7, Mrs. John Laydick, Mrs. Reynolds; No. 8, Mrs. M. L. Martin; No. 9, Mrs. F. E. Shallenberger, Mrs J. O. Wilber; No. 10, Mrs. Frank Lafferty.

Wilkinsburg Bazar.

An event of interest in Wilkinsburg will be the annual bazar under the auspices of the women of St. James' Roman Catholic church. It will be held this evening and tomorrow in Penn hall.

The following committees will be in charge of the affair: Mrs. Willis F. McCook, chairman of both the bazar as a whole and the fancy work booth; fancy work booth, Mrs. L. W. Negley, Mrs. W. H. Miller, Mrs. Patrick Dorran, Mrs. James Murphy, Mrs. Joseph Kounz, Mrs. M. H. Smith, Mrs. M. Fitzgerald.

Common sense booth—Mrs. F. J. Hodge.

Refreshments—Mrs. Henry Weaver, Mrs. M. J. Kennedy, Mrs. A. J. Cassidy, Mrs. M. M. Cushing, Mrs. George Schaughnessy.

Fleur booth—Mrs. J. E. Hughes and daughters.

Candy booth—Miss Annie Develin, Miss May Waggley, Miss May Doran, Miss Irene Sullivan, Miss Alice McCallen, Miss Mae Beatie, Miss Mary Lambing.

Lemonade committee—The Misses Duffy.

Gypsy camp—The Misses Harding.

Fish pond—Chairman, Miss Ellen McGowan.

The Kindergarten Benefit.

The managers of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Free Kindergarten association anticipate financial and social success this afternoon at the Alvin, when "Miss Bob White," Willard Spenser's new opera, will be presented for its benefit. The boxes will be occupied and matinee parties will be found in all parts of the house. Mrs. James I. Buchanan will have as her guests the members of the faculty of the kindergarten college. Mrs. Aaron French will entertain a number of little people and Mrs. Henry Kaufmann's party will include Mrs. Morris Kaufmann, Miss Irene Myers, Miss Stephanie Schoenberg, Mrs. Wolfe and Mrs. Vogel. Other box holders are Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. E. M. Bigelow, Mrs. Helen Cassatt and Mrs. W. L. Mellon, while parties will be given in the logo seats by Mrs. Omar Decker, Mrs. Thomas Leggett, Mrs. John G. Bennett, Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, Mrs. Emmett Queen and H. J. Heinz.

Wedding in Sharpsville.

Pittsburgh people are interested in a wedding in the Universalist church of Sharpsville today. It will be the wedding of Miss Mary Pierce of Sharpsville, a suburb of Sharon, Pa., and MacGilvray Shiras of Pittsburgh, whose home was formerly in Sharon. Miss Alice Pierce will be her sister's maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Miss Katherine Pierce, a younger sister, and Miss Margaret Kelly of Cleveland. Oliver C. Shiras of this city will attend his brother as best man, and the ushers will include C. W. Friend of Pittsburgh, Charles McCreery of Birmingham, Ala.; George Collord and James Pierce, Jr., of Sharpsville. After a wedding trip Mr. Shiras and his bride will make their home in College avenue, East End.

Ellison-Ross.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 19.—The marriage of Miss Patti Ellison of Louisville and Sir Charles Ross took place today at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ellison. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Kinsey Smith of the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian church in the presence of the bride's family. The wedding was simple. There were no attendants.

Sir Charles and his bride left this afternoon on August Belmont's private car for New York, whence they sail for Europe on Saturday. After a few days in London they will go to Balmagoen castle, in Scotland, where they will entertain a house party during the holidays.

Pittsburgh Travelers.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Hostetter are in New York, where they are witnessing the horse show in Madison Square garden.

Miss Sadie Eaton of Reseca place, Allegheny, is in the east, having gone to New York to visit relatives during the horse show week.

Mrs. Mary Duncan, who has been visiting relatives in California for several months, returned to her home in Wilkinsburg yesterday. From St. Louis to this city the trip was made in the private car of her nephew, Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash railroad.

Church Supper in Swissvale.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Swissvale Presbyterian church will give its annual supper and fair Thursday evening, November 21, at Swissvale.

The following committees will be in charge of the affair:

Fancy table; Mrs. R. P. Duff, Mrs. H. T. Westinghouse, Mrs. F. G. Craighead.

Refreshments: Mrs. John Caldwell, Mrs. W. G. Evans, Mrs. S. J. Fisher. Table No. 1: Mrs. E. A. Kitzmiller, Mrs. Charles Lumas, Mrs. Charles Cropp. Table No. 2: Mrs. D. B. Little, Mrs. H. J. Hampsey. Mrs. A. Tuerberg. Table No. 3: Miss Rebecca Lodds, Mrs. James Hamberly, Mrs. Dr. Fyle. Pantry committee: Mrs. Dr. J. A. Libbey, Mrs. E. S. Newmyer. Reception committee: Mrs. J. K. Hatfield, Mrs. Nathaniel Green, Mrs. William Watson, Dr. J. A. Libbey, Nathaniel Green, E. A. Kitzmiller.

Newspaper Artists' Exhibition.

The Newspaper Artists' association of Pittsburgh has issued invitations for its first annual loan and sale exhibit of original drawings and paintings. The exhibition will be conducted in Gillespie's gallery, 422 Wood street, during the week beginning December 16. The exhibition will include some of the best work of the artists on all the daily papers in this city. They will include pen and ink drawings and water-color paintings, designed to illustrate current events in Pittsburgh, the recent strike in labor circles, and familiar political cartoons. One feature will be a collection of 50 of the well-known coon pictures.

The committee of newspaper artists arranging the exhibition, who will also be contributors to the unique collection, is composed of F. E. Johnston, artist for the Pittsburg Leader; W. P. Canfield, Press; Charles M. Payne, Gazette; E. E. Mellowes, Press; C. Shiras, Post; R. R. Murdoch, Chronicle Telegraph; S. A. Martin, Dispatch; E. E. Wolf, Press; L. Henning, Gazette, and C. W. Parker, International News Syndicate.

Some Future Social Affairs.

Miss Eleanor Painter will give a card party on Thanksgiving Day at her home in Ridge avenue.

Mrs. William Anderson has cards out for a tea next Tuesday at her home in Wilkinsburg.

Miss Mary Alice Riter will entertain at cards on Friday evening at her home at Ellsworth and Negley avenues, the guests of honor being Miss Clara Harrington of Minneapolis and Miss Whitaker of Wheeling.

The Women's Industrial society of Calvary Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, will give an orange-grove festival in the chapel on Tuesday afternoon and evening, December 3. The festival last year was so successful that it will be reproduced this winter with many new and equally unique features.

The Misses Ford Entertain.

Miss Nellie Ford and Miss Stella Ford, the daughters of Mrs. Emery L. Ford of North avenue, Allegheny, entertained at cards yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Mary Alice Riter of Ellsworth avenue and Negley, and her visiting friend, Miss Clara Harrington of Minneapolis. Six-hand euchre was played and nine tables were placed in the reception hall, the parlors and library. The prize winners were Miss Margaret McClure, Miss Jane McClure, Miss Helen Walter and Mrs. William T. McCullough. The house was prettily decorated in pink. After the conclusion of the card party a dinner was given for the two honor guests of the afternoon, covers being laid for 12. The dinner decorations were in red, American beauty and Liberty roses being used.

Church Supper and Bazar.

The women of the Fourth Presbyterian church are working for the bazar and supper to be given in the rooms of the church, Eveline street, East End, Thursday and Friday evenings, of this week. Mrs. James B. Eisaman is general chairman, and Mrs. Mary Thomas is chairman of the supper committee. Mrs. George Dubarry has charge of the fancy work and common-sense articles, and Mrs. F. E. Estep, Mrs. John Haines, Mrs. Elmer Thomas and Miss Ella Ferguson will have charge of the ice cream and cake.

Dinner At the Golf Club.

Mrs. John R. McGinley and her daughter, Miss Laura McGinley, gave a handsome though informal dinner last evening at the Pittsburgh Golf clubhouse in Shadyside. The dinner was served in the cosy club dining-room and covers were laid for 20, the guests including the younger people in society this winter. The table decorations were very handsome.

Mullen-Seitz.

A quiet home wedding yesterday morning in Crafton was that of Miss Mary Mullen and Joseph R. Seitz of Pittsburgh. The Rev. Father William Kelly, pastor of St. Philip's Roman Catholic church, performed the ceremony.

Notes of Society.

On account of the illness of Mrs. W. H. Duffell her invitations for Thursday, November 21, have been recalled.

The Keystone Bicycle club gave its third masquerade dance last evening at its club house in Howe street. It was a brilliant success.

The Women's club enjoyed an interesting talk by Rabbi J. Leonard Levy yesterday afternoon at its regular meeting at the Young Women's Christian association.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 20.

KENTUCKY BEAUTY WEDS AN ENGLISH NOBLEMAN.

LADY ROSS, nee Miss Patti Burnley Ellison.

(Special Telegram to The Gazette.)

LOUISVILLE, KY., Nov. 19.—Miss Patti Burnley Ellison and Sir Charles H. A. L. Ross were married this morning at the home of the bride's parents in this city. The wedding had been set for tomorrow, but was advanced a day as Sir Charles has to go east on business. The Rev. J. Kensie Smith performed the ceremony. Both bride and groom are descendants of heroes and Sir Charles himself can lay claim to the title of soldier, having fought well and to good purpose during his eight months' service in South Africa.

Miss Ellison is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ellison and is a member of one of America's most distinguished revolutionary families. She is the great-granddaughter of Gen. Charles Scott, third governor of Kentucky and a general on Washington's staff. In addition to being a girl of most charming personality and ready wit, Miss Ellison is an accomplished musician, having a full, clear soprano voice of rare beauty. She is a far-famed belle, standing high even in Kentucky, that state so noted for its beautiful women. Miss Ellison ever since she entered society has spent her winters in New York, where she was a social success among the elite of the metropolis. Like most southern women, Miss Ellison is an expert horsewoman, sitting her beautiful black mare with ease and grace and thoroughly enjoying a long canter or a hard ride after the hounds.

It was while spending the season in London last winter that Miss Ellison met Sir Charles, shortly after his return from South Africa. With the characteristic determination of the Britisher, he followed the lady of his heart across the sea when she returned early in the spring to her home in Louisville.

Sir Charles is the ninth of his title, which was created in 1672 and to which he succeeded in 1883. He was a lieutenant of the Third battalion, Sutherland Highlanders, until 1894, and was more recently a major in the English volunteers in South Africa, where he fought for eight months. He fitted out his own battery and gun carriages and returned from South Africa only a year ago. Sir Charles studied at Eton and Trinity colleges, Cambridge. While at college he was one of the most skillful athletes and received numerous medals for high jumps and other athletic feats. He rowed in the university eight in 1894. Since his college days he has been known for a rifle which he invented a year or two ago.

Sir Charles is the third largest land owner in Great Britain, his estate, Balnagowan Castle, Park Hill, Rosshire, Bennington, Lanarkshire, being rated at 356,600 acres, with more than 3,000 tenants. He has the most extensive deer forest in Scotland and is considered one of the finest shots in the country. Sir Charles has many interests in Canada and this country, which make it necessary for him to live in Montreal for a while. He has large interests in the copper mines of British Columbia and he is president of a water power electric plant at West Kootney, B. C., which he built and which is now owned by a stock company. Sir Charles is a much traveled man and has included in his travels Klondike, where he was in the famous starvation camp.

GIVEN A HOLIDAY.

Teachers Will Have a Chance to Attend the Institute Meeting—Examinations December 23 and 24.

The central board of education last night decided to hold the preliminary examinations for admission to the high school in the Fifth avenue building December 23 and 24. On the recommendation of Supt. Samuel Andrews it was decided to close the schools on Friday, December 6, to give the teachers an opportunity to attend the meeting of the teachers' institute at Carnegie hall to be held that day and Saturday.

John H. Politt of the Thirty-first ward was seated as a member of the board. One additional teacher was allowed to each of the Homewood, Brushton, Lincoln, Peebles, Colfax, Highland and Allen schools. Application was made for one additional teacher in the Sterrett and O'Hara schools and for three in the Moorhead school. Assistant Secretary W. W. Lewis was granted leave of absence until February 1. He has been in the west for a month trying to recover his health.

Supt. Andrews reported an enrollment during October of 41,363 and an average attendance of 37,940. Director Wood of the high school reported an enrollment of 1,821 and an average attendance of 1,718. The enrollment in the kindergartens was 1,427, with an average attendance of 1,155, and in the industrial schools 971, with an average attendance of 906.

It was decided to open night schools November 25 in all districts desiring them. The schools will continue for 60 days. Secretary Reisfer reported that warrants had been drawn for $70,746.96 during October and that $1,200 tuition had been received from outside pupils.

RECORD FOR UNIONTOWN.

Reports Show That It Made the Largest Contribution to the Women's Missionary Society.

The semi-annual convention of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the McKeesport district of the Methodist Episcopal church was held yesterday in the First Methodist Episcopal church, Parker avenue, Braddock. The morning session opened at 9:45 o'clock, under the leadership of Mrs. John H. Masters of Braddock. The roll call showed 78 delegates present from 23 societies. There are 31 societies out of 88 churches of the denomination in the Pittsburgh district. Miss C. L. Rothwilder, who has recently returned from Seoul, Korea, where she went as a missionary in 1886, told of the work in the far east, and of the difficulties and dangers met by the workers in that country.

The afternoon session was opened at 2 o'clock, and the service was conducted by Mrs. M. J. Bennett of Braddock. At this session the secretaries of all the 31 auxiliary societies made their reports for the past six months' work. Uniontown society made the banner contribution of $124.50 to the Twentieth Century fund. Miss Laura Secrist, of West Newton, secretary of the District society, was chairman of the convention. Miss Agnes MacAllister, of Buffalo, a missionary of the general board of the Methodist Episcopal church, who is here on a visit after 14 years spent among the Kroo tribe in Northeu Liberia, told of her experiences on the west coast of Africa.

The next meeting of the McKeesport District society will be held at Elizabeth, Pa., next March.

Reception In Allegheny.

The Pittsburgh cotillion will hold a reception at the Cyclorama parlors, Allegheny avenue and Beech street, Friday evening. The parlors are being especially decorated for the occasion and a feature of the work is the electrical display.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL

Wandered into a trousseau party yesterday afternoon and was permitted to sketch a lovely white skirt which had been made for the prospective bride by an enterprising and original younger sister out of a lot of sheer cambric handkerchiefs. Each handkerchief had an insertion of narrow val lace to divide the narrow hem, and the clever maker had joined them together with insertions of similar lace a little wider. The skirt was made in the ordinary way to the knees, and the handkerchief part fell below in two flounces. The squares were set diamond shape, and the effect was too pretty to be described. Trousseau parties, by the way, are eminently popular with this winter's brides. After most of the pretty things are accumulated, a dozen or so of the "dearest friends" are invited and a gay afternoon is spent adorning the articles with the initials or name of the owner, worked in any chosen color. Each girl works one, and so a sentiment is attached to the task.

A Modish Wrap—

In the same collection of pretty things is of robin's egg blue cashmere, made in the Red Riding Hood style illustrated as popular for children in yesterday's paper. The entire wrap is lined with soft white peau de soie and edged with swansdown, making a charming thing to slip on for an informal evening visit, or a concert, where the gorgeous opera wrap would look out of place.

An Origiant Idea—

Shown at a recent afternoon tea, served in the informal English fashion to all who called, was the serving of chocolate creams to sweeten the tea, instead of the usual sugar lumps. The shadowy flavor of chocolate this imparted was pronounced very delicious by all the women present.

Red Gold Hair—

Which has been in such high and fashionable favor of recent years has brought about the preponderance in gold garniture which was observable last season and this. Nothing looks so well with hair of this color as flashing gold spangles or passementerie, which, instead of dulling the sheen of the locks, seems to enhance it. Jet, too, and all other bright and glittering things may be attempted by the maid whose hair is reddish and gleaming.

A Pittsburgh Pug—

Much beloved by his fond young mistress goes out to walk these mornings enwrapped in a blanket of palest blue French flannel, embroidered around the edge with white silk knots and tied around puggie's neck by straps of blue velvet with pearl buttons. As his name is Boy Blue, and eminently appropriate—at least so his owner thinks.

The China Closet—

To show off its pretty contents to the best advantage, should be lined with dark blue, dark green or black. Velvet or felt will do, but feit is in the best taste. Red does not seem to throw out the points of delicate colored china nearly so well as the other hues, and brown is simply impossible.

Pride Went Before a Fall—

Yesterday morning in one of the Allegheny parks, where the little people of Allegheny's handsome homes are taken for their morning airings, Little Miss Muffet, trouting along beside her nurse, with a muff as big as herself, refused the hold of the protecting hand and wanted to be independent. The long velvet coat blew and flapped, but baby's feet stepped out bravely, until suddenly a big dog belonging to another house rushed at her, and before the nurse could prevent the ruin, baby, muff, big bonnet and all went over the pathway and rolled down the little hill to the grass. "I told you so," said nurse, as she wiped the mud off, but Miss Muffet disdained to answer anything so obvious, and went on weeping.

Homestead Reserves Surprise the Stars by Making Three Field Goals in a Practice Game

SCRUBS SCORED ON THE STARS

THREE FIELD GOALS AND A TOUCHDOWN

That Is What the Little Fellows Piled Up in Less Than an Hour of Hot Practice—Perry Hale's Fine Punting.

There is a little red-headed fellow named Cline on the Homestead reserve football eleven who is a dandy on kicking field goals from the placement kick. He kicked three of them almost in succession on the Stars over at Exposition park yesterday afternoon, and his work so surprised the big fellows that it quite upset their plans.

Captain Fultz said on Monday that he was not going to give his players any real hard work this week in order to keep them in shape for the big game at Philadelphia on Saturday. The Stars' captain and coach changed his mind yesterday when Manager Bullard marched his reserve team out on the field, and the Stars' leader thought it would not be a bad idea to give his men a little defensive work, as they had failed to get very much of that style of play in the Lafayette game on Saturday. To tell the truth, the least said about that game the better, because, to borrow an old minstrel "gag," there are some people laughing yet over the showing made by the collegians.

Capt. Fultz Changed His Mind.

When the reserves were ready to get down to work yesterday Captain Fultz made up a team that was largely composed of subs, and they were ordered to handle the little fellows gently. In order to help out, Shirring was loaned to the reserves to do center work and they had about thirteen players in line. The ball was given to the reserves on the 25-yard line and they were ordered to get right into it and make a touchdown if possible. It was hardly necessary for such orders, as the reserves were out for a record and they got it before the afternoon was over.

The reserves tried the line a half-dozen times and made a gain of about three yards, then the order was given for a trial for goal from the place kick. The quarterback dropped back and so did the fullback and the ball was passed. The Stars broke through the line and attempted to block the kick, but they failed to do so and little Cline shot the ball squarely between the goal posts. It was a pretty play and the maker of it was congratulated, not only by his comrades but also by the Stars.

Shortly after this the teams lined up again and there was some hot scrimmage work, with the reserves getting the worst of it; then they held a conference. When the teams lined up again the reserves worked a trick play which was a success, and one of their numerous halfbacks went around the Stars' right end and went the 25 yards for a touchdown. This was just a bit more than the big fellows had bargained for and there was a look of both surprise and disgust on every Star's face. Captain Fultz, who had contented himself with coaching his men from a position in the rear, tore off his sweater and jumped into the fray.

Again Reserves Turned the Trick.

The reserves were again given the ball on the 25-yard line and again instructed to score if possible. They tried the line again but were forced up the field, and then Cline was called on to try for a place kick, and he not only made it but repeated the trick a short time later, much to the astonishment of Captain Fultz and his players. The practice had lasted less than an hour, yet in that time the reserves had scored three field goals and one touchdown on the Stars, which is a record made by no other eleven.

Previous to the team's lining up against each other, the Stars practiced at getting down the field under punts, with Perry Hale doing the punting, and right well did he do it. The ex-Yale star is rapidly rounding into form and some of his punts yesterday were beauties in that line. The Stars are all in good shape now and will be in fine form for the Quaker game on Saturday.

THE STATE ELEVEN.

It Is Shaping Up for the Game With Dickinson.

STATE COLLEGE, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—After Saturday's overwhelming victory over Lehigh, State will be put through a week of hard practice this week in order to get into good condition for the game with Dickinson here next Saturday. Last Saturday's victory was not unexpected, as every State man felt confident of winning. But in the game with Dickinson the Center county kickers will not have such an easy proposition. State realizes this, and Coach Golden will not spare any effort to have his men up to the standard next Saturday. The squad was out yesterday for a limbering up after the Saturday game, and today the men were put through a good hour's hard work against the scrub. In this practice the 'varsity showed that they had lost none of the zeal or grit that has characterized their playing all through the season, and little trouble was experienced in rushing the scrub across the field for several touchdowns.

Geneva's Team Will Be Weak.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Grove City and Geneva play football at this place Saturday, but Jos. Thompson and R. George of the Geneva team will not be in the game. George is suffering with a fractured jaw received in the game with W. U. P., and last night Thompson said he would have to put his left leg in plaster, owing to one of the bones being broken in the same game that George was hurt. Since then he has been playing in the Westminster game that Saturday, but his leg is getting worse and the doctor says he must undergo treatment.

Many Entries in Pool Tourney.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Local lovers of pool are interested in a tournament now in progress at the headquarters of the Young Men's Institute of this city for the local championship. There are 16 entries, and each contestant will meet each of his opponents during the progress of the play, making a total of 240 games in all. The winner of the first honors will receive a medal.

Performed a Difficult Feat.

ALLIANCE, O., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Wade H. Beatty, marshal of Sebring, cast of here, held a four-ounce watch out at arm's length here Monday night for a period of 30 minutes. The feat was performed on a wager of $600. This is said to be a world's record.

Among the Amateurs.

The Swissvale Athletic club's football team will meet the team of the Emerald Athletic club on Saturday afternoon at Swissvale.

The Pastime Reserves would like to arrange a game with a good 100-pound team for Saturday and Thanksgiving day. Address Harry Evans, 5859 Ellsworth avenue, city.

The Franklin Reserves have open dates for Saturday, November 23, 1901, and Thanksgiving day, with any 80-pound teams having grounds. Address Saul Morris, 1227 Clark street.

The manager of the Cresent second team of Wilkinsburg would like to know if the game with the Meadow Tigers is good for Saturday. Any 50-55-pound team desiring same with Cresents please address H. Martin, 20 Address Fred Wappat, 1310 Hunter street, Wilkinsburg, Pa.

The Crescent basketball team would like to hear from the following teams: McKeesport Jrs., Manchester Jrs., Railroad third team, East Liberty second team, Bellefield Jrs. Any 14 or 15-year-old team wanting games address George Shields, care Boggs & Buhl, Allegheny.

Brushton Mohawks will play the strong Wilkinsburg High school team Saturday on the latter's grounds. Mohawks are without a game for Thanksgiving, owing to Kittanning canceling, and would like to hear from some good 100-pound team for that day. Address Thomas Aiken, 7531 Hamilton avenue, Pittsburgh, care Lorillard.

In order that there be no controversy as to the rightful claimant to the 80-pound championship of Western Pennsylvania at the end of the season, the Tiger Juniors request that any team whose record seems well enough to claim it will please communicate by letter, and a game will be arranged if possible, in order to prevent any complication. Three dates are yet open. Address Elmar Waldschmidt, 1200 Federal street, Allegheny.

SPORTING NOTES.

Hans Wagner has sent his regrets to the bunch that wanted him to go to the Pacific coast.

Providence still lists Parent as a reserve—a notification that the Boston American club has never acquired his release by purchase.

Reader, city—The accepted record for professional one mile run is 4 minutes 12¾ seconds, made by W. G. George on August 28, 1886. The accepted record for 10 miles is 51 minutes 2 3-5 seconds, made by W. Cummings, September 28, 1885.

Frank Selee proposes to put Jimmy Slagle in center field at Chicago and keep him there. He thinks that in any other garden "The Grasshopper" is lost, but that as a centerfielder no one in the country has the best of the little fellow. Outfielders are not always stars at every point of the outpost compass. A few years ago Cincinnati had a bitter experience when "Kip" Selbach failed in center and afterward proved that left was the position which he could best fill.

THE W. U. P. FOOTBALL TEAM.

WITHOUT ANY FUSS.

The Pittsburgh Club's Annual Meeting Will Be Held Next Month in Jersey City.

Secretary Pulliam of the local baseball club spent an hour yesterday in writing out notices for the annual meeting of the Pittsburgh baseball club, which will be held in the office of the club's attorney in Jersey City on December 11. The notices were sent to the stockholders, of whom there are not very many.

President Dreyfuss, who was watching the work, remarked something about last year's meeting and then smiled. It was at last year's annual meeting that the trouble occurred which ended in Dreyfuss securing control of the club. The trouble started over the removal of Secretary Pulliam. This move was fought by Mr. Dreyfuss and there was a warm time for an hour or more. The meeting adjourned without the election of a president and at subsequent meetings attempts to name a head for the club were blocked. The matter was taken into court, but before action could be secured a deal was made whereby Mr. Dreyfuss bought out his partners' interest and that ended the row. This year will be smooth sailing and there will be no danger of flare-ups.

THE RANCOCAS FARM.

William C. Whitney Will Stable All His Horses There.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—(Special.)—William C. Whitney, who is regarded as the leading American horseman, said at his home today that he had made arrangements with Mrs. Lillian B. Allison to remove his entire stable of horses from Lexington, Ky., to the Rancocas stock farm in New Jersey. "Those arrangements," said Mr. Whitney, "have been completed, and I expect in the near future to bring all my horses to the New Jersey farm. I have not bought Rancocas. The farm is not for sale. I have simply made an arrangement to keep my horses on a part of it.

"I have had Rancocas farm in mind for some time. I know that Mr. Lorillard had brought this farm up to the highest point of development for the breeding of horses. He had selected the farm because of its favorable location, and he had developed the very best grasses that are conducive to the health of horses."

NEITHER TEAM SCORED.

Meadville and Corry High School Teams Played Fine Game.

MEADVILLE, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Meadville and Corry High Schools football teams met here this afternoon in a well-played and stubbornly contested game, in which neither side was able to score. Line-up:

Corry—0.		Meadville—0.

TRYING INDIAN PLAYS.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Today was an ideal one for football work and the Washington and Jefferson team had a good practice at College park this afternoon. All the men were on the field, although one or two of them did not take any active part in the practice. A strong scrub team was out and the 'varsity and scrub elevens faced each other in a practice game for a half an hour. W. & J.'s line men are not yet in good condition, and many substitutes played in part of the game. The men are gradually rounding into form, however, and unless some are injured in practice this week will be in good form for Saturday's hard game.

Especial attention is being given in the practice this week to breaking up the Indians' famous "wing shift" play, which operated so successfully for the Carlisle team last season. The scrubs are using this form of play in the games against the 'varsity, and the local coaches are confident that by the end of the week it will be up when necessary. The Indians were unable to use this play to any great advantage last year and Capt. Aiken thinks that W. & J. can meet it squarely again this year.

W. & J. learned some football in the game with Annapolis and this knowledge will be used in preparing for the game with the Indians. Coach Knight was not exactly pleased with the work of the team last Saturday, and before practice this afternoon had a talk with the men which he thinks will do them some good. A feature of the work of the team today again was catching punts. This department is still weak and strenuous efforts are being made to remedy it. A large block of seats for Saturday's game was placed on sale here this afternoon and it is thought that more will have to be secured from Pittsburgh to supply the demand, and the indications point to an unprecedented crowd at the game.

CALLS IT A KNOCKOUT.

Referee Corbett Decides a Much-Discussed Question.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Those who bet that Jim Jeffries would win over Gus Ruhlin with a knockout will be interested in the decision of Harry Corbett on this particular point. Ever since the contest there has been much discussion going on in sporting circles regarding what constitutes a knockout. It is surprising what a difference of opinion there is on the question. The Enquirer has decided that throwing up the sponge is equivalent to a knockout and many bets have been decided accordingly. To make sure of a fair decision, a message was sent to Harry Corbett, who refereed the bout, and the following telegram was received in reply:

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., Nov. 19.—In reply to your message, I will say that when a man's seconds throw up the sponge in his contest he is to save him from a knockout. In my judgment this is equivalent to a knockout. The Enquirer's decision on this point is correct.

HARRY CORBETT.

COUNTING ON VICTORY.

The Quakers' Stars Think Homestead Will Be Easy—What Coach Newton Has to Say.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Capt. Wallace's Philadelphia team is busily preparing for the contest with Homestead next Saturday. This battle promises to be one of the greatest contests that was ever held on the football field, and although there will be no college cheers to rouse the spirits of the players, those who admire football for the sake of the game and the science to which it can be reduced, this struggle of giants will afford a treat rarely witnessed in the history of the game.

Although Philadelphians are loath to back the local team with money on account of its being but recently organized, and despite the fact that plenty of Pittsburgh money will go begging, to those who follow the game the result seems a certainty for the Philadelphia team. Coach Newton of Lafayette said that from a comparison of his team's work against Homestead and Philadelphia, he felt certain that the Homestead team was 50 per cent stronger than the Philadelphia eleven.

The main reasons advanced by the supporters of the Philadelphia team for its superiority is that every man on it learned his football under the same system, and as a guards back team it is without its equal today. Homestead, on the other hand, has playing on it men from Brown, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Yale, Kansas and Indiana men who have learned football under six or seven kinds of systems. It is hard to imagine a Poe playing end to a guards back team.

Professional football is new in Philadelphia, but it is thought that Saturday's game will place it on a sound foundation. A mere glance at the line-up of these two teams is enough to bring football lovers from miles around.

WON BY A SAFETY.

Slippery Rock Defeated Westminster Reserves.

SLIPPERY ROCK, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Today one of the fiercest games ever played on the local gridiron was witnessed. The Westminster college reserves, aided by a number of the 'varsity team, went down to defeat before the normal eleven. The teams were evenly matched in weight, but the normals' terrific line bucking was too much for the collegians. In the second half Slippery Rock scored a safety, but Westminster's referee called it a touchdown. A later interpretation of the rules gave the normals the victory by a score of 2 to 0. The superior team work of the locals would have resulted in two touchdowns but for fumbles which were unavoidable owing to the wet ball and grounds. The playing of Slippery Rock's back field was a feature, while its line was almost impregnable. The lineup and score:

Slippery Rock. 2.		Westminster. 0.
Emery	L. E.	Bryan
Laughlin	L. T.	Porter
MacDonald	L. G.	Cole
Seitz	C.	Parsen
Skinner	R. G.	Cooke

JOCKEY BADLY HURT.

The Favorite Got a Fall and Lost the Race.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 19.—Mat Hogan, the heavily played favorite in the third race at Oakland today, fell at the stretch turn through crowding, and J. Ransch, his rider, sustained a dislocation of the collar bone. The event went to Orleans, he gaining a neck victory over Herculean. Mechanus won the Alameda handicap, easily, from Odd and Even. There were close finishes in the first, second and last races. The weather was cloudy and the track heavy as the result of the early morning rain. Summaries:

First race, ⅞ of a mile, selling—Dunblane, 108, O'Connor, 4 to 1, won; Bernota, 108, Ransch, even, second; Bob Palmer, 100, Ransom, 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:30. Edicate, Rinald, Canejo, Darlene and Fridolin also ran.

Second race, Futurity course—Josie G., 107, Howson, 6 to 1, won; Roseway, 107, Ransch, 2½ to 1, second; Dew Swift, 110, Bullman, 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:12. Rosario, Lastdrop, Sol Phyllis and Buzz also ran.

THEIR ANNUAL GAME.

W. U. P. and Westminster Teams Meet This Afternoon.

Over at Recreation park, in Allegheny, there will be a lively football game this afternoon, when the W. U. P. and the Westminster elevens line up for their annual game. This contest is looked upon as one of the most important events of the season in local college circles, so that a warm time may be expected.

The university students propose to make things lively and there is to be a street parade with a brass band to accompany it. The Westminster team will also be backed up by a crowd of rooters, so that when both crowds meet at the park there will be some fun. Both elevens are in fine shape for the game.

M'CLELLAND AND HAMILTON.

They Will Meet at New Castle tomorrow Night.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—The future of professional baseball here depends largely on the success of the benefit to be given Thursday night in the opera house, Jack McClelland of Pittsburgh and Jack Hamilton of Troy, N. Y., will meet in a 15-round contest, and Jimmy Dunn of this city and Dave Wayne will engage in a 10-round preliminary. Hamilton came to this city a few days ago and that he will challenge Terry McGovern for the lightweight championship if he succeeds in stopping McClelland. If this is successful, this city will be represented in the new Inter-state league of Ohio and Pennsylvania towns.

The Fox Hunters Get a Start.

ESTILL SPRINGS, KY., Nov. 19.—The eighth annual meeting of the National Fox Hunters' association opened here today under unusually favorable circumstances. The attendance is better than in years, and the weather is perfect for a hunting. The derby, for puppy hounds 18 months old or under, is the stake today, and since it could not be determined which of the entries were entitled to the prizes, another trial will be given by the same class tomorrow. There were 17 entries.

ANOTHER SHIFT ON YALE TEA

Now It Is C. D. Rafferty of Pittsburgh Who Will Play Fullback.

DOUBTFUL POSITIONS SETTLED

The Harvard Eleven Showed Fine Form in Practice On a Snowy Field—Cornell Eleven Was Only Given Light Work to Do.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 19.—Unless the Yale football coaches change their minds Harvard will have to face a new Yale fullback on Saturday. This afternoon Clarence Weymouth, the old Buckwell player, was taken away from fullback and replaced by C. D. Rafferty of Pittsburgh, the end rush. Rafferty was a star end at Andover two years ago, and last fall played on the Yale varsity. He has been crowded out of end rush this fall by Swan, who played a star game on Saturday. Although Weymouth led all of Yale's backs in ground gaining against Princeton, his work there was not satisfactory to the blue's coaches. The coaches all say that Weymouth is too slow in starting, and that his slowness lessened the speed of the entire back field.

The announcement of this change will be a big surprise, as Rafferty has not been considered for a place in the back field. Swan beat him out for end rush because Swan is a faster man at that position. The coaches this evening also decided to keep Johnny Hart at left half back and not to try to use Wilhelm in this position on Saturday unless Hart should be injured.

This settles all the doubtful positions of the team. Unless Rafferty should fail to keep up the pace which he set at first back this afternoon he will be the only change in the lineup of the eleven that played against Princeton.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Harvard had hard practice on a muddy field. In a melting snowstorm the 'varsity scored five touchdowns against the scrubs and played a game that augurs well for the struggle with Yale on Saturday. All the 'varsity men were in the lineup except Graydon, Campbell and Blagden. All three men went through the signals, but the coaches thought best to keep them out of the scrimmage.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Football practice on Percy field this afternoon was light and uneventful. The field was covered with snow and the sharpness of the air made the boys who took no part in the signal practice spring about the field to keep their blood in circulation.

Couldn't Locate the Fire

SO THE BUILDING WAS DESTROYED.

The press recently described a baffling fire. Smoke came pouring from the windows of a large warehouse. Engine after engine came dashing to the spot in response to the alarm. Streams of water seemed to fairly flood the burning building, but all efforts were useless. The structure was a total loss. "We couldn't put the fire out," said the chief, "because we couldn't discover where it was located. Smoke curled from the roof and poured from the windows, but we had to work by guess. We couldn't find the real source of the fire so we couldn't put it out."

Now, what does that remind you of in everyday life? Have you ever seen a man or woman taken down suddenly sick? A doctor is called. He tries to overcome the disease, but it gains on him. He calls in another doctor. They study the symptoms, which appear in heart, liver, kidneys, or other organs, and are baffled like the firemen by the smoke from the various windows of the building. They can locate the symptoms, the smoke of the disease, but they can't locate the disease itself, the real fire centre.

A 4-11 CALL.

Then there goes out the medical 4-11 call. A half-dozen doctors are called. They try their best, but they can't find the hidden source of disease. That generally ends it. The fire of disease destroys the building of the body. But it isn't always so. Sometimes somebody suggests trying Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and to the general amazement the fire is put out—the disease is cured.

"Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine made," writes Mr. Michael Maher, of Little Falls, N. Y. (68 Centre St). "I had yellow jaundice and liver trouble in November, 1900. Was almost dead, lost sixteen pounds in three weeks and my whole body was as yellow as gold, and I was sick at my stomach all the time. I gave up to die. I tried three doctors and they gave me tablets and pills and another one some other stuff, but I went to Messrs. O'Rourke & Hurley's drug store and got your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' One bottle cured me, and I thank it and God that I am a well man.

"I am a believer in God and I know that your medicine with my prayers to God cured me. You may publish this, and my name and address."

THE COMMON SENSE OF IT.

Now, how is it that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured when everything else failed? Because it went right to the source of the disease. It found the fire and put it out. It wasn't like an engine shifting its hose to play on a new point every time a new cloud of smoke came out. It wasn't diverted by symptoms in liver, lungs, heart or kidneys. It went right for the spot where the fire probably started—in the stomach.

When a fire breaks out in a building the most natural place to look for its origin and force is in the neighborhood of the furnace, or along the line of pipes and flues by which the sparks and smoke are conducted. There's just as a sound a philosophy in Dr. Pierce's location of disease as probably originating in the stomach. The stomach is the nutritive center of the body. When the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are diseased every organ suffers, first from lack of nutrition which causes physical weakness—and next from a corruption of the blood which is made from food, because undigested substances are received into it and poison it. Symptoms of this condition may appear in heart, liver, lungs, kidneys or any organ, while the cause is in the diseased stomach. When the stomach is cured by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" the symptoms in heart, lungs, liver, etc., disappear, just as the smoke dies down when the fire is put out.

"I feel it my duty to tell of the wonderful good Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Favorite Prescription have done me," writes Mrs. Ada A. Way, of Waterbury, Dixon Co., Nebr. "They have cured me of liver complaint, female trouble and rheumatism. A year ago I was so miserable I felt as though life was not worth living, but today I feel quite different. After eating I would be taken with terrible cramps and distress in stomach and right side, which would last from three to four hours—I was almost afraid to eat anything. Today can eat anything I want. In taking the Golden Medical Discovery for stomach trouble I was entirely cured of rheumatism, which I had had for almost ten years, and had tried almost everything I ever heard of to get cured, but if I did get a little better it would only be for a time and the least exposure would bring it all back on me again. I think the Favorite Prescription the best medicine ever known for women, and the Pellets have no equal to my notion. I keep them in the house all the time. They are all the doctor we have had for two years. Words cannot express my gratitude."

IT PUTS THE FIRE OUT.

There's no denying the fact of the cures effected by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures through the stomach diseases of other organs hence from the stomach, but which have their origin in disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It puts out the fire of disease because it goes to the source of disease, and cures the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Life is sustained by food and food alone. But food will not sustain life except it is properly digested and assimilated. Blood is digested food, and is food in its nutritive form. Diseases which prevent digestion affect the quality and quantity of the nutrition extracted from food. As the food is affected so the blood made from food is also affected, and through the blood the whole body dependent on the blood for its vitality is affected. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and its allied organs, and enables the perfect digestion and assimilation of food. It purifies the blood, increases it in quantity and improves it in quality, by enriching it with the red corpuscles of health.

Sometimes a dealer, tempted by the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious medicines, will offer the customer a substitute as being "just as good" as the "Discovery." It is better for him because it pays better, but it is not as good for you, if you want the medicine that has cured others, and which you believe will cure you.

WOMEN'S BOARD IS INDIGNANT

Managers of a Hospital at Washington, Pa., Declare They Will Have Nothing More to Do With the Institution's Affairs--Audit of Books Was Demanded.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 19.—There is trouble brewing in the management of the Washington hospital, and the indications are that a new board of managers will be created. Ever since the institution was founded the direct charge of the management of the hospital affairs has been in the hands of the Woman's association of the Washington hospital. This association is composed of some of the most prominent women in Washington, and large amounts of money have been raised through their efforts.

Recently, it is claimed, several physicians who have charge of patients at the hospital demanded an audit of the books of the Woman's association, and the members of the organization are indignant, as there had never before been any complaint made in regard to the management of hospital affairs.

A course of lectures had been arranged by the association, one to be given each month in the Lyric theater here, to obtain money to meet the expenses of the institution. Today the managers of the Woman's association canceled all the lecture dates and declared that hereafter they will have nothing to do with the management of hospital affairs, and that those who objected to their management can "run things."

Married Fifty Years.

SHARON, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson, of this city, quietly celebrated their fiftieth marriage anniversary today. They were married at Hickory Corners by the Rev. Mr. Adams of Clarksville, and have resided in Mercer county all their lives. They have three children, James W., of Mercer; Charles and Mrs. Jennie Ediburn of Sharon.

A GLASS FACTORY CLOSED BY STRIKE

Morgantown Men Quit Work Because Other Employes Are Discharged.

SPECIAL TO THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Nov. 19.—This morning the members of the American Flint Glass Workers' union, employed at the Morgantown glass factory, went on strike. Many of the employes, not members of the union, struck through sympathy with the movement. The factory is idle, with doors locked. The cause of the strike developed yesterday when A. M. Gantz and Charles Frantz were discharged for an alleged infraction of the company's rules. Last night the union held a meeting and a strike was ordered unless the company should reinstate the men. This they refused to do, and in obedience to the order the union men quit work.

The union held a meeting this afternoon and practically reaffirmed their position by deciding to remain idle until the arrival of Vice President Thomas Rowe of the American Flint Glass Workers' union. Mr. Rowe has been telegraphed for at Pittsburgh.

CHOKED TO DEATH.

Altoona Man Dies While Eating a Piece of Meat.

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 19.—While eating a piece of meat at the West End hotel today the food lodged in Thomas Malloy's throat. He was seized with a fit of coughing and ruptured a blood vessel near the heart, dying instantly. Malloy was 65 years of age and employed by the Pennsylvania railroad.

Pittsburgh Fireman Injured.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Fireman H. M. Eaton of Pittsburgh is lying at the Shenango hospital suffering from injuries received in a head-on collision this morning on the Pittsburgh & Western main line at Johnstons crossing. The members of both crews jumped, but Eton was caught and injured about the legs. James Robinson, another member of the crew, was slightly hurt.

Bones of Extinct Animals.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Workmen engaged in excavating in a gravel bank in the rear of the Carnegie library building today unearthed a quantity of oddly shaped bones that local experts claim are those of extinct animals. The bones will be preserved.

ELKS' TEETH OF CELLULOID

Connellsville Lodge Members Discover That They Have Been Swindled by the Purchase of Charms, Emblematic of the Order—Discovered by Accident.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Nov. 19.—Connellsville Elks say that they are very "easy" people. Some time past wearing elks' teeth as watch charms and other ornamentations became a fad. Many Connellsville Elks, as well as Elks all over the country, bought the grinders. When the shining emblems adorned their vests they felt sorry for the poor animals that had to sacrifice their teeth to the cause.

However, a short time ago a local Elk held a lighted match close to his $15 charm. There was a hiss, a blinding flash, a puff of offensive smoke, and the tooth was no more. It burned like celluloid.

At the last meeting the experiment was tried on a score of expensive charms and about 90 per cent went up in smoke.

Marriage Was Prevented.

ALLIANCE, O., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—George Faudel, aged 27 years, came to this city from Wisner, Neb., to marry Miss Maggie Knosie, a German lass, aged 16 years. The girl's relatives objected on account of her youthfulness, and the would be bridegroom returned home. The girl will be sent to her parents in Switzerland.

ESSAGE READ TO THE CABINET

he President Has Completed the First of the Document for Congress.

SEVERAL CHANGES MADE AT THE MEETING

Roosevelt Points Out the Need of Legislation on Various Subjects, but Makes No Specific Recommendations—In Printer's Proof.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
603 Fifteenth St., N. W.,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.

"The message is an able document." That was the opinion generally expressed by the five members to whom President Roosevelt today read nearly all of the message he will send to congress. Secretary Hay and Attorney General Knox were absent.

Longer than any meeting in the brief history of the Roosevelt administration was the session of the cabinet today. The cabinet officers would not discuss to correspondents specific points in the message.

Several of the characteristic features are known. First of all, the president does not make any specific recommendations regarding legislation. He points out the necessity for action on certain conditions, but does not define the character of the action. In some cases the president, after indicating the point to be remedied, enters into a dissertation of the principles involved. This is understood to be the case with regard to commercial conditions.

Although many persons have talked with the president to advise him on the question of "ship subsidy," it is doubtful of these words will appear in the document. In some matters the president has made a deep investigation, and his ideas are set forth with a remarkable mastery of detail.

The president read the message himself; he read rapidly and stopped frequently for suggestions. Several modifications were made at various places. The message is at present in the printer's proof and will be materially altered before it is in shape to go to congress.

It is quite probable that the message will be sent to the capitol in typewritten form. In years gone by it has always been in script.

IN TERROR OF AMERICA.

Austrians Organizing to Stem Tide of United States Imports.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18.—The bright prospects of increased importations from the United States into Austria-Hungary, are not viewed with complacency in Austria, according to a report to the state department from Consul General Hurst at Vienna, dated October 28. Austrian manufacturers and agriculturists, he says, are making an organized effort to stem the inflow of American products, which last year amounted to to about $30,500,000. Mr. Hurst speaks of an assembly of leading business men which was convened at Vienna to take measures against American competition, and says that it was acknowledged openly by them that the commercial policy of the present time is dictated and controlled by the United States. An entire reconstruction of the tariff, hostile to the United States, is proposed.

"American trusts," says Mr. Hurst, "are particularly mentioned as a mortal peril to European manufacturers, on account of the powerful organization of capital and business manipulations."

BEAUMONT FIELD LIMITED.

Geological Survey Publishes a Report On Texas Oil.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—The geological survey has just issued the report of George I. Adams, one of its experts, on oil and gas fields of parts of Texas and the western gulf coast. The report points out the limited areal extent of the reservoir which has been tapped under Spindle Top Heights, and calls attention to the difficulties which will have to be met in the development of other localities which may be widely separated from it, but occupying a position in relatively the same horizon.

The report says it is well known that the Beaumont oil contains sulphur, and its presence has determined in a measure the uses to which the oil may be put. The limited occurrences of gas and indications of oil in outlying localities are noted as an aid to those who seek to develop new fields.

MRS. BONINE'S TRIAL BEGINS.

She Pleads Not Guilty, But the Jury Is Not Yet Complete.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—The trial of Mrs. Lola Ida Henry Bonine for the murder of James S. Ayres began today. The tragedy on which the murder charge is founded occurred in the room of Ayres in the Kenmore hotel on the night of May 15. Ayres was found dead the next morning and three bullet wounds on his person pointed to murder. No direct clue was obtained until Mrs. Bonine made a voluntary explanation five days after the tragedy. She then was arrested.

Mrs. Bonine was supported in her ordeal today by her sister and her husband. In a firm voice she pleaded not guilty. Selection of the jury was not completed when court adjourned for the day.

QUAY SEES THE PRESIDENT.

Has a Fresh Cold, and His Cough Disturbs His Sleep.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Senator Quay called at the White house this morning and had a conference of about five minutes with President Roosevelt. He declined to divulge the object of his visit, but it is understood to have been to arrange for a conference between the president and some friends who are to arrive here soon.

The senator has caught fresh cold and as a consequence is not so well as he was been for the last week. A tickling cough prevents him from getting much sleep at night.

THE PENSION ROLL.

Veterans, Their Widows and Dependents Provided For.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—The following pensions were granted today:

Pennsylvania—Henry P. Wert, Minnequa, $12; Green W. Hackenberry, Snow Shoe, $12; Philip Lape, Johnstown, $12; Edward O'Flaherty, Oil City, $4; Deborah Ann Wilmet, Apollo, $8; Dorothea Stange, Pittsburgh, $8; Delphine Bateman, Penfield, $8; Caroline Reagle, Raymilton, $8.

Ohio—James M. McKitrick, Cambridge, $8; John Cowen, Cuyahoga Falls, $24; Nancy J. Wingfepleck, Windham, $8; minor of David Mottinger, Canton, $10.

West Virginia—Sarah E. Heckert, Troy, $8.

New Officers for Banks.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—(Special.)—The comptroller of the currency announces the following selections of officers of national banks: The Peoples National of Pittsburg, Harvey Schumacher, second assistant cashier; the Citizens National of New Philadelphia, O., B. P. Scott, president, vice S. O'Donnell; B. P. Scott, cashier, vice B. P. Scott, and E. C. Schweitzer, assistant cashier, vice B. H. Scott.

New Italian Ambassador.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—Sig. E. Mayer des Planches, who succeeds Baron Fava as the Italian ambassador to the United States, was formally received by President Roosevelt at the White house today.

SOME MEMORIAL FRICTION.

McKinley Arch Association Refuses a Request of Canton Society, but Makes a Counter Proposal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—The William McKinley National Memorial Arch association having received from the Association for the Erection of a McKinley Monument at Canton, O., a request that it suspend its appeal to the public for contributions until the fund deemed necessary for the erection and maintenance of the Canton monument be secured, has determined that it would be impracticable to do so because the long, indefinite delay involved would mean the defeat of its purpose. It is stated, however, that in its desire to work in harmony with the Association for the Erection of the Canton Monument, believing that both memorials should be and could be erected by popular subscription, it has, through its executive committee, telegraphed to President Day and Vice President Hanna tonight asking them to lay before the executive committee of the Canton Monument association, at its meeting in Cleveland on Thursday, a proposition for joint action by the two associations in the collection of funds and for their distribution on an agreed basis. The details of the proposition have been mailed in a letter written on behalf of the executive committee by Secretary Gage, treasurer of the William McKinley Memorial Arch association.

Civil Service Rules Extended.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—President Roosevelt has issued an order amending the civil service regulations so as to return to the civil service a number of civilian places in the war department, excepted by executive order on May 29, 1899. Today's order is at the request of Secretary Root, and it affects about 1,600 people in the quartermaster's, medical and engineer-at-large departments.

Revenue Exceeds the Estimate.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—The annual report of the commissioner of internal revenue shows that the total receipts for the year ended June 30, 1901, were $306,871,089, or $11,555,361 in excess of the estimates, about the same amount in excess of the receipts for the year ended June 30, 1900, and $33,000,000 in excess of the receipts of 1898.

Defalcation to Be Probed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 19.—A board of officers has been appointed to meet at Fort McPherson, Ga., to investigate the reported loss of public funds amounting to $4,769 by Capt. Pierre C. Stevens, paymaster United States army, at Atlanta, between November 8 and November 16, 1901.

THE OLD WAY

Of Treating Stomach Trouble and Indigestion a Barbarous and Useless One.

We say the old way, but really it is the common and usual one at the present time and many dyspeptics, and physicians as well, consider the first step in attempting to cure indigestion is to diet, either by selecting certain food and rejecting others or to greatly diminish the quantity of food usually taken.

In other words the starvation plan is by many supposed to be the first essential in the cure of weak digestion.

The almost certain failure of the starvation cure for stomach trouble has been proven time and again, but still the usual advice, when dyspepsia makes its appearance, is a course of dieting.

All this is radically wrong. It is foolish and unscientific to recommend dieting or starvation to a person suffering from dyspepsia because indigestion itself starves every organ and every nerve and fiber in the body.

What is needed is abundant nutrition, not less, and this means plenty of good, wholesome, well-cooked food and some natural digestive to assist the weak stomach to digest it.

This is exactly the purpose for which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are adapted and this is the way they cure the worst cases of stomach trouble.

The patient eats plenty of wholesome food, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest it for him.

And this is in accordance with nature and common sense because in this way the whole system is nourished and the overworked stomach rested, because the tablets will digest the food, whether the stomach works or not. One of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 1,800 grains of meat, eggs and similar food.

Any druggist will tell you that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is a remedy of extraordinary value and propably is the purest and safest remedy for stomach troubles.

No person suffering from poor digestion and lack of appetite can fail to be immediately and permanently benefited if they would make it a practice to take one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal. 1120wypl

PLATE COMBINE WELL BACKED

HOWEVER, ALL OF THEM ARE OUTSIDERS

Organization Comes at an Opportune Time—New Hardware Combination Spreading Out—Better Money Situation in New York.

(BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—That plans for the consolidation of four of the more important steel plate interests east of the Alleghanies are practically completed, was confirmed today by Max Pam, lately counsel for the American Steel and Wire Company and now having charge of the legal end of this undertaking. Mr. Pam has promised that a statement covering the purposes and scope of the consolidation shall be published within a few days, perhaps before the end of this week. He declined today, however, to state definitely the amount at which it is proposed to capitalize the new company.

It is understood that, owing to the failure to bring in the Jones & Laughlins interests, the capitalization has been scaled down to $25,000,000. In all the essential details, barring the presidency, the combine will conform to the lines that have already been discussed in this column.

The idea that Mr. Schwab might become president of the combine is now discredited by gentlemen familiar with the plans. Present indications point more or less directly toward the nomination of Charles T. Schoen to that position. It is understood that there has been no definite agreement as to a president, but there is not likely to be any quibbling on this point, for the reason that the lines of affiliation have been decided.

Combinations in Harmony.

The new combine, it may be said, is not only to be operated in complete harmony with the interests of the United States Steel Corporation, but also will be closely affiliated with the Pressed Steel Car Company, which concern is one of the largest consumers of steel plate in the country. The advantages of close relations between the Pressed Steel Car Company and the combine are obvious; but the suggestion that the Pressed Steel Car Company eventually is to become a constituent property of the combine is understood to have no official warrant. There is said to be no immediate prospect of such an alliance.

These considerations that induced Mr. Schwab to take a conspicuous hand in the formation of the steel plate combine are becoming more and more apparent. Through the agency of the Bethlehem Steel Company the United States Steel interests exercised a forceful influence, if not, indeed, a controlling influence, over the steel plate industry. The larger independent interests, as represented in the Tidewater Steel Company, the Central Steel Company, the Worth Bros.' mills and the Lukens iron works, now having been brought into a combine friendly to the United States Steel Corporation, it will be possible to bring about a close working agreement between the Bethlehem Steel Company, the Carnegie Company and the new combine.

It is understood, too, that although Jones & Laughlins interests refused to enter the combine, they have given satisfactory assurances of their willingness to participate in a working agreement, and by this means, therefore, it is hoped to put the steel plate industry upon a more stable basis than ever before.

JAMES J. HILL,

The Industry in Good Shape.

The thing was undertaken at an opportune time, with the steel plate industry in a particularly prosperous state. The tremendously large orders lately given, and still being placed by the railroad companies, foreshadow an enormous demand for steel plates by the Pressed Steel Car Company. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company's order for 10,000 cars alone involves the consumption of 100,000 tons of steel plates, exclusive of the steel used in the manufacture of the trucks, this calculated upon the basis of 10 tons of steel plate to the manufacture of each car. The rapid development of shipbuilding makes another source from which steel plate manufacturers expect to meet large demands.

The statement that Jones & Laughlins' interests have agreed to participate in a working agreement, although not official, is made on very excellent authority. A representative of Jones & Laughlins has been in New York for several days on business that is said to be "in connection with the formation of the new steel plate combine."

The New Hardware Combine.

It was said today that the leading hardware interests of the northwest, centered in Chicago, have been offered by the National Hardware Company $20,000,000 for their properties. The National Hardware Company is the $100,000,000 combination now being formed. Agents who are interested in the undertaking announce that they have received the assent of a sufficient number of hardware interests to assure the success of the combine. John Bindley, formerly president of the National association of Jobbers, is at the head of the delegation that is now in charge of winning over the hardware manufacturers.

Monetary Prospects Brighter.

Just before the close of the stock market, after traders had sold the list short in anticipation of heavy withdrawals of gold for export Thursday, all previous calculations were upset by the official announcement that the gold exports of $569,600 of the $1,000,000 already engaged at the assay office, and by the advance of Paris exchange on London two centimes to 25 francs 17 centimes. This latter development seemed to presage an abatement of the triangular transactions by which London has been withdrawing gold from this center in order to discharge her French obligations.

Within the past seven days only $30,000 have been deposited at the sub-treasury for shipment to the interior. This would denote that the tide of domestic funds is about turning in favor of New York. It will be remembered that at this period of last week the financial outlook was equally as discouraging, and everybody expected then that Saturday's statement would be unfavorable in more than one item. To the contrary, it was almost uniformly favorable, and it is possible that again the banks may realize enough money from domestic sources, together with government disbursements, to enable them at least to maintain their surplus reserves near the figures recorded last week. It is understood that the banks have been gaining cash steadily from the west and northwest. A great deal of money has been sent here in anticipation of higher interest rates.

The sub-treasury was a debtor at the clearing house this morning for more than $1,000,000, and gold exportation payments are now running larger than at any previous period this month. Bankers no longer attempt to deny that our heavy indebtedness abroad is more or less directly the result of heavy borrowing on short exchange bills last summer.

Tennessee Company Presidency.

It was announced today at the New York offices of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company that President Baxter had resigned. He will become president of the Cumberland Coal and Coke Company. Mr. Baxter probably will be succeeded by Don H. Bacon, now chairman of the board of directors. For the time, at least, Mr. Bacon is expected to fill both positions.

More About the New Combine.

Mr. Clarke, of the law firm of Blymer, Hobbs & Stover, added a trifling bit of information today to the little that already is known of the mysterious $100,000,000 steel and iron combine. He felt that he could say that certain directors of the American Tin Can Company are interested in the project, and also that several blast furnaces in the Shenango and Mahoning valleys would be taken into the combine. He denied, however, that the American Tin Can Company would be included. E. W. HARDEN.

OPPOSITION IN THE NORTHWEST

Hostile Attitude of State Executives Becomes Factor in Stock Market.

RAILWAY SHARES WERE DEPRESSED

Continued Outflow of Gold Also a Bear Feature Which Had Great Weight—Favorable Signs Appear Near Close of the Session.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The stock market today was under the continued influence of the factors which depressed values yesterday and discouraged speculation for an advance. Probably the outward movement of gold was the most effectual of these factors, but the expressed determination of the executives of northwestern states to use their influence to contest the operation of the Northern Securities Company was also an obvious influence, especially on the stocks of the transcontinental group. Union Pacific and St. Paul were especially affected. The argument that such opposition to the company was expected, owing to the statutes of the northwestern states intended to prevent consolidation, and that eminent legal counsel had co-operated to evade these prohibitions was not very convincing in quieting apprehension, based on the assumption that the residents of those states are earnestly opposed to the spirit and purpose of the new company, leaving only the question open as to their ability to prevent by law its operation. The bears sold their market actively on the announcement of the engagement of $10,000,000 additional gold for export on Thursday, but there was a large demand to cover later in the day when half of this engagement was canceled, and when the money market was seen to be unaffected. A jump of 2 centimes in the sterling exchange rate at Paris, a decline in the private discount rate there and a slight reaction here in exchange rates both in London and the continent, reflected the relaxation resulting from yesterday's ominous outgo of gold and aroused the hope that the largest part of the requirements is satisfied. There is still confidence expressed that the offerings of government bonds for redemption will maintain the ease of the money market even if more gold goes out. It is not improbable that the selling of government bonds comes in payment of foreign obligations. It is evident that the exchange market is cornered to a certain extent, and even the bills against outgoing cotton and grain which come upon the market are contracted for in advance, leaving the bankers who are short of exchange still under the necessity of shipping gold to cover maturities. One feature of the government bond redemptions that has not attracted attention is that the national banks apparently consider the present prices sufficiently attractive to prompt them to withdraw bonds on deposit with the treasury to secure their circulation and offer them for redemption. This process involves the release of cash from the treasury to the amount of the market value of the bond, but it also involves the retirement of circulation to the amount of the par value of the bond, offsetting that far the supply of money to the market. Such withdrawals of bonds have already reached the legal limit of $3,000,000 per month for the present month. There was some special strength shown today by individual stocks, notably American Car and International Power, on the urgent demand for railroad equipment of all kinds, and the express companies' stocks on account of the general business activity of the country. There were strong spots among the coalers and the local tractions. The market closed steady at a substantial rally from the lowest.

Railroad bonds were only moderately active at slight recessions. Total sales par value of $2,630,000.

U. S. refunding 2s declined ¼ on the last call.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The market for coffee, futures, opened steady, with prices 5 to 10 points lower under realizing, as a result of adverse European and Brazilian market advices, heavy receipts in the crop country and a disappointing spot demand. Following the call, however, the market steadied up somewhat on some room support and on light foreign buying orders. Before the close of the session values were back to last night's figures, with the final phases of the market steady, with prices 5 points lower to 5 points higher. The spot market was fairly active, with the total transactions 52,500 bags, including December at 6.35@6.40c; January, 6.50c; March, 6.60@6.70c; May, 6.80@6.90c; July, 7.00@7.05c; September, 7.15@7.35c; October, 7.25@7.30c; spot Rio steady; No. 7 invoice, 6¾c; mild, market quiet; Cordova, 7½@11c. Sugar, raw steady; fair refining, 3 3-16@3¼c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3 13-16@3⅞c; molasses sugar quiet; refined steady.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—There have been no further change in print prices today, but the market is more or less unsettled for prints. In heavy cotton goods there is more buying has been dull and there has been little purchase for export; prices are unchanged. Bleached and colored cottons quiet and unchanged. Flannels and blankets and unchanged. Ginghams firm. Business in cotton hosiery and underwear quiet at previous prices.

MANCHESTER, Nov. 19.—Cloths quiet. Yarns irregular and depressed.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

Latest Finds in Gold, Silver, Copper and Other Metals in the Far Western States.

(By Private Wire to The Gazette.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Remarkable gold quartz discoveries are reported near Marshall lake, Ida. On one claim ore full of wire gold and assaying $70,000 to the ton has been found.

On the 200-foot level of the Trade Dollar, at Republic, Wash., a five-foot ledge has been crosscut. The ore averages $12 a ton.

An expert who has investigated the Thunder mountain district, Ida., for the Oregon Short Line railroad, reports that it is one of the richest ever opened. He saw a four-foot vein of free milling ore that is plastered with gold and will run into the thousands. A great reef of the gold bearing material appears to run through the country.

Karl, Cal., reports that quicksilver is being found everywhere in the hills. Several mines are working big forces and making a good output. Real estate in the mineral belt has advanced 100 per cent within six months.

In the workings of the Dexter Consolidated, at Tuscarora, Nev., a rich streak has been found. The value of the ore is from $500 to $600 to the ton.

Lessees on the Yales, at Park City, Utah, have struck a fine chute of ore in the tunnel, and are shipping two carloads of high grade ore daily.

Rich copper strikes are reported in Muskrat and Wildcat canons, eight miles north of Hartville, Wyo. There is a rush to the locality and hundreds of claims are already staked.

The output of Rossland, B. C., last week was 5,060 tons, of which the Le Roi sent out 3,500. Le Roi No. 2 1,200 and the Rossland Great Western 360 tons.

The Tennessee Copper Company has made its first shipment of copper pig from Ducktown to New York. It consists of eight cars valued at $71,000.

Foreign Bourses.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Money was in fair demand today and abundant. It is believed the government has been disbursing freely lately. The large exports of gold from New York have caused an easier tendency in discounts. Though the gold is going to the continent, the market is confident that it will soon find its way back to London. The stock exchange today was unsatisfactory. Most departments were dull. Consols opened a fraction better, but were afterward easier on the talk of a new loan. They ultimately recovered. Gilt-edged securities were strong on easier money. Americans opened weak, in accordance with the closing prices of New York yesterday, but afterward steadier and then easier. The tendency for the closing was quiet. Readings were exceptionally strong, in expectation of a good October statement.

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—Locals and banks were active and gained on the bourse, owing to covering and speculative purchases. Among the coke syndicate fixing the new prices less than anticipated. Internationals were quiet. Canadian Pacific was strong. Prices slightly declined.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—Business on the bourse today opened hesitating, but prices improved until the close, rails in rentes attributed foreigners, especially English 4s, were in good request. Russians were in demand. Somevins was eagerly sought for. Thomson Houston, Tramway and others substantially recovered. Rio Tintos began firm, on satisfactory fortnightly statistics, but declined, owing to English offers. The private rate of discount is unchanged at 2 13-16 per cent.

Americans Dull.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram: The stock market today was inclined to dullness. Canada's return to Ottawa is a report that this week a New Zealand loan, varying from £1,000,000 to £2,000,000, is to be issued. American stocks are working big forces and making a good output. Real estate in the mineral belt has advanced 100 per cent within six months.

Common Stock Led the Sales, Breaking and Then Rallying Sharply.

STEEL COMPANY SHARES UNUSUALLY DULL

Electric Seconds Were Firmer and Higher, but Airbrake Broke $1 50 a Share—The Coal Issues Were Lower—Bonds Quite Active.

The market on the Pittsburg stock exchange yesterday was very dull and in tone rather inclined to weakness. The result of the day's business was that only about 3,900 shares changed hands. To these, however, must be added $53,000 in bonds, that department being quite active and firm. All told, 23 different securities were sold, nine of which advanced from ⅛ to 7¼ per cent, while an equal number declined from ⅛ to 2⅜ per cent. Five were unchanged. The heaviest trading was in American Window Glass common, over 1,150 shares of which changed hands. At the opening the stock was firm at 55¾, but 1c gave way almost immediately and after the first call broke to 54½. At noon it again sold at that figure, but at the last session it rallied sharply to 55, where it closed ⅛ below Monday's last price. At the wind-up 54⅞ was freely bid, with offers at 55. The preferred did not sell and was practically unchanged at 89½ bid, 90½ asked. There was some little trading in Pittsburg Plate Glass common, small lots aggregating 25 shares selling at 168@167, with regular offers later at 167. The steel issues were unusually dull. Crucible common passed the entire day without a trade, but closed steady at 22⅛ bid, 23 asked. The preferred sold a little over 300 shares at 85, which was Monday's close. There was only one trade in United States Steel common, 10 shares selling at 42¾, ex-dividend 1 per cent, which made the price unchanged. Of the preferred 60 shares were sold in small lots. After opening at 93 the price steadily declined to 92, and finally closed at 92⅛, a loss of ⅛ only. Westinghouse Electric seconds were dull but firmer and ⅜ higher at 71¼, 210 shares selling. Westinghouse Airbrake sold 30 shares in small lots at 173, and closed with a block of 100 more at that figure, a break of $1 50 for the day. The coalers were dull and lower. River issues being almost ignored. Pittsburgh preferred was more active, selling over 600 shares and closing at 92½, a loss of ⅛. The common sold 330 shares and closed with a loss of ¼ at 27¼. Consolidated Ice common was prime and ¼ higher at 14¼ for 650 shares. This is an advance of $1.50 since last Friday. There are some very bullish tips out on the street and a 4 or 5 point advance is said to be one of the probabilities of the next two or three weeks, and almost a certainty before February 1 next. In bonds there was quite heavy trading in Carnegie Company 5s, $5,000 series C selling at 113¼ and interest, a gain of 7¼ per cent, and $25,000 series D selling at 113½ and interest, an advance of ⅜ of 1 per cent. Monongahela Light & Power 5s were also active and ⅜ higher, $21,000 selling at 108½. Brewing 6s advanced ¼ to 111¾, and Pittsburgh Junction railroad first 6s declined 2¾ to 125 and interest. In the quotations Fidelity Title & Trust Company's offer $11 lower at 155 asked and Peoples Pipeage Gas was ½ higher at 25 bid, a new high record and the first time this stock has ever quoted at par. Consolidated Gas preferred declined $1 to 47 asked. About 500 Consolidated Traction receipts sold at 23½@24. The preferred were quoted at 63¾ bid. Philadelphia common was 48 bid without offers and the preferred asked without bids.

The following is a complete summary of the day's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices, new high records and final bids and offers:

At noon Robinson Bros. bought $5,000 Carnegie Company, series C, bonds at 113¾ and interest; they sold $25,000 at 113¾ and ⅜ of 1 per cent, P. 5s from Walker & Wainwright and $1,000 from A. C. Wettenerel.

The stockholders of the Pittsburgh Trust Company met yesterday and elected the following board of directors: Thomas Jones, Jr., Buchanan, H. Buhl, Jr., W. P. Snyder, George M. Laughlin, S. H. Vandergrift, John C. Reilly, C. B. McVay, Charles H. Hays.

It is stated at the treasury in Washington that the secretary stands ready to take no further action in respect to the money market. He has been kept constantly advised of gold shipments and bond purchases and was much gratified at the amount of bonds offered Monday. He stands ready to purchase bonds to the $50,000,000 or $40,000,000 should they be offered in the next week or so.

It is noted that while demand sterling is at the gold export point, long bills are relatively low. This seems to be due to efforts of a number of bankers to sell 60 and 30-day obligations drawn on London and thus shift the financial burdens of the movement from the New York market to the foreign ones. The difference between short and long foreign bills is certainly too great to be due to natural causes.

Metals.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Trading in the local market for metals was very slow today. In the tin market buyers and sellers are too far apart for business, but the feeling is quite firm. Spot was quoted at $27 75@28 00. At London a decline of 5s was noted, under realizing, with spot quoted at £114 5s and futures at £108 10s. Copper was without change and quiet at 17@17 25 for Lake and electrolytic, and $16 85@17 00 for Lake Superior, and $16 37½@16 62½ for casting and electrolytic, and at London, £66 17s 6d for spot and £65 17s 6d for futures. Lead was in request at higher prices, 4 25@4 30 being quoted at £11 6s 3d, but locally a dull market prevailed at the old price, $4 37½. Spelter featureless and nominally quoted at $4 30 here and £16 12s 6d at London. Iron was more active and firmer, sales of 5,000 tons here and values advanced 50 points to $16 00@11 00 for pig iron warrants; other grades were unchanged, with No. 1 northern foundry quoted at $17 00@18 00; No. 2 foundry, southern soft, $14 50@16 00; No. 1 foundry, southern soft, $14 50@16 00. Glasgow iron warrants closed at 56s 5d and Middlesboro at 43s 4½d.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 19.—Spirits turpentine, nothing doing. Rosin firm, 95c@$1 00. Crude turpentine firm, $1 10@2 10. Tar firm, $1 25.

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Navy Beans Stiffening Up. Florida Tomatoes in the Market.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

Stronger conditions are influencing the mill feed situation, and prices are booming. Yesterday there were big advances made in quotations for feed and flour, middlings and bran. The reason for the bullish sentiment is found in the scarcity of feed, of which dealers are unable to obtain sufficient supply, the mills being without supplies except in the meager quantities. The advance in prices amounts to $1 50 per ton.

Receipts bulletined: Manchester yards, 25 cars hay, 10 cars oats, 4 cars corn, 6 cars straw; 11 cars feed; Pittsburgh 27, Wayne & Chicago railroad, 2 cars hay, 1 car oats, 1 car corn; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 2 cars hay, 1 car straw, 1 car corn, 1 car feed; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 4 cars hay, 1 car corn, 1 car oats; total receipts, 53 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, milfeed, corn, oats and straw, corrected by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Straw—Car, $7 50@8 00; wheat, $7 50@8 00; rye, $8 25@8 75.

Millfeed—Middlings, No. 1 white, $23 50@24 00 per ton; No. 2, $22 75@23 25; brown, $20 00@21 00; bran, $20 50@21 00.

Groceries.

Advices yesterday were of easier wheat and corn markets, and in the east and west flour was held at the same nominal figures as have been quoted all week. There seemed to be a more hopeful tone to reports regarding the situation, and sellers were inclined to be less confident in their views regarding the situation. Holiday goods are now important factors in trade and are bound to increase as under way. Notwithstanding the fact that cables are constantly arriving from Brazil containing estimates of a most startling nature as to the serious damage to the coffee crop for next year, prices have not responded quickly, buyers not apparently taking much interest in the situation. European advices were very disappointing and prices yesterday in primary markets showed a weak tone. Sugar is quiet, with an indifferent amount of purchasing being done. Beans are steady, brokers asking higher prices for navies.

Prices current: Pickles and spices, spring patents, $4 00@4 10; fancy winter patents, $3 70@3 90; straight winter, $3 50@3 60; bakers' spring, $3 40@3 60; rye, $3 50@3 60; graham, $4 25@4 50; cornmeal, bbl, $3 75; 10-lb cotton bags, 21 cents.

Beans—Prime marrowfat, bu, $2 75@2 85; pea or navy, $2 00@2 10; do red kidney, bu, $2 80@2 85, lima beans, 6½c.

Dried fruits—Apples, evaporated, 7½@8c; sun dried, 4@4½c; sliced, 4½@5c; Smyrna, 6@6½c; California prunes, 4@6½c; peaches, 5@7½c; apricots, 7@8c; pears, 5@6c; blackberries, 5@6c; raspberries, 8@9c; cherries, 7@8c; plums, 4@5c.

Canned goods—Corn, 70@75c per doz; peas, 70@75c; string beans, 70@75c; lima beans, 70@75c; tomatoes, 70@75c; pumpkin, 70@75c; succotash, 90@$1 00; red cherries, 70@75c; strawberries, 70@75c; raspberries, 90@$1 00; gooseberries, 90@$1 00; standard blackberries, 70@75c; huckleberries, $1 00@1 25; damson plums, $1 00; California plums, $1 50@1 60; raspberries, Shaker, gooseberries, 90@$1 00; standard tomatoes, 1-lb cans, $1 00@1 25; 2-lb cans, 90@$1 00; salmon, red 1-lb cans, $1 20@2 00; mackerel, 1-lb cans, 85@$1 40; chipped beef, 1-lb cans, $2 25@2 75, and 2-lb corned and roast beef, cans, $1 35@2 40; mackerel, 2 and 3-lb cans, broiled, $1 75@2 00; sardines, domestic, ¼s, $2 25; domestic mustards, ¼s, $2 25; French, $7 00@14 25; oysters, 1-lb full weight, $1 00@1 35; 2-lb full weight, $1 80; 1-lb lunch, flat cans, $1 00.

Dried Fruits.

Along with other holiday goods raisins and currants are now having their inning, the demand being very heavy. Prunes are moving freely, a great increase in sales having occurred in the last few days. There is continued fair interest in evaporated apples and the market is ruling steady to firm. Raspberries are in very light demand, but hold steadily to high prices.

Evaporated apricots, in bags, 10½@11c; 25-lb boxes, 11½@12c; apples, in bulk, 9¼c; 1-lb cartons, 10@11c; peaches, 8@12c; raisins, 1-lb pkgs, London layers, $1 40@1 50; Muscatels, 2 and 4 crown, 50-lb boxes, 5½@7¼c; 1-lb cartons, 6@7½c; 1-lb packages, 8½@9¼c; Ondenia Valencia, 7½@8c; raspberries, 26@27c; currants, cleaned, 25 and 50-lb packages, 8½@9¼c; California prunes, 6½@7½c.

Fruits and Produce.

Receipts of potatoes reported yesterday amounted to 32 cars, but there is no accumulation of stocks, and a double demand, that for immediate consumption and that which always makes the drain on supplies unusually heavy. As a result prices continue to rule firm, and some dealers are of the opinion that a sensational scarcity is looming up, with prices away out of sight. More conservative viewers of the situation, however, do not believe the excitement of the moment is anything more than a temporary affair, and that as soon as the rush of the demand settles down to a normal basis, and there is more danger of over-buying than of being left unsupplied. Prices must inevitably rule higher than last year, but belief is general the season of famine seems to be groundless. Florida tomatoes are now in the market, and home grown are just disappearing. Strawberries from California are still fairly plentiful, but at advanced prices. Egg plant is lower.

Apples—Common, $2 00@2 50 per bbl; fancy, $4 00@4 50; California, per box, $1 75@2 00.

Cucumbers—Hothouse, $1 25@1 50.

Cabbage—Per bbl, $1 25@1 50; per crate, $1 00@1 25.

Pears—Duchess, $3 00@3 50; Kiefers, $3 00@3 50; Seckels, $4 00@4 50; fancy from store, $6 00@7 00.

Cranberries—Per bbl, $7 50@8 00; Cape Cods, $8 00@8 50; Jerseys, $8 00@8 50.

Grapes—Per 4-lb basket, 14@15c; Niagara, 14@15c; New sweet apple cider, bbl, $4 50@5 00; old sharp apple juice, bbl, $3 50@4 00; choice crabapple, bbl, $5 00@6 00; refined apple juice, gal, 12@13c; pure grape juice, 25@30c; sand reamed, per bbl, $2 25@2 50; kegs, $3 50; per gal, 16@20c.

6-lb basket, 15@18c; Canadian, pony basket, 10@12c.

Tropical Fruits and Nuts.

Trade is quiet, with no description of tropical fruits moving freely. Oranges are of the best, selling from the white to the yellow, which Jamaicas are really the sweetest, and fruit from Florida and California is not yet properly matured. Oranges from the Mediterranean coast are coming in somewhat freely, but quickly take a good color. Warm nights have interfered with the sweetening process of the little cooler temperatures required to bring out above and sweet flavors.

Limes—Box, $1 00.

Lemons—California, $3 00@3 50.

Pineapples—Florida, extra, $2 50@3 00; choice, $2 00@2 25; fancy, $1 50@1 75.

California pears—Nellis, per box, $2 00@2 25; Clairgeau, $2 50; Peabody, $2 25@2 50.

Cocoanuts—Per bag, $3 50.

Bananas—Per bunch, small, $2 75@3 00; large, $3 50@4 00.

Figs—Per bbl, $5 00@7 50; California, bbl, $5 00; Florida, $3 00@3 50; California, Jaffa, $2 00@3 00.

Almeria grapes—Per box, $4 50@5 00.

Dates—Per box, 10@12c; per pkg, 6c.

Pomegranates—Per box, $2 75.

Almonds—14@15c; Sicelia, 11c; Marbot walnuts, 14c; Brazil nuts, 10c; peanuts, 11c; soft shell walnuts, 11c; Grenoble walnuts, 12c; filberts, 11c; pecans, 10c per lb; chestnuts, Spanish, $1 25@2 00 per bu; walnuts, per bu, 90@95c.

St. John's bread, per lb, 9c; California paper-shell almonds, 16c; Italian chestnuts, 6c.

Butter, Eggs and Cheese.

The elevated position in which butter was placed by the advance of Monday is not shared in by the higher grades, which remain steady. Dealers say, however, that the lower grades of last year, when quantities were a scarce and a half higher than now, although these figures prevailed for only one week. Present prices are close to those ruling in the latter part of October, when Creamery extras brought 26c per lb. Choice grades are firm, but the market showing no improvement, and dairies are unchanged. Fresh eggs are scarce, and for the high quotations prevailing are receiving only fair attention.

Butter—Elgin creamery, prints, 27½@28c; tubs, 26½@27c; Ohio and Pennsylvania creamery, 24½@25c; fancy butter, 19@20c; fancy country roll, 18@19c; cooking butter, 14@15c.

Cheese—New York full cream, 13½@14c; Ohio, 11½@12c; ¾ cream, Ohio, 9½@10c; New York, 10½@11c; Limburger, 11½@12c; Swiss, 15@17c; 20-lb block cheese, Swiss, new, 14½@15c; 5-lb brick cheese, 13½@14c; Limburger, new, 12½@13c.

Poultry and Game.

There is continued free arrival of considerable volume of chickens, and the market is forced in to liberal amounts. Quotations are unchanged, the demand being stronger than last week and growing. While it is yet too soon to make predictions, indications are that there will be a fine trade for Thanksgiving day, with a possibility of less abundance of poultry for Christmas holidays, or farmers will be holding back of stock on account of high prices asked for corn, to be fattened in boxes by regular feeding.

Chickens—Live hens, per lb, 8@9c; springers, 8½@9½c; roosters, 6c; turkeys, old, 10@11c; do spring, 10@12c; old tom's, 9@10c; dressed, 12@13c; geese, live, 7@8c; do per pair, dressed, 10@11c; do dressed, 12@13c; rabbits, 25@40c.

Provisions.

Smoked meats—Hams, over 16 lbs, 10½c; medium hams, 12 to 16 lbs, 10½c; small hams, 12 to 16 and under, 11c; skinned hams, 12c; boneless hams, 12c; California hams, 7½c; shoulders (New York cuts), 8½c; shoulders, skinned, 9c.

Breakfast bacon—Rib, 8 to 10 lbs, 12½@13c; rib, 10 to 12 lbs, 12c; do back strips, 11½c; do clear, 8 to 10 lbs, 12½c; do 10 to 12 lbs, 12c; do 12 to 14 lbs, 11½c; do back strips, 11½c.

Dry salt meats—Sides (extra short clears), 9½c; bellies (heavy), 20 to 25 lbs, 9c; bellies, under 20 lbs, 9½c.

Dry salt shoulders—Regular cures, short clears, 9½c; bellies (heavy), 20 to 25 lbs, 9½c; bellies, under 20 lbs, 10c.

Lard—Refined, tierces, 9½c. The advance for smaller packages was also as follows: Barrels (about 240 lbs), 5½c; 50-lb tubs (about 100 lbs), ¼c; fancy tubs, new, 50 and 60-lb tubs, ¼c; 20-lb pails, ¼c; 10-lb pails, ¼c; 5-lb pails (12 to a case), ½c; 3-lb tin pails (20 to a case), ½c; 2-lb tin pails (20 to a case), ½c.

Horse Market.

Retail sales are far from plentiful, the market being dull and inactive. There is plenty of stock offering, but buyers are backward. Country dealers are not coming in to buy as made, and insist on sales hurrying matters to such an extent the percentages are unwilling to take hold, and nothing more favorable can be looked for until conditions change.

The auction sale at the Pittsburgh horse exchange yesterday resulted in the selling of 178 head of horses, ranging from $40 to $185. Draught horses brought from $125 to $185, driving horses from $40 to $140, and mules from $40 to $175. The quality of the offerings was good for winter stock, and showed improvement over that of the last sale.

Panhandle Makes a Purchase on South Side

TWO PARCELS BRING $225,000

Southside Hillside Will Be Cut Down and Big Retaining Wall Built.

SALE OF BREWERY PROPERTY IN OAKLAND

Two More Stories for Smith Block. Natatorium to Be Remodeled. 100 Houses for Monessen—Building Operations Still Active.

A large purchase of South Side property by the Panhandle railroad came to light yesterday. Through the agency of the Safe Deposit Company the Panhandle bought from Mark Watson, representing the William McCully estate, property along its line between the Point and the Smithfield street bridges for about $225,000. The plot purchased is in two parcels lying on opposite sides of the tracks. One portion extends from Grandview avenue on the hillside to the Panhandle tracks, a distance of 375 feet, and has a frontage of 400 feet in Grandview avenue. The other extends from the Panhandle tracks to West Carson street, having a frontage of 400 feet on the south side of the latter. The latter portion on the flats has erected on it the buildings of the old McCully Glass Company. These will be torn down and the property used for freight yards. The other part of the purchase is mostly hillside that has given the railroad officials a great deal of trouble for years because of the falling of rocks and the washing down or caving of large masses of earth. This will be cut down and a retaining wall built. The flat property is across Carson street from property owned by the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad and near the purchases of the Wabash.

The Union Realty Company yesterday concluded the sale of the property at 3933 Forbes street, Oakland, formerly owned by the Pittsburgh Brewing Company, to Henry F. Seifert. The purchase price was $20,000. The lot has a frontage of 24 feet on the north side of Forbes street and a depth of 137 feet. A three-story brick dwelling and business house now stand on the lot.

The more and better quarters for business rooms and professional offices are badly needed in the downtown district is daily forced upon the attention of property holders. This is especially true around the lower end of Fifth avenue, a section which skyscrapers have not yet invaded. When the Smith block at the corner of Sixth street and Liberty avenue, was erected a few years ago its six stories were thought to be amply sufficient for all demands on that corner. But its owners, the heirs of the Martha Hill Smith, are now preparing to add two stories to the block in the spring at a probable cost of $75,000. The plans are being prepared by Architect James T. Steen.

Had Mr. Steen is also taking bids on a complete overhauling of the Pittsburgh natatorium, in Duquesne way. The work, which will be done during the winter months, will cost about $35,000. The plans call for marble bath and dressing rooms, new steam and hot baths, new plunge baths and an addition to the laundry room. The improvements will provide for a large increase in the ordinary bath facilities and add greatly to the convenience of the building.

SCALE TO HOLD ONLY ONE YEAR

Tinplate Workers Decide Not to Follow the Strike Settlement.

OBJECT TO ORGANIZATION RESTRICTIONS

The Decision Shows the Purpose of the Members to Stand Up for Those Working in Mills Made Non-Union by Strike Settlement.

The tin plate workers of the Amalgamated association have voted unanimously against the proposition of the strike settlement to have their scale hold for three years. The officials of the American Tin Plate Company in New York have been notified of the decision and the scale will therefore terminate within one year. The unanimous decision on the subject shows the purpose of the men of the recognized union mills to stand up with their brother members in the mills made non-union by the strike settlement.

In relation to the tin plate mills, the strike settlement lost more to the Amalgamated association than in any other scale. All of the tin plate mills that had been started during the strike were declared non-union and the agreement provides that no new organization be effected in any mills not covered by the scale. This put a barrier on the organization and, on account of this feature, the proposition to have the scale live for three years was voted down.

The tin plate workers are satisfied with the scale wage rate prodided for and would be willing to have it continue for three years, but are averse to the restrictions placed on organization. All of the mills of the American Tin Plate Company, which were union last year, except the Star and Monongahela, remain so or as open mills.

Strike benefits are still being paid to the idle men of the Star and Monongahela plants and these, with the strikers who lost their places in the Painter, Lindsay & McCutcheon and other mills, aggregate several hundred. The policy of continuing the strike benefits to these members is new on the part of the Amalgamated executive, there being no precedent in the organization for such action.

The extreme scarcity of puddlers is expected to result in the formation of a new puddling scale at the next annual convention of the Amalgamated association, which will demand $5.50 as the base boiling rate. This will encourage young men to take up the trade. The present rate of pay is $5.50 a ton, but it rules only with bar iron selling at $1.40 and up to $1.50 per 100 pounds. The last bi-monthly settlement showed the average sale rates to be little less than $1.50, but the present puddling rate could not be changed.

As an aftermath of the great steel workers' strike the charter of but one lodge has been revoked. This was of the lodge of men employed at Howe, Brown & Co.'s mill. The scale production limit was exceeded by the men and their charter was revoked.

Members of the Bayardstown lodge, employed in the mills of Zug & Co., will have a smoker at their regular meeting on Saturday night of next week at their hall, Sixteenth street and Penn avenue. The general officials of the Amalgamated association have been invited to attend.

GIFT TO ALLEGHENY SCHOOL.

Samuel F. Harbison Adds $50,000 to Endowment of the Western Theological Seminary.

Samuel F. Harbison has given $50,000 to the Western Theological seminary, Allegheny. The announcement of the gift was made yesterday at a meeting of the board of directors, of which Mr. Harbison is a member.

The Rev. Dr. William L. McEwan, in his report as chairman of the executive committee, made the news known. It came as a surprise to almost everybody. The gift is to be added to the general endowment fund and has no conditions attached.

The endowment of the seminary is now $500,000. This puts it on a par with the richest institutions of its kind in the United States. Mr. Harbison has been a liberal contributor to the school for many years. He has also been a supporter of many other institutions. He was one of the three men that defrayed the expenses of Dwight L. Moody for some years before the evangelist's death.

It is likely that a chair will be established and named after Mr. Harbison in recognition of his philanthropy.

Four new members of the board were inducted into office yesterday, filling places made vacant by deaths and removals. The Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander of the First church, Pittsburgh, taking the place of the Rev. Dr. James Allison, deceased; the Rev. William S. Patton of the Point Breeze church taking the place of the Rev. Jeremiah P. E. Kumler, resigned, and James L. Buchanan taking the place of William Bakewell, deceased. The Rev. William S. Miller of Crafton and Judge James Ingram of Waynesburg were also made members of the board. The report of President Riddle showed the school to be progressing satisfactorily, 64 students being enrolled.

RUN BREAKS A BANK.

Owing to a Misunderstanding a Tacoma Institution Is Pushed to the Wall.

TACOMA, WASH., Nov. 19.—The Metropolitan bank closed its doors today after experiencing a run all day yesterday. The run began as the result of a misunderstanding, the small depositors believing that a suit filed Friday against the receiver of the Metropolitan Savings bank, which failed five days ago, had something to do with the present Metropolitan bank. About $40,000 was withdrawn yesterday, and today the bank applied for a receiver. Dwight Phelps was appointed, with a bond of $10,000.

The fact that the school children's savings account, amounting to $12,000, was in the bank, helped to spread the rumor started by the suit.

The Metropolitan total deposits are about $500,000. President Caesar says he is negotiating with New York people and believes he will be able to perfect arrangements to pay every depositor in full. The school savings are secured by school warrants held in trust by the school board.

Another Bank Safe Cracked.

MONDOVI, WIS., Nov. 19.—Robbers early today blew open the safe in the vault of the First National bank and secured between $5,000 and $6,000.

The Independent Man.

This is a free country—but it is only the man with a snug bank account who is really independent—and independence doesn't come all at once. It is the result of patient, persistent saving. PRIVATE LIFE WILL CLAIM HIM

A BALTIMORE & OHIO OFFICIAL WILL RETIRE.

Superintendent of the West Penn Division Urges That Extensive Improvements Be Made On That Road—Pittsburgh Not the Only City Where Freight Traffic Is Congested—Railroads Will Sink Wells.

William Gibson, general superintendent of transportation of the Baltimore & Ohio, made a statement yesterday in regard to the reports that he intends to leave the Baltimore & Ohio to accept a position with another railroad. The report, he said, is unauthorized and incorrect. He does, however, intend to retire from active railroad service and devote his time to his own interests.

Mr. Gibson contemplated this step a year ago before he left Pittsburgh. It was only at the urgent solicitation of the then existing management of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad that he accepted his transfer to Baltimore.

His future plans, he says, he is not ready to discuss fully for publication, but he wishes to say through The Pittsburgh Gazette that he will move his family and household goods back to Pittsburgh early in the coming year, and that he will identify himself with Pittsburgh and its interests. Here he intends to live and die.

After West Penn Betterment.

BLAIRSVILLE, Nov. 19.—(Special.)—Supt. F. F. Robb of the West Penn division of the Pennsylvania railroad has gone to Philadelphia headquarters for the express purpose, it is believed, of urging immediate attention to the improvements needed on the division. Among the requests Mr. Robb will urge is a double-track for the line between Allegheny junction and Bolivar, and a continuous third track between Allegheny and Allegheny junction. The volume of traffic on the road has become so great in the past year that it is practically impossible, with present facilities, to handle the business with satisfaction to the superintendent or the patrons. The trainmen also are complaining over the inability to operate the road on any schedule, as long delays are of daily occurrence. The men are often out for 24 hours at a time.

Chicago Traffic Congestion.

Chicago traffic, both east and west, the past week brought upon that city as great a shortage of cars and facilities as has plagued Pittsburgh for several weeks past. Western railroad men say that Chicago has not in years handled the tonnage of last week in the same length of time. Cars and motive power to take care of more than 50 per cent of the offered business are not to be found. Despite the well-known proclivities of western roads to cut rates the present fall is almost past without the expected number of troubles of this kind. The great rush of business giving to all lines more than could be handled is credited with keeping up the freight rates.

Large Improvements Made.

In the annual report of President Loree of the Baltimore & Ohio it is stated that during the past year the sum of $1,444,100 has been spent on betterment work on the Pittsburgh division. This is about one-fifth of the total amount spent for improvements on the whole system during the year. Further local improvements are making and being planned. Within the year it is expected that the whole division will be double tracked, except for a few miles. In addition the whole division now has heavy rails and bridges. From McKeesport to this city there will be four tracks. Money originally planned for signals is to be devoted to additional tracks.

To Supply Boilers From Wells.

The local railroads, which have to depend largely upon the upper rivers for water for their engines, contemplate boring artesian wells to protect themselves from conditions like those that exist at present. Engine after engine has failed for the Baltimore & Ohio, Lake Erie and Pennsylvania during the present time, when every car and engine has been needed. The sulphurized condition of the rivers from the lowness has been the cause of the boilers failing to do their duty. With artesian wells supplying the needs it is believed the roads could be made independent of the rivers and have a fresh supply of pure water ready at all times.

President Ramsey in Town.

President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash railroad, spent yesterday and last night in this city. His visit at this time is said to be merely for the purpose of keeping in touch with the progress of the work going forward on the Wabash extension to Pittsburgh under the supervision of Chief Engineer J. W. Patterson.

RAILROAD NOTES.

November 28 lake navigation will close, shipments thereafter being sent "all rail."

The Union station strike still continues. There is no sign of a change on the part of either employers or men.

The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie has started razing the small buildings which occupy the site for the big new warehouse the road will erect near its passenger terminal.

It was announced yesterday in Baltimore that T. L. English, superintendent of the middle division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, had been appointed superintendent of the Pittsburgh division, vice John Barron, resigned. The appointment is effective today.

WOUNDED HIS FEELINGS.

Dispute in a Restaurant Cost the Proprietors $34.25.

A difference over a plate of waffles in a restaurant cost S. Schreiber and T. U. King, owners of an eating house at 122 Fourth avenue, $34.25, to say nothing of the cost in defending a suit in common pleas court No. 3 yesterday by C. B. Lawton.

Lawton went into the defendants' place and was served with chicken and waffles. He asked for dressing for the latter and the waiter declared that to serve such a combination was not necessary. Lawton thought differently and insisted, whereupon the waiter served him with maple syrup and added five cents to the check. Lawton laid down the amount of his meal less the price of the syrup, on the cashier's desk, but was stopped at the door, while a small boy was dispatched for a policeman. Lawton was detained 15 minutes, but no officer arrived and he left. He sued for wounded feelings and was awarded $34.25.

$1,000 for a Broken Heart.

Miss Marie E. Pippert in her suit against John J. Runge, an East End butcher, was awarded $1,000 damages. The plaintiff brought suit to recover damages for breach of promise of marriage and the expenditure of $300 to $400 in preparation for the wedding. Miss Pippert claimed she met Runge in February, 1898, and received a proposal of marriage from him in February, 1900. The wedding was set for September 18, 1900. The defendant was ill at that time and the wedding was postponed a week. The wedding was further postponed on the plea that he wished to settle legal entanglements with another girl. On the last fixed day Miss Pippert claims she received a letter from Runge stating that the engagement had to be broken as he could not settle his trouble with the other woman. Miss Pippert asked for $20,000 damages. The trial had progressed but a little time when the verdict was taken by consent.

Judge Hawkins Made Distribution in Mary A. H. Brunot's Estate.

REFUSED BEQUESTS TO TWO CHARITIES

More Institutions Remembered Than in Any Other Will Filed in Recent Years—Wills Probated and Decrees in Distribution.

A decree in distribution made in orphans' court yesterday in the estate of Mary A. H. Brunot, deceased, shows more charitable bequests than any such paper prepared for years. Judge W. G. Hawkins in an opinion handed down refused to allow the payments of $5,000 each to the Protestant Episcopal mission to China and the Indian mission to South Dakota, as these bequests had been paid during the life of Mrs. Brunot. The decree shows a balance of $88,420 73.

The following amounts are awarded:

Protestant Episcopal missions, Woods Run, $1,010; Japan, $5,050; Africa, $5,050; Cuba, $2,020; Haiti, $2,020; Oklahoma, $1,010; Montana, $2,020; Fort Defiance, $1,010; South Florida, $1,010; Laramie, $2,020; Western Texas, $1,010; Alaska, $2,020; Kansas, $1,010; New Mexico, $1,010.

Other institutions will receive the following amounts: Women's Christian association, Pittsburgh, $1,010; Colored Children's Home, $971 77; Church Army of Allegheny, $1,010; St. Thomas' church, Oakmont, $1,930; St. Paul's Normal and Industrial school, Lawrenceville, Va., $2,910; St. Augustian school, Raleigh, North Carolina, $2,910; Hampton Normal and Agricultural institute, $908; Tuskegee Normal and Industrial school, $971; Women's Missionary society of America, $2,920; Protestant Episcopal Fund for Aged Clergymen, $3,050; American Church Missionary society, $2,910; Aged Colored Women's home, $968; Miss Sybil Carter's work among Indian women, $1,955; American Bible society, $2,906; American Tract society, $2,909; Protestant Episcopal Commission for Colored People, $5,050. Portions of some of the above bequests have been paid.

Other decrees in distribution were as follows: Estate of Mary A. Nicholson, $1,246 69; William Diskin, $3,668 30; George Sallows, $2,220 45; Hannah J. Marks, $457 94; Daniel E. Shum, $1,957 12; Mary A. Barr, $11,075 24.

The will of Lowry H. West, late of Homestead, was filed. The personalty is worth $15,900 and the real estate $75,000. Martha Kennedy, a daughter, is bequeathed property in Fifth avenue, Homestead, and Anna L. Evans, another daughter, is given property in the same borough. Jacob West, a son, gets property in Dodge county, Minn. The residue of the estate is to be converted into cash and from the proceeds Lowry H. West, a grandson, is given $2,000, and the residue is to be divided under the intestate laws.

By the will of John J. Brooks, an estate worth $2,400 is left to the decedent's wife. The will is written on the leaf of a note book. Attorney C. T. Moore represents the estate.

George Federlein, late of Pittsburgh, bequeathed an estate worth $1,767 to his wife and children. The will of Catherine O'Maly, late of Allegheny, leaves a $3,000 estate to her husband.

An inventory and appraisement of the estate of Martha B. Grier show a valuation of $19,564 75.

Jones & Laughlins Win.

A verdict was returned for the defendant in the case of George P. Ecker against Jones & Laughlins, Ltd., which was called for trial last week. Ecker owned property on Chatsworth avenue and he claimed the shrubbery about his property was destroyed by the fumes and gases from the defendants' coke ovens along Second avenue, in the Twenty-third ward. Ecker asked for $10,000 damages. It is said the case will be appealed.

SOUND AS A DOLLAR

That is the result of a course of treatment with Scott's Emulsion. We have special reference to persons with weak lungs and sensitive throats.

Scott's Emulsion does some things better than others. This is one of them. It has a peculiar action on the throat and lungs which gives them strength and makes them tough.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.

The Busiest Place in the Store
Just at Present Is the Vast Clothing Floor.
Every day we put on more salesmen, and every day we find that we haven't enough. Why? Simply because our clothing always satisfies the men. It's right in quality, right in style, right in price! It looks well, fits well, wears well! When we say a Suit or Overcoat is all-wool, all-wool it is—not 65 per cent. wool and 35 per cent. cotton, but 100 per cent. wool. And when we guarantee a suit to be fast color, the guarantee means just what it says—means that if the clothes will fade, you can get your money back or new clothes for nothing. That's how we've done business for 50 years—that's how we've built up the largest clothing business in the country.

Suits or Overcoats at $6.50
They are cut from stylish, substantial woolens, and are lined, trimmed and made in a manner that insures satisfactory wear for several seasons. They don't look as fine or fashionable as the higher grades, of course, but they are good—at least as good as those for which you pay $10 in any other store.

Men's Suits At $10
These suits are not only the essence of good wear, but they are carved out in accordance with the latest dictates of fashion. Worsteds, Cheviots, brown and gray mixtures, Bannockburns, heavy Serges, etc.

Overcoats At $10
Practically all the new styles of Overcoats are included in this line. The Fullmores and Automobiles, with long sweeping body, are especially fine garments. You pay not less than $15 for the same goods elsewhere.

Very Finest Suits and Overcoats Ranging from $15 to $35.
These garments were made expressly to compete with the best and most expensive Merchant Tailor work. The materials are of the highest foreign manufacture, and the workmanship is as near perfect as any clothing can be. Every new style of the season in this line.
